WHITE EAGLE

Hossein Dezhakam

Translated into English by Saeed Moeini

An Introduction to the book by the Author

I have written this book in Persian and then it was translated to English. When I finished writing the book I gave it to some friends for reading so that I could have their opinion. These friends include distinguished professors of philosophy, psychology and metaphysics as well as ordinary people. Their first reactions were to have endless questions and confusion about the topics mentioned in the book in addition to creation of enormous challenges in their belief systems.

For this very reason they asked me to write a brief intro to the book so that readers could follow the content much easier.

The title of the book 'White Eagle' is the name of one of my masters in the metaphysical realm. The content of the book explores the knowledge and understanding of human essence and nature and its hidden attributes. This area has been a mystery and will always be a question mark for all and many have tried to answer this great question. On the other hand, this effort has brought about thousands of more questions with it about human being which various traditions, philosophers, mystics and scholars throughout time have tried to explain.

Although humanity has achieved marvelous heights in science and technology, mysteries such as God, human, soul, spirit, ego, intellect, love, evil, life, ghost, life prior to birth and after death, heaven and hell, angles, parallel universes and etc. have yet to be solved.

One of the paths to explaining these phenomena has been one of sensations. This means the concepts that we realize, comprehend or sense do exist and those that we don't are imaginary and do not exist. In this manner we erase the actual concept and label the individuals who claim to have an understanding of the matter as ignorant, superstitious or simple minded; why? Because I don't understand it, this is similar to a situation where two individuals are speaking French, and I who don't understand French claim that they are talking nonsense because I don't understand what they are talking about.

I believe the pain and suffering of human being is not due to ignorance or lack of knowledge. It is due to undiscovered knowledge. We are currently faced with many unknowns about the human being's visible attributes (physique) and many people suffer from incurable diseases and many even die.

Therefore, entering a discussion on human being's invisible attributes including spirit, sensation, ego, life after death, etc. is very difficult and attaining a mutual consensus farfetched. For instance, if we imagine that spirit do exist we cannot examine it through our five senses. Furthermore, if we only decide to examine such matters with our physical sensations, it is similar to an association of the blind intent on organizing seminars on exploring various colors and light.

A question might arise that how you as the author of this book are tackling these topics related to the invisible attributes of human being. I answer that I do this through the assistance of my masters and mentors who are beyond this realm of time and space which you will discover by reading the book.

I have not followed any specific tradition, religion, belief system or ideology in this book nor do I endorse and embrace any particular school of thought. I only share with you truths that I have gained along the path of actual experiences.

I suggest that you initially read this book like a novel without a whole lot of contemplation and scrutiny. Thereafter, you can ponder the material bit by bit as many initial questions that might arise in the early parts of the book are answered in the latter chapters of the book.

Translator's Note

I have had the honor of translating almost all of Mr. Dezhakam's books, articles and writings over the past four years and this has made me somewhat familiar with his beliefs, views and outlook on life, human essence and creation as a whole. In his school of thought gaining knowledge is not limited to books only, although they are an important source. However, his insights and visions come from actual experiences of traversing time and space and being in contact with individuals residing in other realms of creation.

I have not experienced such events myself nor have I witnessed any particular encounters. My understanding comes from my interactions with Hossein and his manners, wisdom on various matters and most importantly, the knowledge he shares with his readers in his books.

The aim of this knowledge is not to solve mysteries of life or death, nor it is to prove the existence of God and continuation of life after death. Hossein emphasizes that the ultimate goal is the practice of this knowledge in everyday life, its practicality which should result in peace, comfort and alleviation of humanity's extensive suffering. Knowing metaphysical matters alone has no use and does not solve any of our problems; the lessons derived from it and the direction it gives us would be the valuable goal.

To his credit, Hossein practices the knowledge he preaches. He has used it to cure thousands of drug addicts in his NGO, Congress60. Many addicts quit their drug only to find themselves alone and scared in a new world that they had left long time ago. His worldview and teachings which are in perfect accordance with the modern world and science of medicine has helped this to be a unique method of cure. He has worked extensively with doctors and scientists to treat complex physical and psychological conditions using his creative method of DST which is explained in details on Congress60 website (www.congress60.org).

Since I have lived and been educated in the west for over 20 years and am somewhat acquainted with a westerner point of view and the fact that this book has been translated to reach an audience far from the East, I have decided to write this note.

Believing a metaphysical matter and believing in it are two different things altogether. I might not believe in God or life after death or etc. but I can believe that it can exist and is a great source of inspiration for many. Rejecting a matter based solely on the lack of personal experience is comparable to someone who has never seen or flown in an airplane, thus rejecting the notion of its existence and the fact that others have.

I choose to ignore something because I have never come across it, is another angle of looking at the content of such metaphysical books. I believe having an open mind and approach to such concepts leaves us with more option to contemplate and ponder. I recommend you read the book till the end before making any assumptions.

I wish you a pleasant journey.

Time net room

Greetings my children

Hossein and Ani, tonight we intend to cross over time and space and enter a scene which happened 1400 years ago and in that scene, both of you were murdered. In other words, we want to access the archive of history.

Thus, come with us and witness some of the events that has caused you pain and suffering and made the enemy's hold on you, stronger.

Fire has always been used to create chaos and anarchy in any kind of attack or rebellion.

Fireballs lit up parts of the city at night; one of the three men with a grey beard grabs you in your sleep and shuts your mouth.

Moonlight shines the sky. The assailant pulls out a dagger and stabs you several times in the stomach. You scream in pain and fear.

The same thing is happening to little girl aged 9, in another part of the house. A scarf is wrapped tightly around her throat and she is being strangled.

There are two more assailants; the servant and a stranger looking for dirty money. It's a conspiracy designed by the family's enemies to kidnap your mother as she is very popular and beautiful. The plan failed however.

It's dawn and the city is burning in flames. They throw the children in the river. Antine is screaming as she wasn't strangled completely and Arti is bleeding from the deep wound.

The currents are very strong and there is no one to rescue them. They both drown and die and move on to another circle of creation and begin a new journey.

Because of God's command you must forget everything and make night as bright as day. This is a command.

We revealed this secret to diminish your fear and get you closer to divine light.

It's enough for now.

We have to go.

Goodbye

Looking for a Master

It's the spring of 1992 and I just arrived home with a mountain of problems and issues on my back including unpaid bills, creditors looking for me, unpaid rent of my residence and of course, drug addiction.

So as usual to get away from all these worries and stress and to forget them all, I went to the kitchen and grabbed my daily bottle of Vodka along with some munchies and started my daily ritual.

I was lost in my thoughts and kept telling myself that everything is just a big lie, that there is no truth to anything.

I had spent almost 14 years of my life seeking the truth, a master and a divine way life and came up empty handed. Wherever I heard of a spiritual teacher, I visited; from Hinduism to mysticism, becoming vegetarian and doing all sorts of austerities, practicing black magic to summoning the dead spirit. All in all I tried everything and came to a conclusion that they are all a joke, childish games.

I was so drowned in my thoughts that I finished the whole bottle and finally sleep came. I went to my room and ate a big piece of opium and slept.

My sleep these days was like a horror movie, night mares and disturbances by all kinds of demons and horrible creatures. I screamed and moaned during my struggles with them and sometimes woke up with a violent jolt.

Sometimes I had out of the body experience and the battle with the weird creatures continued inside and outside of my home.

My life was chaos and I was helplessly out of control. It did not matter that I read holy chants, prayers and verses; the nightmares did not stop.

My mind and body had been invaded by opium during the days and by demons at nights. No matter how hard I tried to find a way out by research, study, visiting experts and many other things; there was no way out. It was like somebody being stuck in a swamp; the more I struggled, the deeper I sank in the mud.

This condition continued on till the summer when I travelled to south of the country for a work related project. I had been told of a famous spiritual master named Babajan who was apparently wise and knowledgeable.

I arranged a meeting with him through some relatives of mine and he invited me to his house. On the way I was told about Babajan supernatural abilities and skills. However, as soon as I entered the house and set eyes on him, I felt disgusted.

He had such a big tummy and was devouring a large barbecued rib in a very unhygienic manner. I couldn't imagine someone being spiritual and having such bad manners along with a voracious appetite which was represented in a humongous belly.

I left the house immediately without saying a word amidst the protests of my relatives who saw this as a sign of great disrespect. My cousin followed me outside and said: let's visit another master in a deserted place outside of the city.

I said: I'm not feeling well, just walk with me.

As we were walking I saw myself beside a cemetery. I told my cousin to leave me alone for a while and I sat down by a grave. I kept asking questions as I was sitting there in dismay. Why are we living? What's the point of life? What is the meaning of death? Who am I? Where are these people that are now lying in these graves? What are they doing right now? Why did they come into this world?

These questions remained unanswered till the sound of Azan the call for the evening prayer came from a nearby mosque. Suddenly I felt that I should go there and I would find a clue to my numerous questions.

Upon entering, I went and sat down at a corner and looked around. I began talking to God in my head. Please God, I'm so tired and broken; I beg of you to give me a sign. I want to hear your response from the clergyman leading the prayer. Give me a sign though, so that I'm sure it's you; our sign is that the prayer reader of the mosque will become quiet immediately.

To my utmost dismay, within a few moments the reader started coughing and it was so bad that he couldn't go on and became silent.

I couldn't believe what had just happened. Tears began rolling down my cheeks and I smiled out of joy. How could it be? God had heard me and responded as I had wanted. This was the moment where all the opposites gathered around.

Laughter and sadness; believe and disbelieve, faith and blasphemy, motion and stagnancy, longing and anxiety and eventually, perplexity had all merged together.

The prayer ended and I went to the clergyman who had led the session. He was a simple man of Balouchi decent, about 65 years old with a white beard.

I paid my respect and said: I'm looking for a spiritual master or mentor, where can I find one?

He replied: are you looking for a mystic of the spiritual path or a clergy of religious precepts?

I said: I'm looking for a mystic.

He answered: don't seek as you will not find. Because the real mystic of the spiritual path cannot be seen and the person who says he is a master, is a hoax.

I said farewell to the wise old man and left the mosque. I was in an amazing calm and no words were exchanged between me and my cousin. Mohammad, my cousin shook my hand and said: where are you man? How come you don't hear me? Are you ok?

I said: nothing, I'm fine. Finally after all these years of being stranded I got my answer.

Mohammad: I know; I heard his answer.

Hossein: I don't think you know who really answered my question. I'll explain it to you some other time.

Mohammad: alright, but what is the meaning of all this? Spiritual mystic or the clergy of religious precepts;

Hossein: my dear cousin, this is not the time for these questions. Just try to be patient.

Mohammad: no way, it's been a few days that I'm taking you to different places and I've done everything that you've asked me. I won't move till you answer me.

Hossein: my hot blooded cousin, whatever you say. Just remember that since morning I've not used drugs and my blood's morphine level is down. Just take me somewhere so that I can get high and then I'll answer any questions that you have, alright?

Mohammad: that sounds good to me. Let's go.

Getting high in Sarvar's home

Hossein: my dear cousin, Mohammad, the light of my eyes, my beautiful deer, my polar bear, tell me. I'm high now as you've noticed, so you can ask me any questions you want.

Mohammad: the same question that I asked you then, what is the difference between spirituality and religion?

Hossein: as far as I know, religion means rules and precepts and spirituality means path to the truth and rightness; it means knowledge of one's self, creation and the universe and its creator and eventually intellect's command.

The wise men say that one must have the torch of religion in hand and walk the path of spirituality to arrive at the most desirable destination, the truth.

Divine religions serve as the torch, some brighter than others but complementing each other; the message is from the same source. Jesus came to complement the message of Moses and Mohammad came to complement the message of Jesus.

Therefore, religions are not the actual objective or goal; they are a set of precepts for humanity. When humans received all the rules and regulations, they must implement them in their daily lives. This means moving from mere words to action which is what we call spirituality.

The path to the Truth is a straight path and a straight path is the shortest distance between two points. Thus there are no short cuts to the truth.

There is also the variety of divine religions in our world; Just like how we cannot purify the drinking water of the world from only one refinery and every region needs its own purification site, human beings from every region also need their own rituals and rites according to their cultures and traditions.

Therefore, religions of the world are refining human beings and they all have light from the same source. You cannot find any religion in the world that promotes vices and immorality such as lying, backbiting, deception, betrayal, rape...

However, there is an important point here. Wherever there is precious jewelry and diamond, there are bandits and thieves determined to steal it. Diamond of religion has also been stolen by ignorant, greedy opportunists who as a result of centuries of deviation from the path of truth have buried the true meaning of religion and its source. Their superstitions and narrow mindedness has put a dark layer around the light of religion and made the light very dim.

In every religion and all over the world, certain people have committed and are still committing the worst kind of atrocities in the name of God and religion that I think even devil's advocate would not commit. If you have seen in the movies, in certain parts of the world, they killed scientists who were ahead of their time accusing them of being magicians and burnt them alive in the name of God and church. Or during the times of Jesus, some powerful Jewish figures thinking of themselves as God's representatives, crucified Jesus.

Of course, there always were and are the pure, dedicated individuals who serve humanity in all sorts of dresses and with all kinds of titles. Did I answer your question?

Mohammad: yes sir, I got my answer. I say, when you're high you can be pretty good master yourself. Why are you searching for a mentor and make us go to all these places? You just start your own cult and I'll be your first disciple and Sarvar here will be the second one. We'll get the rest of the relatives and friends to join up as well and we'll advertise you throughout the city.

Sarvar: he's right, Hossein. Leave all these factory work and business aside and become the great master of all time. We'll get some bodyguards for you and to make people more excited we'll always say that you're busy and don't have time and everyone should make an appointment.

Think about it, we'll make lots of money like the other guys calling themselves holy men or masters.

Hossein: wow, that's just great. After all these years of seeking and wandering, this is just what I needed to hear. You all think I'm a fool or very naive.

Saying these words doesn't mean anything and lots of people can talk like this; knowledge alone isn't enough, acting upon that knowledge is the real thing. Knowledge that does not lead to action is not practical.

If I had understood a small part of the things that I said, I wouldn't be sitting here and using drugs with you all. This speech of mine seems pretty ridiculous when you think of my alcohol and drug abuse.

Here I'm lying on my back smoking opium and talking about religions of the world and path of the truth. Someone who is imprisoned by his own carnal desires talking about virtues and prophets, it sounds very corny.

Do you know why?

I've become an expert in denial, in justifying my habits and lifestyle. I've mastered the art of lying and deceiving. Justification, denial and deception are the foundations of drug addiction. I'm a slave of the satanic forces since my mind, body and soul are under their command; when there is no drug and alcohol in my system and I'm so called dry, religion, God, love and spirituality disappear.

When someone refrains from indulging in vices internally and externally, then his words can have positive effects on other people.

If I can get my act together and kick this destructive habit for good and work on myself, then maybe I would have something to give. However, for now I'm only drowning in my own ignorance and nothing else. I want you to admit that.

Mohammad: alright man, I admit; you're ignorant and I'm much wiser than you.

As soon as he said that, we all exploded in laughter and we laughed so much until there were tears in our eyes and thereafter we left Sarvar's house.

The next day I left for Tehran and felt a major realization had taken place for me.

A year has passed since that day. I put aside all the research and studies that I was doing and I stopped looking for a master, cult or spiritual group. God had answered my question and told me to stop my efforts in vain.

However, I was used to being in the dark and didn't know how to get out. I singled out poems to confirm my abusive life style and continued my substance abuse.

If someone asked me what you were looking for all these years, I would answer the truth; but inside I had no idea what the truth was. All I know is that I wanted to gain metaphysical powers; for instance, have the power to move objects or make them fly by staring at them, reading people's mind and things of this nature.

I was seeking attention in this way and wanted everyone to know that I had spiritual powers. Now that I look back on those desires I find them ridiculous.

I abandoned those thoughts and wishes and tried to forget everything that I had ever done on this path and exactly at that moment of complete surrender and being resigned, the master's footsteps were heard; not from earth but from depths of the heavens.

The master's arrival

21/04/1993

When I woke up this morning my wife, Ani told me that she has a message for me.

Hossein: what message?

Ani: I had a dream last night and in it I saw the same person whom I had dreamt about a few times in the past.

Hossein: who are talking about?

Ani: the person that you have a lot of respect for.

Hossein: I respect everyone, explain more.

Ani: the one who always start his speech by 'hello my children'.

Hossein: alright, that's strange. What did he say?

Ani: he said that they have chosen a mentor for you and it's up to you to establish the connection and they will help you in doing that.

Hossein: looks like we have to reactivate the time net room once again.

The command

The waves crash on earth like a whirlwind and take whatever they can as safekeeping and this is done only by the command.

Thus for those of you who have made the pact, contemplate about leaving the earth for the commanded destination.

Sardar

The ability to understand

Hossein: now we can talk about the time net room.

Ani: where did you get the name time net room from?

Hossein: it's a game I play with words. Some words have lost their meanings and we need new ones since humans and sciences are constantly changing.

Ani: why do you say game?

Hossein: if a mathematics or physics formula is presented in a very dry and logical manner, it might bore everyone and they might not read it. However, if you present it in a form of a game or a story, many people would find it attractive and would grab their attention.

Ani: don't you think that in this way people might think you're making things up and these are all figments of your imagination?

Hossein: this depends on the reader, really; how he interprets and analyze things. Even if someone doesn't believe in it, it'll at least have him thinking.

Certain issues are perceivable and they may not be easily explainable. For example, we're not able to convey the scent of a rose to someone who has never seen a flower or a rose unless we use an example of something similar that they have logically understood or perceived. In other words, the example must be in a way so that people realize the matter intellectually but most of the times people mistake the example for the real thing.

For example, in my other book I used the example of 60 degrees below zero to show the difficulty of quitting addiction. It would be ridiculous for someone who wants to quit drugs to think that he must go to such a cold region in order to succeed.

Ani: I don't think people are this naive.

Hossein: I disagree; there are many people who mistake the example with the real thing.

Ani: give me an example.

Hossein: in order for us to realize the beauty and bliss of paradise, God gave an illustration of the heaven. It is described as a beautiful garden with wonderful streams and delicious fruits and all kinds of are available at all times.

Thus he clearly means as an example; however, lots of people think of heaven as the wonderful garden and do a transaction with God so that they can go to that heaven and never have to work for anything.

The nature of heaven or hell is unexplainable and it requires an illustration to convey the meaning. Do you see my point?

I believe heaven or hell is a state of being and it can happen at any time, here in this world or the next.

Today most people are familiar with the internet and once someone has access to it, they can enter many places and find out about many things such as news, scientific researches and other people. However, certain places on the internet need permission to enter and not everyone is allowed permission.

Using this example I can explain the time net room better.

The time net room: here, the speed of light is actually nothing compared to the speed at which things happen. The speed is so high that it's hard to believe.

In a blink of an eye you can travel through the galaxies, you can also enter the archives and actually see the events of the past, present and the future. Access to all the information of creation is possible on one condition; you must have the authorization to enter and this permission is received only by the divine command.

Of course, you cannot obtain this permission through connections and enter into the privacy of others. This room has guardians that protect it perfectly.

There is an amazing organization within the room and you must always increase your ability to receive and understand knowledge and information and have the power of attraction for more.

Thus, you must truly serve your community and humanity in general. Someone who truly serves others would not spend his or her valuable time indulging in vices and fleeting pleasures.

To abstain from vices and immoralities, the individual must purify himself; we call this process the purification of the ego which would automatically set in as soon as the journey towards the virtues is started.

The individual will realize that birth is not the beginning or death, the end; that the attraction of vices has really lost its power and they no longer seem appealing. At that time, the heart is gradually emptied of hatred, animosity, jealousy, vengeance...he loves everyone and everything and knows that life is unlimited like numbers.

The process of life contains change, transformation and emancipation. Transforming from one form, shape and phase into another and emancipation from one stage of creation to another stage entitle the human being to achievements and accomplishments that are attained through training, education, knowledge and experience; we're nothing but our own efforts.

Anyways, we can communicate with other human beings who lived on earth or other places millions of years ago, in the time net room. If we're authorized we can enter into scenes from the past, for instance the First World War or events of the future.

Of course, in order to analyze all these events in details there are powerful scientific connections which have not been fully discovered by humans yet; they are all according to the universal laws and one day will be part of our scientific knowledge.

Things like discovering the essence or energy of every atom and molecule which will lead to a better understanding of our universe and other parallel universes. Presently, many scientists are working towards such advancements.

However, the rest of this story or game will be played out in the time net room for now. Because in this room, meetings, trainings and interactions take place beyond the limitations of time and space and this lifts many obstacles on the path.

Teachers and masters, who are in charge of the training in this room, are from different times and universes which is a hard thing to believe. No one expects everyone to believe the very existence of the time net room, whether it's real or the figment of my imagination.

We try to think openly and present the knowledge we think is essential to uplifting the human spirit. I shall leave the judgment to the readers and they can take whatever that they think is useful.

I hope the readers of this book read the materials once and if they want to search for more, they can reread it several times as each time can bring more realizations.

Description of the time net room

Ani: Hossein, do you want to describe the characteristics of the time net room?

Hossein: precisely, the area of the room must be 24sq/m, not even one millimeter more or less or the room won't be functional.

Next, the time net room has 4 walls which are built from molten lead with a diameter of one meter of which 5% must be made up of pure gold to a diameter of one meter; also its molecules shouldn't have been extracted industrially as this would make it unsuitable for the time net room.

Furthermore, the ceiling and floor of the room have to be made out of golden marbles with red natural flowers as the design.

Let's not forget the height of the room, 120 meters built as pyramid form in a region like the Loot desert in Iran.

There are other secrets involved in making a time net room that should not be revealed as some people might immediately intend to build it.

Ani: what's this nonsense you're talking about? Be serious please.

Hossein: but it's not my fault, lots of people look for such weird stuff so as to call it spiritual. Wearing strange costumes and carrying out weird ceremonies go a long way of displaying the spiritual quality of the cult.

All these deviations are Satan's game to mislead mankind from the right path. God says 'I am closer to you than your spinal cord.

The most advanced, well equipped and magnificent time net room is in the heart of the human being wherever he or she may be.

However, the important point is whether the individual desires to facilitate such a room in his heart which is called God's abode by abstaining from vices and immoralities and moving towards virtues and integrity.

The real time net room is inside the human being and will not perish by death; is eternal with no beginning or end.

Command

Ani: what does the word command actually mean?

Hossein: I'm not really sure as to who issues the command and I don't know why they've chosen me. My life is in chaos and disarray and after 14 years of wanting to leave the darkness, why now?

Ani: I'm quite surprised that they've chosen a teacher for you.

Hossein: I'm confused, why does God created humans with the opposites? Sometimes drowned in depth of darkness and other times moving towards light;

Ani: I'm not sure about all these, but please Hossein; don't drink so much so that you can be alert when meeting this great mater.

Hossein: looks like this has become a serious matter and it won't be wise to drink during this important meeting; but you can't expect me to stop drinking for good.

Ani: alright but for that day, stop your habit for 24 hours. I still can't believe all that has happened, all these dreams. What is a dream anyways?

Hossein: dream means seeing but not with the physical eyes; it's seeing with the internal eye while the physical eyes are closed.

Sometimes a dream can be a reality and our dreams during sleep are called involuntary dreams. Other times, we can close our eyes while awake and imagine anything we want since we are the highest form of creation by God and we have inherited his creator attribute of 'be and become'.

In your mind, when you say be the object instantly becomes. For example, you think of a pear and immediately you see a pear and so on. However, it doesn't feed your hunger and that's the difference between God's commands and our commands. We can do this action internally and externally under certain conditions with time playing a crucial role.

God does this internally and externally overcoming the time and space. There is another kind of a dream called vision or revelation which could be voluntary or involuntary. Other forces and factors play a role in this kind of a dream which usually contain a message for the individual or other humans. Sometimes the person who receives the vision or revelation does not understand or comprehend the meaning fully or it might be in the form of codes and secret language similar to the Johannes in the bible.

An important point is that a kind of dream is an obvious truth or reality, but its time, place and material is made of other particles which could not be realized by the five senses of vision, hearing, touch... and needs another sense which is called the out of the body sense or common sense.

Justification

Ani: what is the common sense or out of the body sense?

Hossein: for now I can only say that there is such a sense and no more. Of course, don't think that I have all the answers and know everything. I can only answer the questions which I have the knowledge and understanding of; hopefully as time passes by we can find out more about the unknown.

Ani: if you drink less, we might be able to know more. Why can't you quit drinking?

Hossein: because you and everybody else don't understand me and waste my precious talents. So I drink to drown my sorrows.

Ani: you are the master of justification; you bring all sorts of excuses so as to continue your destructive habits.

Hossein: yes, you are right. I know the damage that I bring upon myself mentally and physically; unfortunately, I can't act upon my knowledge.

In the culture of mysticism, sometimes the mystics used certain terminologies like drunken, wine and intoxication to describe certain divine feelings of joy, ecstasy and enlightenment. However, opportunists like me have taken advantage of this literature and justify drinking and smoking drugs. We think in order to achieve these states of being; we need to be high on drugs and merry on alcohol.

Some say that to realize the universe, creation and God one must leave the normal state of consciousness. The easiest way to alter our consciousness is to use alcohol and drugs and that's the dangerous path that many have taken and with some never returning.

All the spiritual adventures that start by taking mind altering drugs lead to mental institutions, becoming street junkies or even death. Drugs can never lead a person to other planes or universes and provide spiritual powers. In fact, it brings them down to the lowest conditions of living and behaving.

I just remembered my friend's story, Ali. He told me about his obsession with ghosts and spirit and how he always wanted to summon them. He went on by telling me this story which I cannot verify its truth.

Ali: after my constant search for a way to summon ghosts, I came across a book that had a chant in it that had to be repeated forty nights for the ghost to be summoned. I chanted the chant for 39 nights and on the 40th night I sent my family to my in-laws and went to the roof in my pajamas.

I was very scared and it was dark that night. Finally with my body trembling I read the chant for the last time. After a few seconds I heard footsteps coming up the stairs to the rooftop. I was sweating and trembling with fear; my heart was pounding very fast. At last the door opened and someone very short, about one meter with curly hair came out and said hello.

I screamed in fear and ran downstairs into the streets with my pajamas and passed out in my in-laws house.

That ghost never left me alone and always disturbed me until I hired someone to perform an exorcism. At last, he was gone and I never thought about these things anymore.

End of Ali's story

As you can see, the end does not justify the means. It's not if you get there; it's how you get there that matters.

Ani: can anyone actually contact a ghost?

Hossein: in our holy book God says that he has created us from earth, thus human's body contains the same elements that earth has such as calcium, phosphor, iron, copper, potassium and etc.

However, the word Jen (ghost) means hidden in Arabic; something that is invisible. Again God in the holy book of Quran says that I created life or spirit out of fire. All in all ghosts are not visible under normal circumstances and it's not recommended for humans to contact them.

Human beings who contact ghosts are going against the laws of nature and God's commands.

Intoxicant

Ani: since you've spoken about drinking and hashish, don't you want to state your views on smoking opium?

Some religious people actually think that opium is not forbidden unlike alcohol and hashish and even in the holy month of Ramadan they continue to use it. What do you think?

Hossein: once again we refer to our holy book; it says 'any substance that casts a shadow of change on our mind, behavior and personality is forbidden'.

In other words, any substance that can influence and change our way of being or alters our consciousness is not recommended.

Now do you think alcohol is more damaging on the personality or heroine?

Ani: although alcohol causes extensive physical and mental damages, I think heroine is much worse.

Hossein: then how would it be that God forbids alcohol but allows opium? It just doesn't make sense to have restrictions only on one substance and I believe divine wisdom has made the guidelines clear for humanity.

Ani: so if smoking opium is forbidden, why is it still recommended that the addicts use their dosage while fasting?

Hossein: it's obvious; eating dead human flesh is forbidden in our religion unless someone is dying of hunger in special sets of circumstances. At that time, preservation of life is of utmost importance similar to the case of an addict who is a regular drug user and sudden withdrawal from drugs while fasting can cause serious harm to the body and mind.

Ani: alcohol and drugs do have benefits as well. Isn't it true?

Hossein: of course, who can deny the medical use of alcohol or morphine in the field of medicine? Opium has been a traditional painkiller and medicine for thousands of years and other anti-depressants are very useful in psychology as well.

It's the wrongful application of these drugs that cause harm and damage to individuals and society as a whole. Out of a marriage between drugs and human beings, addiction is born.

Ani: is it possible that no child is born out of such a marriage?

Hossein: well, I started using drugs as a recreation and thought I can stop anytime I want and gradually I became addicted and after sometime I turned pro.

In other words, the individual becomes engaged to drugs initially and no sooner does he realize that a marriage has taken place and an unwanted child named drug addiction has also been born.

I hardly know of anyone who has been able to divorce drugs prior to marriage and not have a child. Curing addiction afterwards is also a very difficult matter.

Ani: how about someone who has used opium for a short time and has not been aware of its dangers and wants to quit it. What should he do to free himself of this destructive bondage?

Hossein: first he must know that this is a serious matter and drug addiction must be cured completely. Quitting cold turkey and sleeping it off for a few days won't work.

It'll take about 11 months to recover along with a complete overhaul of thinking and looking at the world, a change of perception. He must try to achieve mental and physical balance simultaneously so that Opioid production system within the body returns to normal function together with a healthy, normal lifestyle.

If the drug is crack, crystal meth or heroine he must stop completely for three days and then eat half a gram of opium in three daily dosages. Thereafter, every 21 days he should taper the drugs by 20% of the total daily amount used.

We should get ready to go to the time net room.

Ani: I have some anxiety about going to the time room.

Hossein: me too, it's been two years that I've not met the human beings who live in the other circles of creation and my communications with had stopped. I lost all contacts and I'm not sure what is going to happen.

Well, we shall find out soon.

Message

At a time when the only thing you remember is the remembrance of the Lord, He shall remind you of all that which you have forgotten.

A love and affection that is stronger than any feeling in this world or the next.

I shall take back all that I have given you by the command.

How do I see you in the world?

In the same way that you see yourself

Or

Descending of Sardar from the heavens

Time net room

21/04/1993

It's 11pm and after five minutes of silence, the intended person landed in the time net room.

Person: greetings to my children.

Hossein: our greetings upon you as well. I'm glad to meet you again after a long time. I've lost a lot of time and I hope to make amends this time. I tried everything and nothing worked and I've reached a dead end.

I hope that you accept me as your disciple this time and extend your guiding hand to me so that I learn what I don't know.

Person: as you know I've not studied and learned knowledge in the manner that people do so these days. However, I'm aware of the affairs of your world.

My son, you have hidden your courage under false attachments; break away from these bondages, one by one. You can't do all at the same time, just like climbing the steps of a ladder. It must be done gradually.

Do not lose your faith and determination and maintain a strong will in life. Do you have any question?

Hossein: it appears that I don't know my limits in life. I feel like I need to be good to everyone at all times even those who harm me. I've had many failures and I'm not sure what I should do anymore. Should I always return wrongdoings with goodness?

Person: no, you have not been ordered to do so in life by God. Sometimes I had to respond to injustice by my sword. God does not forgive those who do not stand up to oppression. You must protect your rights, family and property.

I'll consult with individuals who are experts in matters that I'm not so as to help you in all areas of your life. Maybe I'll find a mentor who is much more familiar with the affairs of your world.

If we do accept you as our disciple, you need to make a pact.

Hossein: what kind of a pact?

Person: you must not reveal our real names and identities until such a time that we see fit. For now you can call me Sardar (in Persian means General) and mention it in your future writings.

Hossein: what writings? I'm not a writer and I don't know how to write.

Sardar: hopefully the time will come as it's in the command and whatever that is in the command will be carried out.

My children, life and living are usually accompanied by wars and battles. Do not lose your weapons. Is there any other questions?

Hossein: I'm kind of lost for words or confused.

Sardar: alright, so from now on you shall call me Sardar. We have also chosen a name for you which is related to your distant past and we won't talk about that for now.

I'll let you know when the time is right and know this, names and titles are always given to people for a reason. Your name or title is Guardian and you can use it in your writings.

Of course, Ani is also a Guardian. It's enough for this time.

Goodbye

So from now on instead of Hossein, we'll use Guardian.

From that night onwards, I entered into a new phase of my life and I met Sardar regularly, every week to be more exact. I shall publish his teachings in a book called 'Sardar' in the near future.

During these times I became familiar with many issues and I decided to make contact with another master called Silver and receive a set of trainings from him.

Of course, after a few years of training with master Silver he revealed to me that his real name is 'White Eagle'.

Since parts of this book are his teachings and trainings and also to honor him and pay my tributes, I've named this book 'White Eagle'.

From now on I shall refer to master Silver Biresb as white eagle.

In fact, Sardar introduced me to his friends as part of a plan and you could say he put in a good word for me.

From this date onwards I shall write about my trainings and the knowledge which I acquired from their teachings.

The only thing that is left out was my drinking habit. To be honest, when the meetings with the masters began my drinking sessions somehow faded and alcohol didn't seem attractive to me anymore.

One evening after the second meeting, as usual I went to the kitchen looking for my bottle and I ended up just getting yogurt mixed with minced onions. Somehow that night I went to sleep easily and for ten nights I ate yogurt with onion and never drank Vodka again.

As odd as it may seem, this recipe helped my sleep as I was drinking every night to fall asleep.

However, my opium addiction continued. My drinking habit started as an effort to quit opium addiction. Unfortunately, not only it didn't help with the addiction, but it added to my dilemma. So I was very happy that at least alcohol was out of the picture.

Master

Or

Landing of White Eagle from the heavens

Tonight I've invited white eagle to time net room. The master does not speak Persian very well and I've written the conversation exactly as it happened. I hope he accepts me as his disciple.

29/06/1993

Guardian: are you able to speak my language fluently?

White eagle: I speak the language of whomever I visit.

Guardian: do you speak English as well?

White eagle: yes. Why do you want to talk to me?

Guardian: to gain knowledge and increase my awareness and information.

White eagle: why do you want to learn? It will take a long time and make you forget your life in this world.

Guardian: you mean I should forget my current life and become a monk.

White eagle: no, I meant if I teach you the things you want, then you will not have any time for yourself.

Guardian: should I leave my family and work?

White eagle: no, not at all. You just continue your life and we shall meet every week and I'll consult with other friends about you. We will talk soon.

Farewell

This was my first meeting with the master and I didn't understand much. I hope that he does accept me.

I was very anxious in the week that I had to wait till our next meeting. I couldn't do anything and I was very nervous. I hadn't fully surrendered yet and somehow wanted to do something to influence the outcome my way.

Finally, I gave up worrying and planning and surrendered to the outcome of the upcoming session, whatever it might be.

Thinking like that gave me a sense of calm and comfort as I entered the time net room.

Conferring

Time net room

06/07/1993

White eagle: there are many of us here in this universe and other universes. I've conferred with many of them and they have given me a positive response.

We will gradually inform you of the affairs of the universe.

Human being is born into every universe in different forms; similar to the leaves of trees, they come into existence; they grow and become yellow, die and fall down and get absorbed into earth.

And once again they become part of a cycle in nature. The same goes for human beings; the body perishes while the spirit moves on to the next phase.

I, myself have lived many lives in different tribes and have a duty towards the people who are not from my tribe.

You must try very hard to fulfill your duty in this world which is like an examination. If you pass with good grades, you would be very happy.

Guardian: with your permission, I would like to fix the weekly meetings.

White eagle: yes, Monday nights from 10pm to midnight. We'll take you to see our universe and you shouldn't be afraid. God will keep you safe.

Farewell

In this meeting, the master and his friends accepted me as a disciple. What I learned tonight is that human beings do not cease to exist after death and only the physical body perishes while the spirit goes on living in other universes.

He must be tested!

Time net room

13/07/1993

White eagle: we're all happy to be in contact with you. We can help you better understand yourself and your life on earth.

There are many decent believers on your planet, but they don't work like us. If you want, we can work together.

You must become financially strong on earth; not to show off or for leisurely spending, but to finance your aims and pave the way for future goals. What do you say?

Guardian: yes, all this time I was searching, but not sure as to what I want. I tried everything for the last 14 years and now that I've found you; how can I say no?

White eagle: you must continue to think as the path has difficulties. Ponder our proposition carefully and let us know.

Guardian: I've already made up my mind and the answer is yes.

White eagle: we talked about you to someone very good here and he said that you must be tested.

Guardian: fair enough, I accept your words and I'm willing to do any kinds of test or trial. When you say someone good, do you mean Sardar? Have you seen him?

White eagle: yes, he introduced you to us. I don't actually see him, but I can feel him everywhere.

You must go back in time to the past and see for yourself. That's all I know and would say for now. He will guide you more.

We have an appointment to see other universes together; this is the beginning of our practice. The time must come.

Guardian: alright, I'll be patient till the time comes. Can I ask you a question?

White eagle: yes.

Guardian: how will I be tested?

White eagle: this test is not short term. In time you shall see.

Journey to the other side

13/07/1993

White eagle: greetings. We hope that you are well.

Your foundation must be corrected and this starts with healing or purifying your corona and then we shall move ahead step by step. Are you ready for our help?

Guardian: you make me doubt myself every time you ask me this question; yes, yes, I'm ready.

White eagle: alright then, do you remember the journey on the bus that night? What time did you fall asleep?

Guardian: you mean last night on my way back from Esfahan? I'm not sure.

White eagle: yes, we brought you here with everyone.

Guardian: where?

White eagle: a place like Alaska, lots of snow and you were in a small car. You probably don't remember.

Are you able to endure the cold of 60 degrees below zero? We don't want anything more than that. You must try to rebuild and restore your body and health so that you can achieve the intended goal.

You have to strengthen your physique and will power and we'll assist you in other areas.

Guardian: Ani dreamt of the place you just described in her sleep last night. She was sleeping in our home in Tehran, though.

White eagle: yes, we transported you from the bus and your wife from your home, simultaneously last night. Tonight is for you to speak.

Guardian: I'm so glad to be in your company tonight. However, I'm still very confused; I'll try to clear my head.

White eagle: well, that's a good idea. Think well about the task ahead of you and focus on everything and everyone. We'll give you the necessary time and patience is needed.

Are there any questions?

Guardian: why did you transport me to somewhere cold last night? Why is this place called '60 degrees below zero'? Why does my wife still remember the place whereas I don't?

White eagle: we'll leave the memory of the scene in the mind of one of you only. The name has to do with the difficulty of the task and it's compared to a journey across such a region.

We want you to know that you have two responsibilities to accept, first is your physical body and the other, your psyche.

Guardian: how is an image recorded on the mind?

White eagle: this depends on the person who becomes close to the image so as to see it. We took you and Ani to a place filled with snow, but Ani didn't feel cold and observed everything. Do you understand?

Guardian: I'm very agitated at times and my mind is always working. I guess I still can't analyze these recent events.

White eagle: why don't you worry about your own problems? We'll do the planning for the future.

Guardian: I'm not worried about my work or responsibilities.

White eagle: then what?

Guardian: I have many questions about our connection.

White eagle: we showed you the beginning of the path; you are in a hurry to get results. We rather you be patient and give this enough time. We're proposing a gradual approach as there is a long way to go and time is needed for your mind and body to find their strength and health once again.

If we tell you to jump off a high altitude, you would ask how. However, if we teach you how to fly, then there would be no problem.

Guardian: you are right.

White eagle: so, take your time and think of becoming capable. Do you know what that means?

Guardian: yes, physical, psychological and mental strength.

White eagle: don't think thoughts that drain your energy. In order to serve humanity, hard work and determination is needed. We'll help you get through the cold.

Guardian: where do you get the patience and interest to help me?

White eagle: we don't have the problem of time which is very valuable in your world. If you want to climb unto a high summit, you must pace yourself and walk slowly. You will be guided for future aims because of your previous strength, your objective and mental state.

By using positive thoughts and energy, you can achieve your goal. Concentration on positive thoughts and reflecting them on your efforts, will pave the way forward.

Guardian: how do I strengthen my will power and overcome the obstacles?

White eagle: the problem must be looked at as already solved; that will diminish its size and it no longer creates fear. When we know what we want in life we can pursue it easier. Real desire is the key, and then comes other things.

We are at a weightless point while at flight and this could be contemplated.

Goodbye

The other seven bodies

Ani: a question has been on my mind for some time. I was hoping to get some answers to this question tonight.

Guardian: looks like you haven't noticed that I'm learning things here myself. You can't expect me to have all the answers. How can a blind person lead another one?

Ani: you have read many books in spirituality and metaphysics and you might be able to help me.

Guardian: the border between what we can sense and what we can't is called metaphysics. Anything that we're able to realize with our five senses will no longer be a mystery or metaphysics.

When you say that I've read books, it's still a long way from truly understanding the knowledge within those books. If the individual's knowledge is not higher than the material of the book he's reading, he won't be able to verify its authenticity.

Of course, I'm only talking about matters not understood or observed by our five external senses, otherwise other kinds of knowledge is transferable.

There is a huge difference between reading something and understanding something which leads to application of that knowledge in life. Once a person achieves a high level of academic success he becomes an expert in that one or two areas of specialty and it would be difficult for him to venture outside his area of expertise.

Ani: it seems you forgot my question; give me one reason why someone with high academic education might not understand certain materials.

Hossein: don't get me wrong, I don't mean any disrespect to the educated class. I'm not talking about discussions on science or mathematics or medicine. I'm talking about an area outside of these sciences, something beyond nature. You can call it metaphysics if you want.

When someone sees and smells and touches a red rose, he's able to share his experience with people who have never seen a flower before. However, can someone have the same original experience by just reading the descriptions of red rose? He's not even able to add anything to the original account by merely playing with words.

You see where I'm getting at; when mystics like Rumi describe something metaphysical or beyond our understanding, they are left with no choice but to use simple words and comparisons so that we can grasp the concept.

When they feel a sense of joy or elation from something divine or spiritual, they liken it to intoxication or being drunk so that we can fathom the depth.

Of course, when their descriptions are against the norms of society or seem strange to people, they call them crazy or prosecute them and sometimes, even kill them.

We have had many such persecutions in our history, Socrates who drank the cup of hemlock, Galileo in Rome and in the Middle East bright scholars and mystics such as Sohrevardy, Hallaj and Einolghozate Hamedani who were all murdered in horrific manners.

Ani: alright, looks like this topic is more interesting than mine; tell me something that is hard to comprehend for the educated, secular.

Guardian: fine, I quote a few lines from the famous poet, Rumi.

Five external senses are his medium

Five internal senses are his appointee

There are ten senses and seven bodies

Imagine what is not expressible by words

So, what do you think he means by seven bodies? Or why does he say 'not expressible by words'?

Ani: I'm waiting.

Guardian: he means that human being has seven bodies and he simply states that and then he says it's hard to imagine such a thing and it's not easy to be expressed by words.

On the other hand, many analyze and interpret this poetry without actually experiencing the original account and insist that their version is the truth, the one that Rumi says 'not expressible by words'.

Thus when something is beyond believe or seems strange, we come up with many forms of denial or explanation. Because if we believe that the human body has seven bodies, then it will create many changes in our beliefs and ways of looking at life.

Ani: stop right here, could you explain about the events of that night where both of us were taken to cold region while sleeping in two different locations.

Guardian: I think you got your answer already. The thing that was on the bus that night was my physical body and the same goes for you. It was your physical body at our home sleeping. The two people that were actually us in that cold place were the other bodies of us. We had left our physical bodies.

Ani: do the other bodies look exactly the same as our physical body?

Guardian: yes, the other bodies of a human being are exactly the same as physical body. It has hands and feet, it eats and talks, feels fear and joy and behaves exactly the same as the physical body and has the same characteristics.

The only difference is that the particles which form the second, third and...bodies are made up of substances unknown to us; they are not seen or felt by our physical eyes and other external senses. Some believe that these seven bodies are continuing their purification in seventh planes or levels of heavens.

Ani: can you bring an example for these other six bodies so that I can understand it better?

Guardian: yes, when you're dreaming in your sleep, you see and feel yourself as a real human being; with all the wants and needs of a human. Your bodies are very similar to each other up to a point where you cannot distinguish that you are in another one of your body and not the physical one.

When you're dreaming, it's very unlikely that you can distinguish the body that you're in and you believe that it's you. As you know, there are human beings who leave their physical bodies by their own will power and traverse the universe.

Sometimes upon leaving my physical body, I had a hard time recognizing which body I was in; thus I had to carry out an experiment to find out.

All I can say is that these bodies are so similar and this causes confusion. For example, if somebody slaps me real hard while I'm sleeping, I would feel the pain fully and I couldn't say for sure which body's face I was slapped on, the physical body or the second body. Sometimes, in my dream I can see blood and its color is also red or that I'm looking for my shoes.

I mean to say that clothes, food, cars, buildings and everything else exist in the other universe just like our physical world.

The thing that I have not been able to understand is the material or substances that make these universes; they are made up of substances that we've yet to discover and explore.

Ani: when you say 'explore the unknown' I remember Hallaj as he was always exploring the unknown.

Guardian: yes, he is one of the great martyrs of mysticism and he was always piercing through the unknown. He told me 'pierce through the unknown' personally himself.

Now, let me tell you about a famous proverb which says

'The camel dreams of cottonseed in his sleep; at times he eats with his mouth full and other times, he eats them one by one'.

Ani: it's good that you brought this up; what is the material of the cottonseed the camel is eating in his dream?

Guardian: the cottonseed that is eaten by the camel is exactly from the other universe or the second body. This is why the camel's appetite is not satisfied after eating so much and when he gets up, he's still hungry.

This cottonseed is not from the physical body and it's not made up of earth; so naturally not digestible by the camel's internal organs. Of course, such a body needs such a cottonseed.

As a famous folk story says 'such beet requires such a pot'.

Ani: tell me the story.

Guardian: once upon a time a man from Esfahan and someone from Azerbaijan became roommates since they worked together. So, every night after work they sat together and told each other about the most distinguished places and characteristics of their hometown.

After sometime they ran out of things to say and started to exaggerate. The man from Esfahan said 'in our city we began the production of the largest pot in the world, it's so huge that one hundred worker had to work inside the pot and one hundred worker outside the pot. After it was finished, it was placed in the main square of the city'.

When he finished his story, the man from Azerbaijan gave him a dirty smile and began his story; he said 'our agriculture is the best in the region. We're so good at this that our products and crops are the largest in the world. I remember once we had to employ two hundred workers to dig out a huge beet using trucks and special ropes'.

The first man protested 'come on! How could this be true? Furthermore, how could anyone cook such a huge beet? Where can you do such a thing?

The Azerbaijani smiled and replied 'such beet require such a pot'.

Then they both laughed and quit the exaggeration.

Now, my dear wife, do you get the point of the story. Such body requires the appropriate universe; this means the body must match the forming substances of the universe.

Alright, looks like we have to go to a meeting in the time net room.

Ani: I'm ready.

Torch

Time net room

14/08/1993

White eagle: we're all your friends here and we hope to achieve our common goal together which is helping the people on earth.

We're glad to help you strengthen your intellect and understanding so as to pass through this stage in the shortest time possible.

Your world's affairs go on forever and responsibilities and commands are changeable and doable.

We will stand with you throughout everything; your improvement shall leave a good impression on your friends. Try to focus on time and not waste it. Do you understand our objective?

Guardian: not thoroughly.

White eagle: you must gradually move forward step by step; any results need plenty of time.

We're trying to increase your awareness so that when you come here you would have the least amount of suffering.

In here, we're constantly working hard to achieve our goals just like your world and we're always commuting and on the move.

We help those who have lost their ways and are wandering aimlessly in life; when these individuals arrive here, they become so remorseful and experience hard times.

You did not pay attention to yourself and your family and created a web of darkness around yourself; that's why we had the mission to find you and pass the torch on to you so that you can come out of the darkness. We must accompany you to the main destination.

You and your wife Ani came to this earth for a purpose; pay attention to the issues on hand and your instincts shall lead you.

Farewell

Freewill

Ani: don't you want to elaborate on what the master just said?

Guardian: I better not, I might be wrong.

Ani: you just want to be exempted of any further explanations; just share your perception about these insights, this would give these words a new life and attract the reader's attention.

Guardian: alright, you pick a sentence and I'll share my interpretation of it.

Ani: the master said 'Your world's affairs go on forever and responsibilities and commands are changeable and doable' what is your view on this?

Guardian: here the issue of freewill is focused upon; it means that man can change his own destiny if he so desires.

If you ask any miserable human being about the source of his misery he would tell you 'it was written in my destiny or that I was meant to be like this and there is no way out'.

However, if you ask any successful individual the same question, he would answer 'hard work and determination is the key in succeeding'.

Thus, man can change his conditions under any sets of circumstances. If he's not doing anything about his problems, it's due to his laziness or lack of wisdom. When he says 'it is destiny's fault, he is justifying or bringing excuses.

God will not change the destiny of any nation unless they change their selfish, ignorant ways. This shows the issue of freewill clearly.

Sometimes we make a wrong move or commit a false action and consequently receive the reflection or reaction of that wrongdoing and then we call this determinism.

For example, I deceive someone into lending me as a form of investment and then takeoff with his money. Obviously, when I'm arrested it's the consequence of my own action and then in prison I learn more about criminal ways of life and keep repeating my actions and along the way become involved in drugs and so on. Somewhere down the road when misery has completely invaded my life, I would say 'I was destined for misfortunes and I never had any luck in life and how come I can never be happy' and beliefs of this nature.

Even our birth is by our own freewill, but for now is out of our discussion. There is no determinism in our physical world and thinking like that is due to lack of awareness of laws and order of creation.

Ani: what are you saying? My birth is my own choice! How come I don't remember that?

Guardian: I heard this from the masters; coming into this world requires two conditions, first is desire and second is command.

Maybe it's better to leave this topic aside for now and wait for the masters to explain more about this; not remembering many things about our past, before coming into this world is for our own good.

Ani: alright, but you said that human can change his conditions under any sets of circumstances. Can you give an example?

Guardian: for instance, I'm an alcoholic and by quitting the bottle, I can turn my life around for the better. You see, how quickly you can turn a negative issue around and make a positive change.

Of course, in action it needs a strong will and hard work, but it's doable. Do you have any more questions?

Ani: what does the master mean by plenty of time?

Guardian: well, it's very simple. Time is the foundation of life here on earth and as simple as it might seem, understanding it at all times does appear very complicated.

Many things are achieved with patience, but without it there could be much complication.

Ani: like what?

Guardian: well, we can see this important law in our physical universe all the time. We see it in the growing up of children, farming and plantation, giving birth, building and construction and many other things.

However, in certain cases we forget the factor of time. Take recovering from drug addiction as an example. Someone has used drugs for 20 years but thinks he can quit it over night and others expect him to do so as well.

Or someone who is poor and wants to become wealthy overnight, thus he goes into the wrong path and commits a crime; or a student who has not done any studying and school work the whole year and expects to get good grades by studying till morning the night before the exam.

No one can become an athlete or a warrior overnight. Bodybuilders, who don't have patience and determination, use steroids to attain a great body quickly while forgetting the harmful effects of steroids on their body.

Therefore, changes and transformations in the physical realm can only take place gradually and need time.

White eagle: tonight, we want to enter a scene from the past which demonstrates our intention.

We see a friendly gathering of friends and acquaintances that are all dancing and enjoying themselves. This scene belongs to the thirteenth century and the party is hosted by a wealthy family. There's a lady here about 65, very beautiful with blond hair. Over there in the corner, a few young men are laughing happily. The atmosphere is joyous and energetic.

You can become very strong by positive and happy thoughts. I and the rest of my friends here have a divine mission to do in many different lands.

Guardian: you've learned Persian very well.

White eagle: I should thank Lady Jones for teaching me Persian. We ask for permission before accepting anyone into our congress but it didn't take long for you and your wife.

I hope that you make us proud with your hard work so that we can continue our assistance.

Do you have any question?

Guardian: you said the scene belonged to the thirteenth century. Where is the past?

White eagle: the scene was like the thirteenth century and they are everywhere. You use film to store an image and in the past people used painting or carvings on the walls.

Do you think that past and future exist for everything?

Guardian: I think past exists and in your universe there are certain people with a special mission who have access to the past, present and the future. Maybe there are such people on earth as well, but I think it requires a special permit.

White eagle: you're right; scenes from the past, present and future are all recorded in the archives and can be accessed.

What is important for you to know is that if humans think of happiness on earth, they will be happy in the other world as well. The dancing scene displayed the same point.

Guardian: thanks, but I have no way of knowing the future.

White eagle: yes, there are scenes that we have like the scene about a volcano and an earthquake which are related to the future or scenes from the previous palaces which you didn't record. We wanted to show you a mixture of the scenes from the past, present and future so that you know the scenes and the humans exist and will be forever. We have to go now.

Farewell

Ani: what is the archive? How is it that scenes are recorded in it?

Guardian: archive is a form of preservation; for instance, if you access a broadcasting company they have an archive which has the entire program of that station.

However, the difference between a TV station archive and creation's archive is that the TV station might not preserve its entire program, but in creation everything is kept and recorded in addition to the fact that creation has scenes from the future in it as well unlike a broadcasting station.

Let's not forget that creation's archive is not destroyed no matter what and will be preserved forever.

Sometimes we can access scenes from our past in our sleep when we're dreaming; of course, only sometimes.

White eagle: we want to display some more scenes from the past. Are you ready?

Guardian: yes.

White eagle: beautiful eyes looking at you besides two wooden chairs on the front porch of a cottage. Those eyes must be familiar to you.

This place is very beautiful; those large eyes belong to a lady whom you know very well.

Guardian: what century is this?

White eagle: this place is where you lived about 1400 years ago, the house by the river which creates some fear in both of you.

Guardian: has the congress accepted us?

White eagle: it depends on you and your performance.

Guardian: it's been sometime that I voluntarily travel to different places in my sleep. Last night I went to a garden and started to dig the ground with my hands.

In there I found some epigraphs with different colors; they were small and an ancient writings were written on them.

I destroyed some of them; I'm kind of confused about these events. Could you explain?

White eagle: it might not make sense to you yet as the scenes belong to your past; I'll try to explain.

We've moved ahead of the dark forces and this is a victory for us. This battle is going on throughout the creation so that the good forces experience the truth step by step.

Of course, in continuation all the negative issues must be eliminated.

Farewell

A family in the past

Ani: when I saw the scene with the house and the beautiful place I felt a sense of familiarity; but the river created an intense fear in me. Why is that?

Guardian: right now I know as much as you; these scenes belong to our past and I'm not sure as to what had happened in the river. We have to wait and see what more the master tells us.

Ani: the master said that they travel and commute in their universe. In what manner does this traveling take place?

Guardian: I explained that the human being has seven bodies while most people think that we're just made up of a body and a soul.

People imagine the soul or the spirit as form of vapor or mist or a ghost. This false idea has lead to misinterpretations about the hidden attributes of human being and is the source of many movies.

On the other hand, when we see our dead relatives or loved ones in our sleep we see them in ways just like us; they are dressed like us, look like us and talk the same.

Thus we can imagine that the human being is wearing many garments and if he takes off one, the other garment appears. The only difference is the quality of the garments and only one of these layers are detectible by our five senses, our physical body. However, the elements of the other bodies are the same as the components making up the respective universe; so driving, eating and commuting takes place exactly the same as our universe.

Ani: tell me about the dreams, the places you go and the things you do during your sleep.

Guardian: they are related to certain trainings and only a few scenes remain in my memory afterwards and the rest of the information remain hidden in the archive or the unconscious. Access to this section is only possible by the divine command and my ability.

I hope that one day I can have the full access to the archive.

Ani: don't you want to explain about our previous family?

Guardian: this family, as unbelievable as it may sound, is our family dating back to 1400 years ago and in order to become more familiar with them, we need to look into the meetings we've had with them. The story began like this.

Antina

It was 29/06/1993 and in the time net room I was interviewing my ancestor named Kichikhan when suddenly a lady entered the scene. Thus, I shall write the whole interview with Kichikhan before the arrival of the lady.

Kichikhan: dear Hossein, eating and survival is very convenient in our universe. However, learning is compulsory here and good grades mean better living conditions; if someone leaves the earth illiterate, there are teachers here and he must learn; otherwise we would be demoted to lower levels.

For this reason, I was alone for a long time. I still haven't learned everything but I have found some good company thanks to you.

I was thinking of returning to earth, but after talking to you I decided to stay here and inform you of the universe unknown to you.

She has reddish hair, fair skin, small lips, beautiful eyes and slender figure.

Guardian: who is she?

Kichikhan: she's here to see her daughter, Antina.

Guardian: what does she want from us?

Kichikhan: she's come to see her daughter who drowned in the river; she wants to talk to your wife, Ani.

Guardian: what for?

Kichikhan: Ani is her daughter, your wife. She wants to know why her daughter has returned to earth.

Guardian: I'm very confused here; I'm still trying to figure out all that is happening and now my wife has found a mother. Please send my regards and we shall meet again in the time net room. I'm sure these events are the works of Sardar.

Goodbye

Mother

Ani: certain confusing information was given in the last session. I don't understand, I've not drowned and I'm alive and healthy right here. Who is Antina? How could she be my mother?

Guardian: we have to be patient to find out the truth. Up to now, the events seem to be happening in order which we know nothing about. The scene about the farm, house, two chairs and the scary river; and now the story of you being drowned in that river; they all appear as pre-written scenario.

These events belong to 1400 years ago, your ex-family and the events which happened at that time. It's very hard to believe all this, but I think that we've become involved in a series of strange events. Although we don't remember any of the past events that happened to us, I think we have followed each other according to certain pacts and promises.

We might seem unaware of things, but it's always like this in the beginning. New issues are always hard to believe for us humans, but after some time they seem very ordinary and normal.

200 years ago no one could have thought of things like telephone or television which are part of our today's ordinary life. You could be sure that if the masters revealed everything to us in one meeting, we still wouldn't absorb everything.

Ani: is there a difference between knowing and absorbing?

Guardian: we know of many things in life but they have not become a part of our being. For instance, you know that a dead person is unable of any action, but most people fear a dead corps. An educated person is afraid of his or her spouse's dead body in the room and fears staying in the room where they've spent lots of time together. Most people are afraid of spending a night in the mortuary whereas someone working in the morgue is relaxed next to the bodies.

Thus something is wrong here; this knowledge that dead bodies mean no harm has not become absorbed by most people and therefore, not a part of their being.

Basically, experiencing the knowledge and absorbing it internally and practically leads to a deeper understanding which is more than just knowing.

Now Ani, do you understand the difference?

Alright, it's ten at night and we better get ready for a meeting in the time net room. If you like, we can have a meeting with Antina.

Ani: that would be great because this event has really occupied my mind and I want to see her. Maybe she can shed some light on the story of Arti and Antine who were murdered 1400 years ago in the city that burnt in the flames of fire.

After five minutes of utter silence Antina entered the time net room.

Guardian: greetings upon you.

Antina: I once had a daughter.

Guardian: what was her name?

Antina: Antine. It was during the invasion of Persia by Arabs; we were the royal family of Sassanid Dynasty.

They threw both of you in the river. We didn't find out about it until much later. You were the son of a brave war commander.

Guardian: what was my name back then?

Antina: it was Arti; your mother became extremely upset after losing you and she started to forget things. We lost all of our assets. My husband was part of the secret service of the palace and was in charge of the finances and assets of the palace.

Guardian: what was his name?

Antina: I'm not allowed to say; your father was a good man and gave his life for his motherland.

Guardian: where is my father at the moment? Has he returned to earth?

Antina: no, he has not returned to earth. We're in the heavens together.

You must try your very best to attain knowledge so as to have a comfortable time when you come here.

Guardian: how old were you when you ascended to heavens?

Antina: I'm not sure exactly, 27 or 28 years old. Antine was 9 and you were 13 years old. Your mother was tall and had beautiful hair, we were good friends and I'm so glad to see you once again. She has been searching for you all these years and now that she has found you, she will celebrate and give thanks to the Lord.

Guardian: how old was my mother?

Antina: she was 29 years old and a great dancer.

Guardian: are you educated?

Antina: we were taught manners and the art of running a household.

Farewell

Guardian: I had many questions to ask in this meeting and many issues were unbelievable for me. So I tried to establish more communications especially with my mother.

Mum: greetings upon the great Lord.

You were my son.

Guardian: you were my mum.

Mum: yes, I've worn a dress for celebration as I had been mourning for so long. My name is pane.

I was so light on my feet and a great dancer. Losing you made me ill and I searched for you everywhere.

Guardian: did Sardar find you?

Pane: yes, he is a great human being.

Guardian: are you with my father?

Pane: yes, he's on your right side.

Guardian: I send my greetings upon him. These events astonish me. How old were you and dad?

Pane: I was about 31 and your dad was 38 years old. His name is Pakrobad. He was like a wind, powerful in the battle. He is a good human being and a powerful athlete.

He gave his life for fiends and his wrath for the enemy; a clever person.

Guardian: I'm so happy. You must also be happy with this great gift from God, aren't you?

Pane: yes, but today is not a day for celebration. You have a lot to do. When Antine was five, she fell down hurt her right knee; you helped her up and she promised to make you a polo stick when she grew up.

Your father had two beautiful horse; your father's eyes were very attractive. God be with you both.

Guardian: after meeting my mum, I decided to meet my dad as well. I guess what my mum said about not being happy is due to my complicated problems. Next, I shall write the full details of my meeting with my dad; his name is Pakrobad.

Pakrobad: greetings upon you, the Persian boy.

Guardian: our greetings upon you as well.

Pakrobad: you came on your own wishes to the earth and you must complete your mission successfully so that you can be satisfied. Then, we shall receive you with pleasure. Do you want to say anything?

Guardian: the situation is very confusing for me. I'm happy to be talking to you all and maybe I'm still in shock as to what is taking place. I hope I can gradually understand everything. From what I gather and the words of the masters, I'm supposed to be doing something. Do you know what that is?

Pakrobad: you will know in the future, it's too soon for me to tell you.

Guardian: alright, I'm probably not ready for it yet. As the master, White eagle says 'only with patience and knowledge, can one travel the long road'.

For now, I can't do anything. Tell me about Antina; is my mum there with you?

Pakrobad: yes, we're both here, together. You know that you were our only child and the same thing for Antine. You had lived thirteen springs and Antine 9. You were the son of a warrior, strong like me. We were god friends as well.

Losing you was like losing to another warrior in a battlefield. God be with you.

Farewell

Guardian: I was constantly thinking about a solution, the key to the secrets. Of course, I knew that the answers lied in my hidden archive and accessing it was not an easy task.

So I tried to have another meeting and get to know Antine's dad so as to find out about his identity. He did not accept, however and my dad began the meeting.

Pakrobad: me, your mother, Antina and her husband are all here. We ask God to bless you with his grace and hope you are not sad because of your return to earth.

We remain true to our heritage and ancestors. You were always my son and will be forever. Try to leave a good name of yourself before your departure. You were returned to experience the darkness; your last life was cut short and you brought one thing with yourself.

Guardian: what is that?

Pakrobad: reaching the summit and planting the victory flag is valuable for all of us. We love everyone; don't forget us.

Guardian: what is the name of Antine's father?

Pakrobad: we're not allowed to say his name. Antina is very sad for Antine's condition; we're worried for both of you and we think constantly about your conditions.

I and pane wish the best for you. You were an expert rider when you were 9 years old; you had a beautiful, white horse named Kamand.

Guardian: did you say Kamand?

Pakrobad: yes, he's here with us. Anyways, I said too much.

Your pain and sorrows affect us immensely and we constantly think of a solution for you.

The force of attraction in the first place of upbringing constantly pulls us and other humans in our universe, towards that place; that's why the living things on earth love their motherland or their place of birth so much.

Our house was abandoned in that location; our hopes of building that house with love disappeared as well. After losing you both it was very difficult to live there.

Finding you both after many years and seeing the sad situation that you and your small family is in, motivated us greatly. Your mission is nothing less than a kingdom and we hope that both of you will dedicate your lives for its completion. We must leave now.

Guardian: God be with you all.

Greetings; I'm pane.

We're all good, my son. Antine's father has given a party and I must dance as well. You did a good thing; you freed the poor queen who had her cut off by the Arabs. She was hypnotized by an Assyrian poet and then kidnapped to Egypt.

All this was done by a lover who was very tall and strong. The queen was related to us. You gave her peace and many thanks to you for that.

We're at the palace with all the people that you know; we're singing and dancing. The big bird entered the palace.

I'm very happy tonight. We're grateful for everything and give many thanks to the Lord. The place is bright and filled with people. Talk to your father for now.

Pakrobad: how are my son and everyone else?

Guardian: we're all doing well.

Pakrobad: we miss you all very much.

Observe the secrets of numbers in the faces.

Our faces gradually appear in each one of you and with constant purifications, we become pure.

We can see changes in you and this will help you in overcoming your fears and doubts and make you familiar with your past which was full of bravery and chivalry.

You are a man of honor, but impurities (drug addiction) have destroyed the blossoms in you. Your mother is very worried for you and wants the best for you all.

Guardian: dad, is it possible to meet Antine's father?

Pakrobad: if you invite him, he'll definitely accept.

Guardian: then I'm sending my invitation out to him and please send my request to him.

Antine's dad

Antine's dad: in the name of God.

I'm the last of Sassanid dynasty; my name is not important to you. I'm happy that my daughter is in your hands as safekeeping.

Lord's destiny had it that we get our wish this time and we're very happy for that.

I and Pakrobad are very close friends and have been very useful for each other. Do you have any questions from me?

Guardian: since you were the last of the Sassanid dynasty and you all were monotheism, could you explain to me the chaos that took place as a result of a war between the Persians and the Arabs.

Antine's father: we refused to convert to Islam at first, but they taught us the meaning of monotheism after a long time. Thus we converted and received their grace.

We love the prophet very much, but the destructions were caused by the ignorant ones. God is God and the different names do not change his essence. It was difficult for us in the beginning though.

Try your best to carry out the commands while on earth.
These commandments will bring closer to the Lord.

Farewell

Justice

Ani: I know that you believe all that has happened, but it's very hard for me to believe all these events even though it's been right before my eyes. I mean, you shouldn't expect everyone to believe everything that has happened. In the case of the queen of sun, how could God allow such injustice to happen to someone by the way of black magic?

Guardian: there is no need for everyone to believe everything they hear. Furthermore, the words of great people like the prophets are not believed by everyone, let alone us.

Now, let's get to your question; are you questioning God's justice and fairness?

Ani: no, not at all.

Guardian: well, it seems that way. The important points when judging an argument between two people is that you must hear both sides of their stories and their witnesses and also do a thorough investigation regarding their claims.

Only then a judgment can be made. Don't you agree?

Ani: it makes sense the way you explain it; you're trying to say that we need all the information before making a judgment and we don't have all the facts about the queen of the sun.

Guardian: no, I'm trying to say that we don't have all the information about human beings in general.

Ani: can you please stick to my question?

Guardian: I think it's important to know everything about the human being before moving on to something else; do I get to continue?

Ani: I guess so.

Guardian: let me ask you a question; could you know the whole story of a 500 page novel if you rip a page from the middle of the book?

Say in that page you read about the scene of a vicious struggle between Jack and Dave which eventually ends with Dave killing Jack. Can you say for certain that Dave is the evil killer who murdered the innocent Jack?

What if Dave was the police and Jack a serial killer? So as you can see making a judgment with very little information can lead to false presumptions.

Ani: are you saying that our lives are like written books?

Guardian: of course not. I'm saying that our life is like a book which we write and we're still writing it and no one knows if we're in the beginning, middle or the end of the book as no one can determine a beginning or an end for life besides God.

Obviously, all the pages of this book are related to each other and an important fact is that our birth, life and death are only a page in this book.

Now, can you really say all that happened to the queen of the sun was God's justice or unjust oppression on an innocent person?

Ani: are you saying that what happened to her were the consequences of her own actions similar to the law of karma?

Guardian: well, it's a fact that we're responsible for our actions and the things that happen to us, but I'm talking about the entire book rather than focusing on that page only.

Ani: I'm very confused now; what are you trying to say?

Guardian: I told you that this birth, life and death, is only a page in this book. This present life is only one page in these pages. So instead of focusing on this one life only, we should look at its entirety.

Ani: let me think for a while.

Guardian: I'll keep quiet so that you can think. Just remember that between eternity when we made a pact with God and reaffirmed His Lordship and our present birth and life, there's a gap. Where were we during this period? What were we doing?

Ani: now I understand; you want to say that we've had other stories and adventures before our birth and they would continue after our death.

Guardian: exactly, these are the stories that are written in the other pages of this book.

I think we've discussed enough on this matter; we should get back to the time net room and find out more pieces of the puzzle.

Ani: no, please stop; things are already very confusing as they are. Let's not add more to the unknown and try to clarify the issues on hand.

Guardian: the pages before our birth are about our previous lives and things we did in the distant past; this is called destiny which determines our present situation to a degree.

Of course, our life is determined by two factors, our destiny and our thoughts. Thus you can see that not everything in life is fate or destiny. The pages after our death will be written later on and are influenced by our present actions.

Basically, all that happen to us are the result of our own actions.

Ani: that's very hard to accept.

Guardian: knowing something is very different from understanding it. Anyways, are you ready for time net room?

Ani: yes I am, but before that can you explain to me how you leave your body and the story of you destroying those epigraphs.

Guardian: that's something that I cannot reveal, it's a secret.

Ani: I think you're exaggerating your case; what secret? Are you kidding me? There are zillions of books out there which talk about your so called secrets. Maybe they were secrets a thousand years ago, not now.

Guardian: it's not really like that; sometimes if you reveal something you're not supposed to, you can cause damage and make the situation worse than it already is. Every word has its own place and right timing makes a huge difference.

When it comes to divine knowledge, there's a battle between light and darkness, good and evil and knowledge against ignorance. Therefore, when certain discoveries have been made in regards to divine knowledge, the capacity of the people at that time determines if they can have access to that knowledge.

Otherwise, knowing this information can cause damage to the individuals due to lack of capacity in understanding.

However, sometimes there are certain issues understandable to majority of people which could harm the balance of power in politicians and governments. In other words, if people found out the truth, foundations of power and tyrants could collapse and that's why the oppressors would do anything to hide truth and maintain power.

Thus, they executed, murdered and prosecuted individuals who had broke the code of silence and had started to spread the truth; their revelations and knowledge were like weapons which could shatter the dark forces and they feared such people the most.

If these heroes wanted power and wealth, they would have been given everything of luxury and comfort. However, their integrity and honor wouldn't budge and they were ready to sacrifice their most precious assets, their life for the truth to be known. This has happened numerously in our history; individuals like Mansour Halaaj, Sohrevardi, Socrates and many others all over the world.

Ani, people are divided into four groups when faced with the words of truth:

Healthy group- people who are capable of understanding the truth and try to protect and spread it even if it costs them their lives;

Oppressors- people who understand and believe the truth but fight to destroy it as it endangers their profits and interests.

Indifferent group- people who care about nothing and are indifferent to the events that happen around them;

Opportunists- these people are only after their interests and well being and don't care about anything else. They accept anything that suits their selfish gains. For example if their interest lies in water being black, they'll bring hundred and one proofs that water is black and that it's been black since the beginning.

Ani: could you give an example of the last group?

Guardian: alright, let me tell you about a story which has a moral lesson along with some humor.

The story: there was a smart mullah who had a large party at his house one night. Since he had many guests and not enough pots to cook food, he went to his next door neighbor and borrowed a very large pot.

After the party he washed the pot very nicely and put a very small pot inside it and returned it to the neighbor. The neighbor looked inside the pot and asked 'what is this small pot?'

The mullah smiled and said 'fortunately, while cooking your large pot gave birth and this is the baby. So it belongs to you as you're the owner'.

The neighbor thought to himself what a retard this guy is and smiled knowingly and said 'well thank you so much; has there been any costs for the birth and all that? If there is, I can pay you right now'.

The mullah said 'no, the birth was natural and had no expenses'.

So he said goodbye to the neighbor and left. Some time passed and the mullah had another large party at his house and once again he went to the neighbor and asked if he could have the large pot again as he has many guests.

The neighbor became happy and thought his foolish neighbor would give one more small pot when returning the large pot.

After a few days had passed and there was no news of his pot and its baby, the neighbor went to the mullah's house and asked for his pots.

Suddenly the mullah took out his handkerchief and started crying and said 'oh, what misfortune! The poor pot was very young but it died while giving birth'.

The angry neighbor said 'what nonsense are you talking about? You think I'm a fool like you, pots don't give birth you retard'.

The mullah replied 'how come it could the last time? When you received the small pot, everything was possible and now it's not! Well, face it; one who gives birth can also die while giving birth'.

End of the story

Now you see how such people operate; when nonsense is profitable for them, they'll accept any kind of lies.

If it's alright with you, we go to the time net room and get more information about the queen of sun and wizard's epigraphs.

Ani: sure, only if you promise to tell me about your out of the body travels.

Guardian: I promise to reveal to you all that I know whenever you're ready.

Ani: fine, let's go.

White eagle: hello.

Guardian: our warm regards to you.

White eagle: tonight we're going to observe some scenes from the past. Which scenes would you like to visit?

Guardian: the story of epigraphs and the queen is still very confusing for me.

White eagle: alright, are you ready to enter the past?

Guardian: yes, we are.

The scene

A young, beautiful girl is combing her hair in a palace. In another place someone is talking to a black magician. In the next scene, the young girl is beheaded.

Guardian: who does this scene belong to?

White eagle: the headless body belongs to a beautiful Aryan lady who was the victim of a conspiracy. With the work you did in the garden, her spirit which was wandering between Egypt and India returned to the place where it belonged. Her ancestor was Cyrus, the great and her name was the queen of sun.

Guardian: I don't get it, can we see the queen?

White eagle: yes, maybe she contacts you herself.

Guardian: what are these spells and epigraphs?

White eagle: I had told you previously about an upcoming trip to Africa. The reason was to find a way to get rid of spells which were cast long time ago. Wealth thirsty individuals used such means for satanic purposes. The dimensions of the epigraphs were 3 by 4 centimeters.

Guardian: so you mean those epigraphs were the original source and other magicians copied them.

White eagle: yes.

Guardian: what happened to the queen?

White eagle: after passing away from your world, she was able to marry the man she loved. This was because the spell was so strong that it even worked in this world.

Anyways, we the members of congress wish the best for you and hope that you continue your progress. Evil doers will continue with their evil intentions and you must always pay attention.

We approve of your duties on earth and encourage your positive steps.

Lady Jones says that we should all work together for the promotion of the human spirit.

In a distant past you had an obligation in the space; we're glad that you've found your obligation on earth as well.

You were misled from your path and this was in the commandment; support and guidance from the great ones began as soon as you became aware of your situation.

You should be reminded to destroy the remaining spells on the epigraphs and that needs time. Love and show of affection is needed in your family, between you, your wife and the children.

God and his friends love you and that's why you didn't end up like the queen of sun.

The effects of the spells must end very soon; only when your previous issues are solved, we can move forward and we shall guide you to the path.

The energies that a human being emits must be controlled so that they can be used when necessary.

The above mentioned subjects are comprehensible.

Farewell

Destructive forces

Ani: I don't get it; he says everything that has happened is understandable. I'm very confused and don't understand any of them.

Guardian: I'm the same; give me some time so I can think about all these.

Ani: 'certain forces that keep you away from yourself!' what does this mean?

Guardian: these forces are called destructive forces.

Ani: could you explain more about them?

Guardian: I'll have to divide them into four groups.

The first and foremost destructive force is ignorance which is within the human being and it's his biggest enemy.

Anything that has three dimensions of length, width and height also has a shadow and occupies space; this is called matter.

The second one is matter which has a very strong attraction like sex or the physical body, cars, money, property and so on. Of course, we don't denounce matter and don't recommend refraining from it. Without matter life is impossible; we say instead of us being the servant of matter (materialistic) we should conquer matter and make it serve us.

Most human beings become the prisoner of matter quickly and serve it till the end of their lives; they accumulate things which are not transferable to the next world.

Third is corrupt and immoral individuals; interaction with such people is dangerous and could lead one's life towards destruction. Individuals who are inhuman, cruel, jealous and ignorant; they make bad friends.

The last kind of destructive forces is the force that exists in the universe and feed its clients through inspiration. Its leader is Satan and its army, the dark forces. They're working exactly the opposite of the good forces and inspire vices for the appropriate candidates.

It's now time for our next meeting in the time net room.

Ani: let's go.

Candle light

Time net room

White eagle: why don't you start the meeting?

Guardian: when you told me if I want I can continue the mission, what exactly do you mean by that? Have I done something wrong that you keep asking about my intentions? I've said many times that I want to continue no matter what.

White eagle: we repeat everything so that you gradually understand our plan; you should not get upset. This process must continue like the purification of your corona. Do you understand?

Guardian: slowly.

White eagle: you should pay attention to many things on earth including your financial affairs; that would give you freedom of movement and speed. We hope that you do your best and achieve positive results. Do you have any more questions?

Guardian: why are my out of the body experiences incomplete? When I return to my body, I'm not in control of the situations.

White eagle: be patient; you have other eyes. When it's time, the scenes themselves will come to you. Don't push yourself.

Guardian: alright, I guess the answer to all my questions is patience and more patience. How is Lady Jones? Your Persian has improved a lot.

White eagle: she's doing very well; she has helped me immensely in my learning. She also focuses on grammar; Persian language is somewhat different from other languages.

Hopefully you can open up the epigraphs one by one and remember the main goal. You have a choice in everything you do and as you make good choices along the way, you start to feel much better about yourself. We've been invited for a coffee at someplace and this meeting involves planning for earth and its Ani:.

We have a responsibility towards the newcomers of our universe along with individuals who think like us on earth. Your mission is your responsibility on earth. Is there any question?

Guardian: what can I do to make my parents happy?

White eagle: they're worried for you; you must overcome the present crisis.

Guardian: which crisis?

White eagle: we're like a candle that lights up the path; the rest depends on your reason and willpower which enable you to reach the source of light.

Guardian: I would like to see more of the other universes.

White eagle: seeing does not improve your believing; there are some stains in your corona which hinder your vision. Observing sceneries that do not exist in your dimension won't solve any of your problems.

The main power lies in your reason and thinking; with that you can go anywhere you want.

Guardian: how can we improve our power of reasoning?

White eagle: peace and serenity of the mind improves thinking and reason.

We're constantly trying to help those who think and talk like us on the path of righteousness; today we shall take to new places.

Are ready for the trip?

Guardian: yes, we are ready.

White eagle: we will explain some of the scenes and the rest will be explained by Ani upon returning.

Describing the scene

Most of the scenes are similar to earth with slight differences; in one scene Ani got scared when crossing through an opening.

When she passed through she reached a vast source of oil; then she flew over cliffs and mountains which resemble virtues. She then saw the same river, the symbol of purity and the objective which should be achieved; the house resembles your aim and the things that you need to build for the future.

Lady Jones says 'calm people choose to interact with calm people'. The silence of the cliffs resembles your internal state.

We hope you remain cheerful always and progress as we want you to; in a few minutes Ani will come back to her body.

Farewell

Guardian: tell me about the whole journey.

Ani: I was transported to a vast dessert in a half conscious state; I stopped at an opening in the ground and went through it. I was moving at a very high speed under the ground and I was scared. Deep into the earth, I saw large animals such as dinosaurs and other mammoths and they disappeared into the wall as soon as I moved towards them.

I continued downwards with a high speed and I dove into a deep oil well; I tried to get out but it was very slippery. I felt someone beside me all the time.

Afterwards, I leaped out of the earth and flied over mountains and cliffs; finally I saw a beautiful house by a river shinning like a diamond.

Guardian: how would you describe the other universes?

Ani: I was scared at first but they were very interesting. Where are these places?

Guardian: I'm not sure exactly; some of these places are presently on earth and others are not easy to locate. As far as I know universes are within one another; for instance, where we're standing now could be several universes.

As you know the whole universe and galaxies is just one universe namely the physical universe. However, everything that is ever created, each and every moment of our lives and creation are kept and recorded in the archives or nature's memory and access to these records require special permit.

Hesitation

White eagle: I hope you are both well and that you have contemplated on the experiences and the recent visions.

Guardian: I'm constantly contemplating but I feel some issues have become stagnant.

White eagle: things are stagnant because of your lack of organization and mental unpreparedness. Furthermore, passing through the extreme temperatures of 60 degrees below zero is the task which is required of you. Do you think that we've forgotten about your main problem (drug addiction)?

Guardian: I wanted to say that I'm facing confusions in my work and personal life; I didn't mean our communication is deteriorating. If this training and interaction wasn't in my life, God knows where I'd be.

White eagle: you have hesitation about the general direction of your life. You have no planning when it comes to your work and this laziness and inactivity involves the other areas of your life as well.

Be responsible for your actions and attempt to solve your crisis. Gather all your strengths and will power and aim for the positive outcome.

I swear upon God that there is no place for the dark forces in the universe.

We're dealing with people that only understand the language of reason. You have a difficult road ahead and must be prepared.

Goodbye

Ani: looks like the master gave you a harsh lecture.

Guardian: I guess he wanted to give me a shock and it was a bad one as well. The whole week I was thinking about my horrible conditions and how bad things are. I don't even know where to start; they talk as if I must carry out an important mission. Although I can see their points I still can't believe all that is happening.

We must go back to the time net room for some more answers.

The deepest point

Time net room

11pm

31/01/1993

White eagle: I hope that you have taken the necessary steps.

Guardian: I will do my best.

White eagle: we must familiarize you with the wonders of universe, while awake and in sleep. Do you know how a human can fly without a plane? How he takes off and flies through the clouds?

You have slowly distanced yourself from your inner fears; the scenes that were shown to you are supposed to motivate your beliefs and enhance your flight.

Guardian: the images and the scenes are incredibly valuable. Unfortunately, I can't understand the meaning in all of them.

White eagle: the important thing is to regain the lost past. Do you understand?

Guardian: not really.

White eagle: who can you find that has achieved high status in serving humanity within a short time?

You are at a stage where a higher purpose is within your reach; we've made a pact with you and your wife to leave something precious for posterity.

Both of you have grown impatient lately; with God's grace this shall pass also and you will regain your momentum.

Pay attention to the following guidelines:

1-organize your plans accordingly.

2-continue your worship of God.

3-try to make peace with your past and learn from it;

Reading books and exercise in concentration can help you a lot. Consistency and hard work will definitely bring in the victory.

Guardian: what's the meaning of an opening like a window?

White eagle: it resembles the beginning of realization, knowing yourself and your guide. It's an entrance into a new dimension so as to arrive at the deepest point where you belong.

Guardian: can we have a trip together tonight? If it's possible to travel to a sacred place as Ani is feeling very sad these days.

White eagle: fine, please get ready.

Silence...!

White eagle: there are three tombs in this place.

The tomb of our liaison is also there; he is of the pure ones and your guide as well.

There are also three leaders who belong to almost one thousand years ago.

We have to go. You will succeed in your mission; stay healthy and increase your mental abilities.

How does an eagle hunt? He preys on them with piercing eyes and tremendous speed.

Can you hear the scream?

Guardian: yes, who is it?

White eagle: it's a lady with big eyes; she's angry at you and your wife; tall and very kind.

This belongs to your mum, pane.

We're more than ten people here.

Farewell

Complementing forces

Ani: I'm still thinking about the destructive forces; all the miseries and misfortunes that happen to us are caused by them. I have a question.

Guardian: I'll try my best.

Ani: couldn't God prevent these forces from harming us or stop their activities?

In fact why did God allow Satan to trick Adam and Eve into eating the forbidden fruit? What was that fruit?

Why all these miseries have to happen so that many prophets have to come to fix it? If there was no Satan we all could leave peacefully and happily ever after and all these sufferings didn't have to take place.

Ani: slow down dear, you're going too fast. Instead of one question I think you asked about nine. Do you have any more questions?

Ani: I think that would it.

Guardian: alright, the great architect designed his creation on the basis of the opposites. I guess in the beginning which no one knows when, he started this game so that the players (humans) become better as time goes and turn into experts.

The rule is that everything is understood by its opposite; we understand light as the opposite of darkness. The four elements that make up the creation are the opposite of each other; earth, wind, water and fire. Today we're witnessing this opposite element along with the complementing factor.

Basically every phenomena is realized by its opposite; pain in contrast to joy, night in contrast to day, black against white, war and peace, fear and bravery and life as the opposite of death.

One of the main obstacles in understanding God is our lack of knowledge about his manner of operation or running the affairs of creation; that's because we don't have the opposite of God, we can't see God and realize him the way he is.

Ani: isn't Satan or evil the opposite of God?

Guardian: no, Satan is God's creation and cannot be an opponent of God.

We can say that Satan hinders the progress of mankind and plays a deceptive role. He has a mission to test man's sincerity and love for God and separate the real from the fake.

Even Satan is having a hard time accepting his duty and complains from time to time.

Ani: he complains?

Guardian: yes, Rumi has described this pain in one of his famous poems.

*Listen now to the reed flute trilling tales
Of separation. Hear the way it wails:*

"Since I was hewn from Reedland, I've begun weeping with humankind in unison.

*I seek torn bosoms. To them I explain
How I am torn from my love, torn in pain.*

*All things uprooted from the land remain
Athirst for union with the source again.*

*In every league of life, I sang my pangs,
Both among happy crowds and hapless gangs.*

*Their own thoughts were the thing they loved me for.
They would not seek the secret that I bore.*

*My secret was not separate from my cries
But was sequestered from mere ears and* eyes.

*Not soul from skin nor skin from soul is sealed
Yet none may ever see the soul revealed.*

*Not wind, but fire blows song through my piped heart.
May all who lack that fire be blown apart.*

*The fire that makes the reed repine is love.
The ferment ripening the wine is love."*

*This reed flute soothes all sundered lovers' pain.
True minds need not refrain from its refrain.*

*What poison ever cures beside the reed's?
What crazed love reassures beside the reed's?*

This reed flute trills tales of a love-obsessed Madman of legend on his bloodstained quest.

*The lovelost find the meaning here alone.
That tongue speaks to a certain ear alone.*

*As days slipped off to evenings in our sorrow
We burned and yearned through every hot tomorrow.*

*But though the days slip off, You will endure
And matter more, Inimitably Pure.*

*Only the fish forever drink the seas.
A life by bread alone brings longer days.*

*No raw mind can see through a ripe mind's eye,
So let us talk no more of this. Goodbye.*

-Rumi-

Ani: what's this poem got to do with Satan?

Guardian: well, it might be a bit hard to understand his perception, but remember that we're looking at the matter from the top of the hierarchy in creation and its complementing aspects; otherwise our number one enemy is Satan and his evil ways. I'm not endorsing Satan in any way.

Furthermore, God told Satan to bow down to Adam who knew all the names and attributes and not any human being who is enslaved by his selfish desires.

Ani: why does Satan want to deceive us?

Guardian: to prevent us from reaching our destination; to make us go astray and lose the right path.

Ani: our destination?

Guardian: the point from which we have started our journey, the journey of evolution, divine progress and arriving at paradise. We have to go deep into the darkness so that we can truly appreciate the greatness of light.

Ani: what is the tree?

Guardian: it's an example and it's trying to illustrate a point here. The problem is that we mistake the example with the real objective most of the time. Adam and Eve were told not to eat the fruits of the vice tree, meaning not to mingle with bad creatures so as to prevent picking up all kinds of vices.

Misinterpretations have led to false understanding of the moral of such stories and the main point has been missed out.

Ani: so you're saying that all creatures are divided into two groups, good and bad or vice and virtue? And we have to stay away from vices, is that it?

Guardian: exactly, if you choose good and decent company you will prosper and progress and vice versa.

There are many proverbs in every culture which promote good company and circle of friends and warn of bad friends.

Ani: is transformation possible, from bad into good?

Guardian: yes, because human being is constantly changing. There have been many cruel individuals who changed their ways of thinking and living and turned into better people. That's why it's said God guides individuals from darkness into light and his grace includes everything and everyone.

Ani: how about the other way round?

Guardian: darkness has no existence of its own; it comes about due to lack of light. As soon as a sparkle of light comes in darkness disappears. In other words, when there is light no amount of darkness can destroy it. Lack of knowledge leads to ignorance; when one gains wisdom in something ignorance moves out.

However, knowledge is not the same as literacy and wisdom differs from academic education. Many educated people cannot treat their family with love and dignity and lack wisdom in many aspects of their lives.

Measure of knowledge and wisdom is not literacy or education; exterior appearance does not reveal the inner attribute.

Ani: let's get back to the destructive forces; are you saying that they're playing a complementing role in our universe? That this is necessary and it's the way God wanted it?

Guardian: that's exactly the way it is; as a wise sage once said 'how did I know that the mother of all joys is suffering and every misery contains valuable treasures'.

Therefore, without the existence of negative forces evolution is impossible, joy is meaningless and appreciation of God's bounties impractical. Although they are human beings number one enemy and we must always be aware of them, the great architect has chosen an important complementary role for them and they play a constructive role in creation.

How could you deny God?

He raised you from dead, took your life and once again revived you so that you shall return to him.

Oath

White eagle: with continuation of efforts and activity, a strong foundation is built and together with proper planning the goal can be achieved.

Reason governs itself in the path of evolution whereas spirit with its unique gentleness leads the reason.

Come with us to places that you've never seen them even in your dreams.

All the particles in space are filled with a hidden knowledge not visible by the physical eyes.

Mankind must know that his existence is not only to eat, sleep, work and reproduce. Knowledge and wisdom are the key to humanity's salvation.

We have much to do in the future; we'll leave you alone with yourself, pay attention so that the mice won't find the escape route to the valley.

We remind you of what the mountains do.

Look for plant in the hills and the valleys.

However, remember two things:

1-avoid plants that have thorn.

2-do not eat plants that have thorn.

(Explanation by the author: I think avoiding plants that have thorn means plants like hemp, cannabis, coca leave and poppy that are the ingredients for certain narcotics. This was the beginning of an understanding which would lead to a movement that redeems many humans across the world; the journey from darkness towards light.)

We've been very patient so as to eventually watch your progress and success. We want to create a thinking point in you so that you tap into your hidden source of strength within you.

Do not lose hope and keep your spirit high; be very careful in your communication with earth.

Evolution is not possible unless all obstacles are overcome.

Guardian: how is Lady Jones?

White eagle: she went to a place in Africa.

Guardian: I've got to know someone named Raad (thunder). He has a very interesting character. Do you have any information about him?

White eagle: you must find him; he can help you a lot in your work. We've also been busy with a song here; there's a very good piano here and we're working on a song. We have all the equipments that we need right here.

Lady Jones is satisfied about your journey; white eagle can assist you in crucial matters.

God will reveal the path to those who abide by the truth.

Prepare yourself to enter a scene.

Guardian: alright.

The scene

There's a large, beautiful piano and someone is playing it; there are two rows of young boys and girls standing. They're singing the song of congress.

The scene changes;

A slender, white horse is going very fast; it is guided by a green light. This is your horse, Kamand.

The scene changes again.

Two huge birds are poking three heads that are cut off; blood is dripping on the white wings of the birds.

These scenes are about the future which will definitely take place.

End of the scene

White eagle: the destructive forces have lost once again to the righteous forces; try your best to improve your life.

Guardian: what's the meaning of the second scene?

White eagle: it's about an old woman who had to guide you; the heads resemble the dead from the past.

Do not be surprised about the events that have happened or will happen in the future. It's the way of the creator and you must contemplate deeply about the events.

Guardian: does this spell belong to someone else?

White eagle: no, it was only for you and your small family and you have destroyed it on your journey.

You must be very happy about this as the path has become clear. Lady Jones says 'your desire and our effort have resulted in great achievements'.

No effort goes unnoticed on the condition that it would be with a purpose and precise planning.

You must continue your battle and pave the way; overcome the calamities and reach out for the sky.

We're also working hard here and it's no holiday for us. Everyone that is in the space is aware of this.

Let's try everything to get to the depth of the earth or space; the objective is important. We won't leave you and we're always with you.

The last stage

Time net room

02/08/1993

The last stage in the grooming of the body is the command of the mind and the reason. Upon transfer (death) contemplation creates virtual images.

White eagle: You have to arrive at the command. You should have walked this path earlier; you have been given the permission to do so. Try to pass through the gap of time.

A rotating circle requires a centre like our congress; we travel everywhere and still we come back to our dimension. When you admire a forest from a distance, you lack practical knowledge about it. You have to go deep down into the woods.

Guardian: there's a lot of difference between the appearance and the depth within; a dead person and a live person look the same but have different meaning.

White eagle: good, you're slowly getting the point. Stay the course and become a warrior in your battles. We'll try to awaken you through insights and inspirations.

We showed you many events so that you do not make the old mistakes again.

We spoke more than we should have since they were beyond your understanding and earthly memory. You are familiar with the particles of space and infinity.

We arrive from a point to an ocean and from an ocean to another point.

Thereafter we're not in a visible form.

However, traversing all these ways can fit into a point.

You must contemplate.

Lady Jones and the judge say that we should be victorious in two games.

First, childhood stage when we're unconscious but it remains in our ego.

The second is playing in awareness.

We should pay more attention to the second game.

This beginning is prior to the existence of the point.

The point is condensed and the ocean, a sea of training and perfection.

When you receive the waves from a transmitter, you can emit the waves to other waves.

We don't have and then, we own; and once again, nothing.

However, that nothing is different from the past. Perception, reason and trainings remain in the point and can be controlled at times like our connection.

You ask how the past remains.

The waves are like colorful strings and each is for a specific issue. You will face immense difficulty in your work, but it's very insignificant in the bigger scale of creation. Do not have any fear and stand tall against the challenges.

Do you have a question?

Guardian: I must really think about all these that you mentioned; I want to ask about something else. In my out of the body experiences and when I'm travelling to a specific place, I go through the past. Why is that?

White eagle: do you mean a very distant past or before birth?

Guardian: before this birth.

White eagle: you are passing through places that you have seen before and still exist in space. While in flight you can see everywhere and if you focus, you can definitely arrive at your intended destination.

The returnees

Time net room

18/07/1993

White eagle: previously, we talked to you of beyond and infinite so that you can grasp the unlimited boundaries of the Lord; so that you can understand that these things are not imagination or dreams. We're glad that you realize our presence with your understanding.

Sitting at the graves and mourning the death won't solve anything. Your protectors are with you; don't let multi cellular creatures that live like a mono cellular creature make you the prey of their personal desires. You are from the righteous generation and must reclaim your original status.

Guardian: what do you mean by mono cellular creature?

White eagle: a mono cellular creature lives in a limited cytoplasm space with a corona around it and multi cellular creatures cannot live in this manner.

Selfish and egoistic human beings live in this manner. However, every human being can continue life with training alongside others and this enables closeness to creation.

What is lacking in your environment is this ancient knowledge that is hidden under black curtains; in the science of acceptance of the beyond and existence of humans after death, there seems to be no progress.

Not everyone is thirsty for the real knowledge and some have come across it accidentally. Our connection is not a game and you must pay attention to the past trainings; if you are detail oriented you can achieve the optimum results.

We want to proceed in the direction of discovering the unknowns of the universe so as to expand the level of awareness and knowledge of the humanity. Because an individual who is a believer knows that life is not only the appearance and the surface; he knows that his creation has a purpose to it.

We're very happy to be in contact with goal oriented individuals and they are the tools of our objective.

These contacts are for the betterment of all humans in your realm; positive steps for the future.

This method is taking place in all dimensions of life and you're role is instrumental. Given the success you have had in our trials we're certain of the successful outcome.

“Science always arrives from nothingness to existence and vice versa”

Question: how does everything come into existence?

The first step for this is an idea, a thought and the process of contemplation alongside the forces of inspiration, revival and motion.

That’s why in the beginning everything is like the blank sheet of a drawing paper.

Thereafter, things gradually appear and from the depths of existence come the good, bad, beautiful and ugly; then once again with one move everything disappears. The only thing that remains is that which you cannot see since we all have not achieved that ability yet. We have to create it in our beings which we’re not able to see and constantly try to find them.

Guardian: upon transfer after death, does the human being continue on as he was in life? I mean if he was a laborer and had a hard life of suffering, would this be the same in the next life?

White eagle: that’s an interesting question and the answer requires contemplation.

In the next realm you can imagine any thought or situation and have it available instantaneously on the condition you have lived a decent life on earth; we told you of the conditions.

However, if you leave earth in your current condition you will continue on your habit and you will lead a repetitious life.

The main thing is what you leave behind; work hard and value everything. No one can be an expert in all areas; it's better to become expert in one area than doing everything halfway.

Do you understand?

Guardian: yes.

White eagle: we're awaiting your progress so that you can gain more bliss in your life.

The destiny is written yet changeable and that's the where the real test lies in; in order to prevent useless returns and proceed with valuable researches, we contact individuals who use reason upon divine command so as to avoid the mass of the returnees.

For your awareness, each of us displays scenes of creation like the flowing sands, strong winds and scattering of the sand similar to the intertwined circles.

The nature on earth seems stationary unlike the other realm; you might think as to how all these creatures can be located in a closed space.

This is food for thought and discoverable.

Perfection of each human being is equal to leaving that universe for good.

Every place that God has created by his own will has a ruler chosen by him.

For learning, there is no time limit.

You must prepare yourself for this battle and do your best to improve the situation.

“Science is not sophisticated, every door has a key.”

Science and its survival have been proven in you; may speed, motion and bounty enhance your evolution.

“Breaking of the mirror is also necessary.”

Farewell

Leave him be

Ani: why are you laughing? I'm lost with all these information; I'm just trying to grasp as to what's happening?

Guardian: that's why I'm laughing! I also remembered a humorous story which I'll share with you.

This story is about a famous scholar and philosopher named Mirdamadi. The materials that he produced, lectured and discussed were very sophisticated and not many could understand his language.

Anyways, he passes away and goes to the next world. Angels who came to confiscate asked him the regular question, who is your Lord?

He replied 'mumbo jumbo'. I mean literally some absurd, abstract philosophical terms which I summarized as mumbo jumbo.

Obviously the angels didn't understand what he's saying and asked him again. After getting the same reply, they went around and asked other angels if they knew what those words meant.

Since no one knew the meaning they went to God and asked God about the man.

After their explanations, God asked for the man's name and they replied 'Mirdamadi'.

God laughed and said 'I know him; during his life I never understood a thing he said so just leave him be'.

So that's kind of like our story and the things master Silver is telling us; what can I say?

The ego

The creator of the form

Ani: I think you should explain some of the things that were said.

Guardian: tell me your question and I'll share with you my own take on the information.

Ani: what's the meaning of 'from a point we arrive at the ocean and vice versa and then we're not visible'?

Guardian: the geometrical definition of a point is something that has no height, no width and no length.

The ego or self is defined as something that determines the existence in the exterior and the interior.

In other words, prior to a tree wanting to create its structure some other external factor enters the seed of the plant which is not from this material world. This thing is from the beyond and if its information and awareness is in the level of a plant, it creates a plant; if it's in the level of animal, it creates an animal. Eventually a human comes into existence; this thing is generally called a spirit or a soul; however we think that ego or self is different from spirit.

This ego in the physical world has no height, width and length and it's similar to a point. The ego enters a cell which could also be compared to a point.

Thus, a cell is a point and when the human structure is complete, this point has turned into billions of cells. This is the comparison of the point to the ocean and its continuation is our evolution; upon death the ocean of the physical body perishes and the ego or self gets separated and no one is able to see it in the physical realm.

So we're not in the physical body anymore and invisible. However, as an independent creature we continue our existence in another circle of creation.

Every creature that steps into this world is seen as a point by us; because we cannot see the ego without a form or a body. Thus it's nothing; when it dies and the physical form perishes, it's also nothing. However, this nothing and that original nothing in the beginning are not the same even though they are both nothing. The second nothing has received numerous trainings and education, some positive and some negative and he is the owner of this information. The realization of the trainings and awareness remain in the point and could be of use to creation.

Ani: what do you mean by internal and external attribute?

Guardian: when anything exists in this physical realm, whether plant or animal or human being, everyone can see it. This is called determining of existence externally. However, the ego does not perish with the death of the form and continues on living except its invisibility to us. This is called determining of existence internally.

When we're sleeping, the ego or self leaves our physical body and experiences things in another way and their influence remain in our unconscious; that's why we don't remember them at all.

Of course, this external factor called self existed in all creatures in the very beginning, but has changed in the course of evolution and it differs for every creature depending on the level of their awareness.

Now, once again read what the great Rumi has to say about this.

Poem

THE PROGRESS OF MAN

*First he appeared in the realm inanimate;
Thence came into the world of plants and lived
The plant-life many a year, nor called to mind
What he had been; then took the onward way
To animal existence, and once more*

*Remembers naught of what life vegetive,
Save when he feels himself moved with desire
Towards it in the season of sweet flowers,
As babes that seek the breast and know not why.*

*Again the wise Creator whom thou knowest
Uplifted him from animality
To Man's estate; and so from realm to realm
Advancing, he became intelligent,
Cunning and keen of wit, as he is now.*

*No memory of his past abides with him,
And from his present soul he shall be changes.
Though he is fallen asleep, God will not leave him
In this forgetfulness. Awakened, he Will laugh to think what troublous dreams he had.*

*And wonder how his happy state of being
He could forget, and not perceive that all
Those pains and sorrows were the effect of sleep
And guile and vain illusion. So this world
Seems lasting, though 'tis but the sleepers' dream;*

*Who, when the appointed Day shall dawn, escapes
From dark imaginings that haunted him,*

*And turns with laughter on his phantom griefs
When he beholds his everlasting home.*

'Persian Poems', an Anthology of verse translations edited by A.J.Arberry, Everyman's Library, 1972

Ani: I have to think more about the poem; can you explain the ego or self more thoroughly?

Guardian: the ego or self that makes up a plant is different from the self that makes up an animal or a human being.

Ani: can they progress? I mean can the ego that makes up a bush or a tree proceed to be an eagle or a human being?

Guardian: to answer you short, yes. Of course, there are special conditions which I need to explain in detail later.

Ani: then what about genes and laws of genetic? What about all the information that is in the seed of a plant?

Guardian: genes concern the physical body only; yes, all the information about the structure of a plant is in its seed and they are related only to the physical aspects.

The ego or self of an eagle which is the driving force behind this creature is definitely different from farm chicken. Obviously, the eagle has had more training and experience than the farm chicken. Thus laws of genetic refer to the physical body only and the rest is determined by the past files or records.

Ani: what is the past files or records?

Guardian: it's the report card of previous trainings of other lives prior to this cycle of life which according to the command and desire returns to existence while maintaining the acquired information and awareness. You must think deeply about this.

Non-existence or existence

Ani: how about this sentence 'knowledge always goes from non-existence to existence and vice versa'.

Guardian: what about it?

Ani: how could there be knowledge in non-existence?

Guardian: what are you criteria for existence or non-existence of something?

Ani: obviously my five external senses.

Guardian: are you saying everything that exists in creation is visible and able to be perceived by our senses?

Ani: no, a lot of things are not seen.

Guardian: like what?

Ani: for example, colors. I think we're able to see from red to purple.

Guardian: you're right. We're no able to see lower than red which is called infrared and higher than purple, ultra violet.

However, if you wear the glasses equipped with ultra visions you can see those colors. Thus, other criteria can also determine existence or non-existence.

Ani: I guess you are right.

Guardian: in a dark room where nothing is visible you can say that there's nothing; but if you turn on the light suddenly everything in the room becomes visible.

Thus the famous saying of Shakespeare 'to be or not to be' depends on our senses and tools that can enhance our abilities further.

Ani: could you bring an example for the hearing sense?

Guardian: sure, bring me a radio.

Ani: here you are. Let me turn it on.

Guardian: thanks. Can you hear an Arabic singing?

Ani: no, I can't hear anything.

Guardian: alright, I'm going to bring a sound from non-existence into existence. Wait until I tune to the Arabic station; right, here you go. Can you hear the song now?

Ani: yes, but you are forgetting the radio waves which are scattered in the air.

Guardian: you're right; this is because you are aware of their existence and it's normal to you. However, without a receiver or radio these waves were not detectible.

Ani: fine, you made your point.

Guardian: I'm just trying to say that what we think of as non-existence is actually a kind of existence itself; it's only unknown to us. Basically, anything that we don't see, hear, understand or touch is defined as non-existence by us.

Ani: you ignored the transmitting station of the radio waves which is in existence.

Guardian: you're right, but I mentioned it as an example and I agree; anything like that must have a transmitter. Sometimes we know the transmitter and sometimes we don't; we can only receive the waves.

Therefore, when Rumi says:

Slowly and gradually, the gathering of the intoxicated is arriving

The present ones are gone and the non-present ones are coming.

In the above poem, who are the non-present ones and where are they?

Maybe they are not here and are coming.

It's also possible that they are not in the physical realm and are about to come.

Let's have a look at the holy book of Quran and see what it has to say about this matter.

Divine planning does everything from the heavens till the earth and then everything goes up to him on the determined day which measures up to a thousand years of your counting.

Therefore, it's saying that the planning takes place somewhere not visible by our physical eyes; the results take place on earth and then, the conclusions return to that place which we call non-existence. It's the same as what was said:

'Knowledge always goes from non-existence to existence and vice versa'.

Or in the bible, Mathew chapter 18:

At every occasion we tell you that whatever you do on earth has been planned in the heavens.

Where is this heaven? Isn't it non-existence from our point of view?

Or in the bible, John chapter one:

Thus when he meaning the spirit of righteousness arrives, you all will be guided as he is not speaking on his own behalf.

Where is this spirit coming from?

Ani, there are thousands of signs in the holy books and words of the prophets and sages about the non-existence or a nowhere land. We must contemplate deeply about it and unravel the secrets and discover the inner core; then we can find answers to our many questions and superstition and ignorance will be immensely decreased.

Our thoughts, dreams and desires are not always the things that we want; in fact, they are the things that we don't see and don't want. This is because the present seems real to us whereas the truth is somewhere else.

Raad

A summary of what took place

Ani: it's been some time since the story of Arti and Antine and the queen of sun was discussed; don't you want to talk about their stories?

Guardian: alright, as you know the setting of the story is 1400 years ago in ancient Persia during the reign of the Sassanid dynasty; it is night and certain parts of the city are under fire. It is a rebellion and three individuals have been hired to kill a 13 year old boy named Arti and a 9 year old girl named Antine. They use the chaos in the city and under the cover of darkness they carry out their brutal attacks and murder them both.

They threw their half dead bodies into a river and they both drown in a horrible manner and are transported to another circle of existence. This was the scene that was described to us by Sardar in the time net room.

Now if you remember the night when a lady came down from the sky into the time net room and claimed to be the mother of Antine. She said that her daughter has returned to earth once again and her current name is Ani.

Thereafter, a man entered the time net room claiming to be the father of Arti and said that his son also has returned to earth and his current name is Hossein. From then onwards a series of discussions and interactions took place between the parents of Arti, Pane and Pakrobad and Antine's mother, Antina with us Ani and Hossein in another world.

Now, the queen of the sun and her story;

The scene

A young, beautiful girl is combing her hair in a palace. In another place someone is talking to a black magician. In the next scene, the young girl is beheaded.

Guardian: who does this scene belong to?

White eagle: the headless body belongs to a beautiful Aryan lady who was the victim of a conspiracy. With the work you did in the garden, her spirit which was wandering between Egypt and India returned to the place where it belonged. Her ancestor was Cyrus, the great and her name was the queen of sun.

As you know my beloved Ani, events happen at a sudden, quick pace and in a very short time we witness many important scenes from history. The queen was a beautiful young princess and a descendant of Cyrus, the great.

In a conspiracy, she was kidnapped and beheaded; her head was sent to Egypt and mummified, her body to India. It is obvious the people who did this to her believed in life after death as the spells which they cast on her in addition to separating her headless body made her stranded in between two worlds for a very long time.

It definitely seems an expert job by a black magician and whole bunch of strong spells to finish off the queen for good.

This is about all that we know for now. While on one of my out of the body trips and encounters I dug out several epigraphs and destroyed them alongside destroying a spell on earth. Following this the queen was finally freed and able to marry her beloved in another realm.

Hopefully we can find out more about the queen and those ruthless individuals who committed these horrible acts. It might take some time but one day, somewhere in this world any inhumane atrocities shall be revealed and perpetrators punished.

Stable pillars

Ani: when you started to write this book, White Eagle; you said that it would be just one volume; the same as your other book 'Crossing the zone 60 degrees below zero'.

Up to now, there's been so much and you say things are just starting; could you tell me how much more are you going to go?

Guardian: when the pen calls me I obey and it's the pen that leads me on; by the time I come to my senses I realize that that the damage has been done and the intoxicated pen has spread his ink all over the place.

Ani: how could you be joking when the situation is so serious?

Guardian: life is filled with laughter and sadness; the story of the queen is so tragic that sorrow is not enough for me. You see animals don't laugh or cry and that's the difference with us humans.

It's also necessary to establish the words of the masters on stable pillars; phrases such as spirit, ego, self, sense, love, reason, faith, destiny, heaven, hell, life after death, non-existence, freewill, angel, ghost...maybe there should be thousands of pages written for everyone of these words and still, there would be doubts and confusions.

Why are they difficult to understand? That's because we don't know the alphabets of understanding and yet we want to read and write immediately.

I'm trying to learn the alphabets of understanding first and then try to go deep into the core.

For example when I hear the word hell, I imagine it to be a place where sinners are burned eternally or just deny it ever exists. However, burning of human beings in hell is a comparison or an example.

Ani: believing this story is really difficult for me.

Guardian: this story is gradually making sense to me and I'm starting to believe it, but I don't expect everyone to believe everything they read here.

Let's not put any pressure on each other as to whether this story is real or not and just focus on the valuable lessons it has for us. It would be very important if we just re-examine many of our beliefs and views towards creation, God and existence. This would be the beginning of a logical and reasonable change rather than denying everything.

Ani: your argument sounds quite reasonable.

Guardian: why quite?

Ani: because we're dealing with an issue which is undetectable by our five senses. That's why I say quite.

Guardian: good, you are thinking more these days before talking; wise people always think before speaking.

Incantation and magic

Ani: can you talk about magic, spell and incantation briefly?

Guardian: magic and super natural has a special place in every culture in this world. We should focus our discussion more on facts than superstition. If you travel to any city in our country or even in the world, you can definitely find a magician, an exorcist or a fortuneteller. This has gone to the extent that kings and high officials of some countries solve their issues and political crisis through these methods.

Bestselling books and movies are usually about these themes and almost everyone is impressed when a fortuneteller says something nice about them.

The origin of magic and incantation goes back to a long time ago. It started when two angles who were very close to God asked him 'why do you value good human beings more than us? We never commit any sins or vices and still get less attention from you.

God replies 'I know something which you don't know; human being is a creature with freewill that rotates between positive and negative forces. Negative forces are very attractive and have a strong pull; if you angles had humane attributes which include freewill, it would be very hard to predict if you might make better choices; which way would you choose? Would you choose the way of virtue or vice?’

Thereafter, these two angles requested to be transported unto earth in a human form in order to prove that they can do better; they thought they’re so good and honest and would not do any sins or vices.

They got their wish and got sent down to earth; since they were very knowledgeable they became wise and found a way inside the palace of the king of Babylonia. After some time, they became the king’s special advisors.

The king had many wives and one of them was exceptionally beautiful; her name was Venus and our angle turned human advisors fell madly in love with her. This insane obsession went to the extent of accepting all her conditions in order to spend one night with her.

They had to choose one of these choices she gave them: drink wine or leave religion and God or murder one of her enemies.

The angles spent some time thinking and talked among themselves; they figured they couldn’t forsake God and couldn't commit murder, so they decided to drink wine since it seemed the easiest.

And so they drank lots and lots of wine and Venus gave them the satisfaction they were looking for. While they were in bed they were seen by a servant. They feared the king's rage if he was told of their affair with his wife. They felt they had no choice but to kill the servant.

So they committed murder and when they became sober they realized they had drunk, committed adultery and murder. They realized they had failed in their mission and could never return to heaven.

Thus they turned their back to God and abused their knowledge in the wrong way. They used the epigraphs brought to earth by previous guardians and misused the scientific laws in the negative direction. This is how magic started its work on earth.

Ani: was the story real or fiction?

Guardian: the part about these two angles being responsible for the spreading of black magic and spells was true. Of course, evil doers were always around to teach black magic to the right candidates. There's an important point here and that is, no spell or magic can work without God's permission and many people spend their livelihoods on it without any benefits whatsoever.

Ani: why would God give permission to these evildoers for their harmful intentions?

Guardian: I think you are emotional again; we did speak about the negative forces before.

Sardar says 'this is life and continuation of numbers; evil forces and humans who always were and will be. It is thought that the world would be a paradise if these evil creatures didn't exist. However, God chose them as necessary factors for world's purification and refinement so that the value of good and bad is determined.'

So it's either the experience of darkness or retribution from the past. Who knows, I might have done some magic on other people myself and now I'm paying the price.

Life is a bittersweet game; a very calculated game where the scale of justice is trying to adjust fairly at all times; you can say karma is a justice dispensing machine.

Ani: how could they misuse epigraphs which contained useful information? Is it doable?

Guardian: of course it is; a kitchen knife is used in cooking and it could also be used in hurting or even killing somebody. Nuclear science has two sides to it, construction and development or destruction and annihilation.

Thus, the epigraphs could be used for negative purposes and indeed were. In fact, God's words in holy books have been misrepresented for selfish gains; many innocent lives have been taken by ruthless individuals by reference to holy books and prophets. Prophets who had nothing but compassion, love and generosity for the people and yet in their name and God's command, many atrocities were committed throughout history.

My beloved Ani, Satan's disciples disguised all their killings, murders, destructions...as holy and divine and spoke the words of the devil dressed as the truth.

Even Satan is disgusted by them and cannot stand their brutalities. I swear to God that they have no place or comfort in this world or the next; there will be justice. They live in a hell which they have brought onto themselves; the wood for its fire is their own flesh and blood, their poisonous mind is their prison.

You think there is no rule of law in this world and every deed goes unpunished. Do you think creation is governed by hypocrisy, deception and conspiracy?

No, never; there will be a day for them to fear and shiver.

Law of creation is law of justice although at times it might appear otherwise. If we can pierce through the core and if the veil is lifted, we could see justice shining on us all equally and it's been this way forever.

Ani: tell me more about the magic.

Guardian: we're getting sidetracked from the main theme. Let's get back the story of Arti, Antine and the queen of the sun.

Ani: how do you want to unravel the truth of their story?

Guardian: I think the best way is to go back to the time net room and re-examine the interactions that took place between us. We should study the events based on that specific time period.

Ani: which part of their story is interesting for you?

Guardian: all of it; my dad and mum, your mum and the special dimension or real that they are living in. They know about the past and our mission in the future whereas we don't know anything. They share the information gradually with us so that we don't lose our directions and become lost.

Imagine they lost their young children in a tragic manner and after 1400 years they have found them again.

Unfortunately, their son is drowning in drug addiction and constant failures and yet, they love him unconditionally. This is because the connection of love is the strongest connection in creation and nothing is able to break this chain.

When these children were young their parents wanted them to be married when they grew up. However, their wish didn't come true and they were brutally murdered.

Since their desire was very strong, it became a reality many years later, in a different place at a different time.

Now I can truly understand the attributes of God; his compassion and mercy and love for his creation.

I'm not sure if this marriage was our intention back then or our parents only; we should continue this story and gradually find out the answers.

I must say that my love for my parents is increasing everyday and I want to do something to alleviate their worries about my addiction, but I don't know how.

Ani: me too.

Kamand

Pakrobad: our greetings upon you.

Your mum is worried for you.

Guardian: I must come out of the darkness very soon. I have created a crisis out of ignorance and it has brought me down.

I think there is no one in this world that doesn't have a problem and without difficult challenges there could be no awakening and evolution.

I've been asleep for many years and ignorance has taken over many aspects of my life. Now I have awakened and this is a positive move; I shall try my best to come out of this crisis and I'm so happy to have found you both after these years.

Pakrobad: it's very beautiful my son; may God bless you and hope all your efforts pay off.

You have a horse named Kamand and your son like him as well. Your son is very calm and yet full of energy; take care of him.

Heavenly light and passing of the time on earth will reveal to everyone that greatness does not benefit everyone.

Your mum has recently come out of isolation due to your contacts.

Description of the scene

A tall lady, slender and beautiful with large eyes and black hair and about 30 years of age; she sat on a set of stairs and looked very sad. Others tried to comfort her and she walked towards us and tried to hug Arti, but every time she did that her hands passed right through him.

Eventually her husband, Pakrobad stopped her.

Pakrobad: I wish you and your family the best and hope with the arrival of the New Year and blossoms; you can overcome your crisis and win this ongoing battle.

Your wife, Antine is a true companion and we're grateful she is with you. While in the palace we had many thoughts about these returns in addition to the king's command.

Now all over this land, we're serving his command; I will read you the king's command:

Destiny is like this, upon the command of the ruler of the world, earth and sky which you have been the guardian of; move forward with all your might and strength and warn Satan's friend of the upcoming challenges.

Command of the king of Persia and righteous words

The end

Be strong and victorious; we're always with you.

Farewell

Ani: this is very confusing; the king of Persia? Just tell me something.

Guardian: I swear I don't understand anything myself; as things develop further the unknowns increase and I have no clue as to the nature of these revelations. All I know is that I'm stuck in darkness and I have so many problems on my hand and I don't know what to do.

I have borrowed so much money to buy drugs and alcohol that no one is willing to lend me anymore and creditors are after me for all the mistakes I made in the business; I have all these miseries going on in my life and they tell me to warn Satan's followers of the upcoming challenges; they call me the guardian of heaven and earth.

I'm shocked and I have nothing to say; maybe with time and patience some clarity follows.

What kind of a game is this? Why is my destiny like this? I'm nothing, lower than nothing. I'm dismayed and stranded even though I trust the masters completely.

Ani: calm down dear; I think you must be more patient as well and try to concentrate.

Pakrobad: you have not been in contact with us.

Your mum is well and thinking of you. We know that you must have the right key to open the door.

The dark forces who separated us from each other are working hard to prevent your progress. We must gather all of our strengths to stop them.

Guardian: why don't these negative forces leave us alone?

Pakrobad: they have deep roots, don't forget us. We'll assist you and become a bird on God's command and show the power of love to your enemy.

We four have two children who we must protect, the king and the queen and us. We're grateful to white eagle and Raad also.

You can tap into your hidden force and courage.

Guardian: can we know the name of Antine's father?

Pakrobad: it is better that he tells you himself.

We think of you always.

Goodbye

Ani: there was the talk of the king of Persia again.

Guardian: I guess the queen is Antina, your mother and the king is your father.

Ani: the ancient king of Persia is my father?

Guardian: yes, things are becoming very interesting.

Ani: let's go to the time net room and get some answers, please.

Guardian: prepare yourself for some unexpected news.

Antine's father

Time net room

Antine's father: what do you want with us?

Guardian: how are you doing?

Antine's father: why is my daughter sad? What do you want to know?

Guardian: can you talk about yourself and your family to us.

Antine's father: we didn't have a worthy son for the crown of the kingdom; that's why it was ruined.

If we had the support of everyone, Antine would not have become the victim of that conspiracy.

We don't have any worries right now besides you two; may God be with you.

Guardian: who are you?

Antine's father: I kept my identity hidden for your own sake; I shall reveal my identity now. I am Khosrow Parviz.

Antine's mother is my last wife. We didn't get to be with each other then; now we have that chance.

Your father, Pakrobad is my relative; he's strong and courageous warrior.

Your mother is a great artist, a very kind woman.

I'm worried for my daughter and her well being.

Farewell

Actor

Guardian: greetings upon Antine, the great Sassanid princess, daughter of the great king of Persia, Khosrow Parviz; the owner of the most valuable treasures and powerful army.

Ani: greetings upon Arti, son of the bravest general in my father's army; come on, are we kidding ourselves?

Although this story seems real, it makes no difference for us.

Guardian: you are right, it makes no difference to us; however, it does display movement between circles of creation, the comings and the goings. It clarifies the true meaning of justice and proves that truth unveils itself in continuation.

Everything is recorded and nothing goes unnoticed; every good deed and bad deed has its consequence and all the records are kept eternally in the archive.

My beloved Ani, life and all its adventures is like a movie directed, produced and paid for by God and angles are his assistants alongside evolved human beings.

The director determines the role of the actors with their own agreements beforehand. In this movie, it doesn't matter if we play the role of a king or a beggar; it matters how we play the role and what we have received as far as knowledge, awareness and wisdom in the end.

It doesn't matter who we are and where we are; it's not important what language we speak and what nationality or religion we have. The only thing that is important is our journey; from which point to which point?

Which direction are we moving in the path of evolution?

Are we in the right path and eventually, what have we received from this life of ours?

This life that we are the owner of and that we can carry with us on earth and in the heavens.

Your mum is with me here and she's always thinking of you. You have come across difficulties here but you must continue with your efforts and not give up.

I will go at war with your enemies and like hunter will make heaven and earth filled with flames of fire.

I have a command; you were on your horse for a ride in the valley. A stranger stopped you and the horse recognized the man; before the man attacked you my friend killed him.

The people who murdered you got what they deserved and we will never let anything upset you.

Guardian: who was that man?

Pakrobad: our enemy.

Guardian: was he punished?

Pakrobad: yes and the others as well.

Always be very careful of your enemies and proceed with caution; may God protect you and our daughter.

Pakrobad: we were awaiting your contact; we are preparing ourselves for the spring celebrations.

Evildoers are constantly trying to harm you and your family and that is the reason why we had to behead that man in the valley for your protection. The enemy is also hurting you in every other way they can, mentally and physically.

These days are the beginning of new start and happiness and we shouldn't be talking about death and revenge. Our celebrations will take place in a magnificent palace and the best singers and dancers will be performing.

Your mum wants you to take of your children and specially your son, Amin who is a gifted boy.

Do not fear the darkness and we shall work together to destroy our enemies.

Guardian: where are these evildoers? in which realm?

Pakrobad: they don't remain in place but they are stationed in both worlds.

Farewell

Ani: your father said that those evildoers were our companions and we know who they are. What does this mean?

Guardian: I guess our companions mean our family or relatives.

Ani: do you really think that?

Guardian: why not? They could be the closest people to us; a brother or an uncle. This is not very uncommon and harmful intentions can come from anybody even our family members.

The message of the king, Khosrow Parviz

Time net room

Greetings upon Ahuramazda and Prophet Mohammad and all divine messengers; they call me the wind but now I've become the storm which shall destroy the wicked enemies.

My son, your mum is well and she's always thinking of you. Antine's parents always love you and they have a message for their daughter. The message of the king is as follows:

By God's command and in our name, you must obey every command and order and reconstruct what you have destroyed. This is the command and must be carried out.

Khosrow Parviz

Pakrobad: we had talked about this previously.

Time is alive and bodies dead and mind is free to rule rightly.

Guardian: I will carry out the command after I find out what they are; after finding out about the things that I have destroyed.

Pakrobad: you can fix everything but time; pay attention to these scenes.

Farewell

Description of the scene

A great army with sophisticated equipment and warriors riding on horses; they are riding at dawn with flags waving in air.

They left an old castle and spread across the valley. On hilltop three riders were standing; two women and a man wearing warm clothes. The weather was extremely cold and very windy. One of the women was the wife of the man who was the chief commander of the army and the moment of goodbye was very difficult for her.

The scene suddenly changes into another event; a warrior is riding very fast on his horse up a mountain where a castle is located. He is looking for an enemy and he appears very angry.

The end

Message to the king

12/07/1995

Guardian: my beloved Ani, I want to send a message to the king tonight.

Ani: alright, let's hear it.

Guardian: message to the king

In the name of Ahuramazda and myself

Your commands and orders will be carried out as you wish; the only problem is money, so kindly show us the place of a few hidden treasures and we'll go from there.

Guardian

Ani: are you finished?

Guardian: let's go to the time net room and give the message to my father.

Guardian: it's good to hear from you.

Khosrow Parviz: because of our command you have been thinking of hidden treasures. You must pass through the storm which the evil forces have brought upon you and free yourself from their bondage that is meant for your destruction; it's the inner treasures which you must tap into.

The individual that was seen is your brave father who has always been loyal to me. Your father is the son of this beautiful land and has fought hard to protect it.

You must rely on your willpower and tear apart the remaining chains which have imprisoned you.

We will assist you in your battle and overcome the fearful enemy; do not fear anything.

Farewell

New Year's Eve

11/04/1996

Tonight is very quiet even though we're very close to the Persian New Year. We wanted to meet White eagle in the time net room when to our surprise, Pakrobad came in. we all became very happy as it had been a very tough period in our lives.

Things took a turn for worst when the city closed down my office and I had to pay a huge amount of money to reopen it. I had a few employees and they lost their jobs. We couldn't do anything and there was income; so many cheques bounced back and all the creditors were looking for me.

An arrest warrant was issued for me and I was on the run. I went to my hometown, Kerman and hid there. I tried to sell a store that I owned but it was of no use.

So after hiding out for some time I came back to Tehran defeated and my drug and alcohol addiction soared. I was in a terrible state and there was no news from the King about the hidden treasures, no money.

I was told to concentrate on the inner treasures and that was very difficult for me.

The land of darkness

Pakrobad: I'm here with your mother, son have your forgotten us?

Guardian: please forgive me; as you know my life has been very hectic lately.

Pakrobad: we can see all your difficulties and we feel your pain, we cannot help you though; we do not have the permission to do so. Your mother wonders why you have to go through all this. We tell her that this is only a journey and that it would end soon. We want your prosperity in both worlds.

Hard effort and divine splendor must be a part of your willpower so that you can be with us.

Guardian: the power of love has connected us after centuries and love is the only thing that matters.

Not many people truly understand the meaning of true love; people who lack love in their lives are like empty containers.

Do not be sad for me as I'm being tested and if I come through this test victorious, many complex matters would be solved. I have accepted to battle the darkness and the road ahead is very difficult.

This battle is the mother of all battles, a battle with ignorance and addiction and it is all within me.

As the great sage Sohrevarady says ‘I have to raise my sword in the land of darkness and put aside David’s armor; I must bring the sword down on myself in a way that my body and self are not harmed so as to free myself’.

Pray for me as I need it and I shall come through with the sweet taste of victory.

Pakrobad: do not hesitate; move forward and we can see a bright future ahead of you. The king says ‘treasure is within and its understanding is outside, the inner treasure is endless’.

We love you very much; take the keys available to you and open all the closed doors.

Farwell

Family connections

It has been four months since my last session in the time net room. After returning from Kerman I realized that I should rely only on myself; finding some treasure somewhere is an illusion and I should have never considered such solutions.

I had been waiting for a miracle without putting in any effort. I had to learn from life and its hard lessons.

I went back to my office one day and entered the office from a window and with the help of an employee I started to work on a few projects. When I finished them and got the money, I used the money to pay some creditors and a few bank loans.

I'm working undercover for some time now and I've been able to pay some of the big debts. Things have improved a little now that I'm going to the time net room.

I believe that connection between the members of a family is futile if there's no love between the members; when there's love, there is no end to that bond. Otherwise, there are merely titles and family names and the relationships are non-existent, nothing more than bunch of strangers.

Pakrobad: greetings to our children, Arti and Antine.

We're very sad for your loss. With a desire for the mind and body you will be complete; think positive in life.

You must look inside yourself and remember the end of this challenge. You were a young branch that resided in another cage due to completion; in this last cage, you suffered so as to reach divine light.

You have tasted much hardship in this body; stay on course so that you can redeem yourself from this bondage. Try to keep in touch as seeing you make us very happy.

We are always happy to see both of you.

Stay calm and contemplate about the events; we're all here and we wish you the best.

Everyone is here, your mother, Antine's dad, our maid who took care of you when you were a child and the servant who took care of your horse; they are all here.

Be victorious and happy

Farewell

Perception

Guardian: I think we have spoken enough about Arti and Antine and it's good to change the topic.

Do you have anything in mind?

Ani: yes, I would like to talk about sense or perception.

Guardian: perception is the beginning of reason or use of intellect, like a book; the name is sense or perception and the content is reason or intellect.

Ani: I don't understand, can you explain?

Guardian: for example, you are walking down the street and you suddenly smell roses; this smell is received by your sense of smell and immediately processed by the brain which is intertwined with reason. Then you receive lots of information about the source of the smell without actually observing it; you are reminded of its shape and color and other characteristics.

Another example is if we take reason as the engine of a car, it needs starter and once it is started, the engine ignites and it is turned on. The act of starting the engine is perception or sense and together they complete the process.

Sensing is the beginning, it is a force or energy and without it nothing happens. This force could either be strong and powerful so that it's perceivable or very weak so that not everyone is able to receive it; like a wave or transmitter that could influence a receiver.

Our goal

Time net room

White eagle: greetings.

Guardian: our greetings upon you as well.

White eagle: we act on our perception or senses at all times, presence of mind. Our perceptions differ; you work with limited senses and operate in a confined space.

Guardian: do you mean the physical body when you say limited?

White eagle: yes, it is the out of the body sense or perception that leads to a larger understanding like a vast ocean; this is where you and me connect and communicate.

If these senses become powerful the ordinary man can withstand divine union and an extraterrestrial explosion would take place. However, this differs person by person; we have a common thread, you and me.

If you want to go higher you must try to activate the beyond senses and take your mind into flight; in our realm imagination is beyond any explanations and achieving that state is very farfetched.

It is hoped that the key is attained by everyone and it is your duty to pursue this matter.

Our gathering is happy about your careful attention to the matters on hand. We have consulted our friends and advisors on this matter; individual interests are not the major concern here. We think about the collective good of everyone where the action of an individual can affect the outcome of many circles.

Previously we talked about the cellular explosion; this explosion is not limited to human being's only and solids are not spared here.

You cannot cover many realms in a short time as it is impossible; thus patience is recommended.

Your realm or dimension has a point of beginning and an end.

It cannot however, attain that with limited mind and narrow perception and so the reliving keeps happening and the cycle goes on.

Our goal is to create awareness in one of these creatures (human being) about the centrifugal force so that he returns to his impounded past and prepares the way for evolution and absorption. This is done through redemption from physical domination which means relinquishing the appearance; the wise ones are capable of this gift.

If an object or a human being lacks these characteristics, then an internal explosion happens.

In the past, those who had discovered the spirit (mystics) did not reveal these secrets so as to prevent such eruptions.

These matters might seem complex in your realm but not in ours; your world is filled with mysteries which requires many lifetimes to be discovered if one has the thirst and the will.

Things need much more research and rummage in the other dimensions so as to arrive at other circles and realms which exist within them. Our goals here are:

1-production of united rings

2-perfection in learning while training

3-development of power and mental ability

4-creation of real love

5-elimination of self-made fears

These items are crucial in achieving the high summits; we would be really happy if you pay attention to both realms of existence.

The white cloud says 'priority is always with the rain'.

Do you have any question?

Guardian: please talk more about sense or perception and explain the different forms.

White eagle: alright, we started the discussion on this topic and took some advice from Sardar; now we shall explain the rest.

If a sense of wanting is a moment before an action then it should be counted. This is the second dimension of perception which travels to other realms; if this thing is bolstered it will guide you to other universes. Images that you see in your dreams (sleep) are real; if they are familiar they belong to your past lives and if they are unfamiliar, you should search for them in your archive (unconscious).

Farewell

Cellular explosion

01/11/1994

Time net room

Guardian: you spoke about senses or sensing last session and said that if the sensory powers of an individual become powerful and he doesn't have the tolerance for it, there would be an explosion. I think that you mean a mental breakdown as he would not be able to comprehend and analyze the events; thus he would go insane or hysteric. This explosion is mental or spiritual and not physical; so how does such an explosion happen to objects?

White eagle: your first question relates to the out of the body sense and the bodily senses are not included in our discussion.

Our focus is on the out of the body sense which becomes independent of the physical body after death; this is the feeling when you seek us and we come to visit you. You feel our presence but you are unable to see us visually.

However, if this out of the body sense of yours is strengthened which is also called the second sight then you can also see us while feeling our presence at the same time.

Of course, this sensory power belongs to your other body or the second half of the evolving phenomena which traverses numerous universes and realms.

Your second question is about objects or solids which appear stagnant but they have movement. This explosion means a promotion and complete transformation to the next level.

Now about the human dimension, this explosion could cause damage and destruction in an individual if the circumstances are not optimum. Our aim is to absorb and attract more human beings towards the higher dimension, but we must do this with caution. If we are impatient and hasty in this process, we would waste precious talents who have to return again and again.

The out of the body sense which preserves the valuable savings of the body acts like a reporter for the brain and supplies information. Sense creates all the scenes and with its own display in the structure of intellect leaves an everlasting impression.

The sense could carry both negative and positive impression to the brain.

We say goodbye to sense and start another topic through light and sound; everything from beginning till end is made up of the same material with clear limitations. Seeing them is not very easy as their reality is different from the physical reality.

It would be very complicated if other universes did not exist and there was only the earth.

Farewell

Pillar

Guardian: I hope you have learned a lot from the explanation of the master.

Ani: yes, there were many new information which are very useful, but I still don't understand a lot of the things.

Guardian: what do you suggest I should do?

Ani: explain sense or perception more.

Guardian: maybe I should call my brother Amir and since he is an actor and they work a lot with feelings, he could explain more.

Ani: maybe you should.

Guardian: fine, I'm calling him right now; hello Amir.

Amir: hello there, long time no hear.

Guardian: I have a question for you Amir; what's your understanding of sensing or sensory powers or perception?

Amir: from which point of view do you want to know? from an artistic point of view or scientific or in general?

Guardian: you can tell us everything you know.

Amir: when there is an image or thought of something in the mind, a feeling is produced; this is called sense or perception.

Our body shows reactions to external events and these reactions are initiated by sensory messages.

Feeling is the source of emotions, affection and movement and the great miracle here is that imagination is also the source of emotions and movements.

Guardian: thank you very much for these useful information; we'll talk soon.

Amir: you're welcome; see you soon.

Ani: it was a great idea to call Amir.

Guardian: Amir mentioned great points which can point us to the right direction. It's been sometime that I'm thinking about sense and I want to gather all the materials so that I can sense, sense much better.

That's why I want to get back to our pillar or foundation.

Ani: what is that?

Guardian: self or ego.

Ani: since when ego has become the pillar?

Guardian: since it was given a clear definition; because ego or self has been described as either the spirit or the body. However, it must be known that ego or self is not the same as spirit or the physical body; in fact, it is very different from them.

Thus, now that we have a clear definition for ego or self, we can designate it as the pillar or the foundation and build our building on top of it. Do you remember the definition of the ego or self?

Ani: the thing that determines the existence of a creation, physically and spiritually.

For example, the self of a hen determines the kind of creature it is; its characteristics and attributes and its meaning at the core.

Same goes for the self of a date tree or a human being; this self has desires, needs and wants.

Guardian: how do you categorize these wants in a human being?

Ani: they include all his logical or illogical needs and wants and they are divided into three groups:

First is the commanding or demanding ego which has mostly unreasonable and illogical wants and needs. Any sort of immoral or hurtful behavior is done or thought of without any kind of remorse or regrets; in fact, the ego considers itself smart and cunning since it is able to get away with everything. For example, theft, crime, drug and abuse are all done on a daily basis with no remorse or thoughtful contemplation. This is the lowest form of ego and its down on the evolution path.

Second is the blaming or remorseful ego which does all the mentioned above vices and sins only to have regrets and second thoughts after the act. This ego is situated in the middle of the evolution path and we can say that most human beings are placed on the stronger or weaker side of this ego. For instance, for someone to talk to a love one in a harsh tone brings remorse and regret and for another, committing murder; basically the conscience is in a constant conflict at this stage!

Eventually, the ego will redeem itself from the chains of these unreasonable demands.

Third and last is the reassuring or confident self or ego. All wants and desires are logical and reasonable at this stage and it is high on the evolution path. We all hope to arrive at this stage one day.

Guardian: so up to this point we can place everything on the foundation which is called ego, materially or spiritually, visible or invisible; whether at present or past, before birth or after death.

Let's not forget that at the time of death, divine agents confiscate or impound the self or the ego and cut off the connection and ties it has with that physical body forever and guide it to the next realm of existence.

The central sense

Guardian: now that the body or the structure of this creature is ready, it needs a tool so that it can receive and transmit information to and from its environment; this tool is called sense or receptor and its responsibility is to establish communication with surrounding environment.

Ani: then what does the intellect or brain do here?

Guardian: this tool needs many types of equipment which we have yet to discuss such as brain, archive, memory...we're moving ahead step by step. This tool which we call the sensing machine needs five external channels or receptors and they are:

Vision, hearing, smell, taste and touch.

Ego or self

For these five physical channels there exist five internal or hidden channels or receptors that do the exact same job and they are:

1-vision: observing without the help of the physical eye

2-hearing: without the help of the physical ear

3-smell: without the help of the physical nose

4-taste: tasting without the help of the physical tongue

5-touch: touching without the help of the physical body

Of course, these hidden channels or receptors are located in our second body and are used in sleep and after death.

So up to here we have ten sensory receptors, five internal senses or visible and five external senses or invisible. Do you think this much is enough?

Ani: white eagle said 'we act upon our senses meaning presence or an external sense which is outside the physical body.' Can you explain?

Guardian: these ten senses that I mentioned above are channels only which are connected to a center. This center is called the central sense and is not considered part of the physical body; meaning is not located in the body. Actually, I cannot think of any specific location for it in the body as it is not made up of any kind of matter recognized by us; I assume its quality should be similar to the ego or the intellect.

Ani: how do you mean out of the body? Don't we see with our eyes and then the information is passed to our brain?

Guardian: I said that these five limited channels are tools for sensing and not the entity itself; for instance, medical glasses are a tool for vision, not the vision itself.

You cannot see microbes without a microscope which is a tool for seeing and not the vision itself; the original seeing and hearing are done by sense.

Since sense is something other than matter and in order to be capable of recognizing matter, it needs certain changes and alterations. I will bring a few examples to make my point.

Do you know how the process of a conversation over the phone happens?

Ani: yes, two phones on each end and a wire or just signals or waves.

Guardian: how does sound travel through the wire?

Ani: I don't know.

Guardian: alright pay attention to the drawing below.

Person A speaks and sound waves are transformed by A's phone to electric signals and then get transported by the wire; thereafter, these electric signals are transformed by B's telephone and B hears the sound.

Let's explain this in a more technical way.

When somebody speaks through microphone A, his voice collides with the surface of the device where there are coal particles. The sound waves exert pressure on these particles and move them from each other. Thus, the electricity that is passing through the wire is affected by the increase or decrease of the sound waves and which in turn influences the magnetic force of telephone B; it then cause the surface of the phone to vibrate and it results in the broadcast of A's voice.

In here, microphone A receives sound waves first and then transforms them into electric signals.

Sound waves

Thereafter, handset B receives the electric signals and transforms them into sound waves.

As you can see the microphone, handset, phone, wire and electricity are tools for transmitting; their characteristics are different from the speakers who make the conversation and you observed how the act of transformation to transmit the sound was done.

Now let me illustrate the point with another example.

Someone wants to speak to me in Spanish and I don't know that language; I only speak Persian. What should I do?

Ani: you need an interpreter.

Guardian: what will the interpreter do?

Ani: very simple, he listens to the Spanish speaker and then translates the content to Persian for you and vice versa.

Guardian: the quality of ego and sense which are related to each other is still unknown to us, but we know that it is something beyond matter.

Therefore, direct recognition of matter is difficult for sense and ego and they need an interpreter and the main duties fall on the shoulders of brain. This is the act of translation which translates the language of matter to ego or sense and vice versa.

The internal senses, their channels and the brain

Ani: why is sense unable to realize material issues? Can you explain this more clearly?

Guardian: imagine two individuals who are on the beach and can communicate easily with each other and smell the scents from their surroundings. Now if they go scuba diving under the water, could they still talk to each other and smell the scents around them?

Ani: I think a special tool should be made for this purpose.

Guardian: so as we can see some of our senses fail to operate under water and we must use another medium.

Ani: alright, go on.

Guardian: I'm trying to say that sense and ego are from another universe and when they decided to continue their existence in the material world, they needed special tools which the creator provided for them.

Ani: what are these special tools?

Guardian: channels of the internal senses and the brain.

Ani: so as you said the brain is only an interpreter.

Guardian: one of the functions of the brain is translation and this task is done only for the central sense.

Ani: can you tell me how we smell the scent of a rose?

Guardian: pay attention to the illustration below.

Ego or self

In the above illustration, the scent of the red rose is spread in the atmosphere and then enters the human nose; the particles affect the cellular receptors in the nose and are transported by nerves to the brain. The brain receives them and transforms into waves recognizable by the central sense.

Ani: are you saying that brain is not in direct contact with the central sense?

Guardian: their connection is similar to the interpreter who translates Spanish into Persian; in other words, there are no wires or nerves connecting brain and central sense, they have wireless connection.

Ani: can you tell me about the relationships of sense, ego, tongue, ears and brain of two people while in a conversation?

As you can see in the above illustration James and David are talking; James is speaking and David is listening. Here, James's ego wants to say red rose; let's see what happens. His ego which is connected to his sense receives the message; sense translates the message to a code recognizable by brain and brain orders the tongue to speak of the red rose. Sound waves pierce through air and start moving.

Now, these waves reach David's ear and collide with the surface which in turn vibrates; there are sophisticated systems placed in the ear that receives the signals as red rose and are transferred to his brain. David's brain receives the message and translates it to the language of the central sense and he understands the message of the red rose and feels it as well.

Two and a half bite

Guardian: I think it's enough for now.

Ani: fine, how much more is left?

Guardian: I think two and a half bite.

Ani: what do you mean by that?

Guardian: haven't you heard the story?

Ani: what is the story and where is the connection to our story?

Guardian: this is how the story goes:

One day Solomon decides to invite all creatures including humans, ghosts and animals for a lavish lunch party.

He informed the media of the news and ordered everyone to spread it. He also arranged for a press conference and certain individuals tried to ask irrelevant questions.

Anyways, the day of the feast arrived and the guests started arriving. It was 10 in the morning when a huge fish arrived at the party; he lifted his head out of the water and said to Solomon's servant 'please serve me my lunch as I'm in a hurry'.

The servant informed Solomon and he gave the permission and told them not to disturb him with such minor things.

So the servant brought the fish barbecued beef; the fish ate the cow voraciously and demanded another cow. They brought the second one and he ate it and said he was still not full. They brought five more cows and yet the fish wanted some more.

The servants informed Solomon and he said 'it doesn't look good if someone leaves our feast hungry, feed him till he's full.'

The servants fed him all the food they had gathered in one year and the fish still demanded some more. Because they had nothing left they went to Solomon and asked his advice.

Solomon thought deeply to himself and wondered 'I can't even feed one fish, how did I even think I could feed this whole party.'

He then went to see the fish and asked about his daily diet and that how much he eats every day.

The fish answered humbly 'I appreciate your hospitality; my daily meal consists of three bites and every day the Lord provides me just that.'

Solomon asked 'how much of this three bites have you had here?'

The fish replied 'I'm very sorry sir, I've only eaten half a bit and there's still two and a half bite left.'

The leap

12/11/1994

Time net room

Master: about the out of the body experience and a comfortable flight, this really depends on your internal state and how calm you are.

If you attend to your affairs and responsibilities at all times, you can achieve internal bliss; just like many other individuals, you have found the secret of past lives and you can exit your body comfortably. Due to constant practice, your body is prepared to accept guests.

Now, about a new topic of discussion which I meant to talk to you in this session; everything begins from a recession, like someone who is behind bars and suddenly the bars are gone. I mean the ethereal body which is always ready to leap into flight in every human being.

In this case he is an energy which needs to be transformed; similar to a coal that is extracted from the coal mine and could be used to produce energy.

The produced energy here has more powers and could continue life in other dimensions if the command is issued.

In the non-physical dimension there must be certain planning and considerations so that individuals at this phase could carry out their missions.

Therefore, the wavelength of each person is under the authority of commanders or the transferred energy is given to them according to a divine command.

Before every circle of creation, there is a distinguished sound and light and as we change the dimension of time. The sound and light are boosted.

Let's talk about the sound and light of circles; light has many sources and it is used to find paths. You need light on earth much more than us since you have physical movements. However, other creatures don't need light as much because their ways of living are different. Light plays a different role in every circle of creation.

We are not that advanced so as to know or see the next universe ahead of us; this is why we don't venture far.

Sometimes everywhere is bright and sometimes it's dark, similar to a cloudy weather. What we know is that light is strongest element in all the universes before us and the universe after us; also its speed is not measurable.

The thing that encourages us to research within the circles is the attraction of light which acts like a suction force.

Some people worshipped the sun in ancient cultures because of its light.

We have so much to talk about that it can last for centuries; time passes very slowly for you since everything around you appears lifeless and slow. Your duty is to inform human beings about this journey and prepare them for other destinations.

Pay careful attention to your environment and value the little things such as sounds and lights.

We're satisfied with your progress and admire your interests; white eagle, the judge and fifty other distinguished members are all here with you.

It's not important how many people believe you on earth; it's important that they are familiar with out of the body experiences.

Some people think of existence as nothing and from this nothing starts a thinking process which triggers conflicts within them. That's why they go after such issues.

Perfect intellect

Time net room

There are people here from every nation; due to the plan that we have we cannot always be present here.

We are aware of your conditions and you must keep your efforts going as success is looming.

We are constantly thinking about the issues in your universe and other universes and we have a goal to achieve; that is to cooperate with individuals like you who have an open mind to progress the path of evolution.

What did we talk about the last time?

Guardian: light and sound.

White eagle: they are useful elements if used wisely.

The wavelengths of light and sound are different in our universe and are not as limited as they are in your world. We use our own special frequency when we come to visit you.

One day humanity should arrive at the center of our teachings by research and action in the field of science.

As we said there are differences in light and sound in different dimensions; the closer one gets to purification the speed at which one achieves perfection is increased.

We analyze sound and light, specially the light that guides and does not destroy. It is similar to the natural selection in nature where good and bad are separated.

The other part of light is related to a society which we cannot enter and you are familiar with that.

Guardian: yes, you mean the high universes.

White eagle: yes, we must also receive training to get promotion as it is very difficult to arrive at that stage.

We are determined to choose the best from lower dimension and assist their evolution by awakening their inner strengths.

Guardian: it is very sad; some people have achieved high status in education but are indifferent to certain knowledge.

White eagle: we have experienced your universe and have left it and we say that we are in another realm; yet, they deny our existence. They see us in their dreams and sometimes while awake, dressed very differently.

What caused our different appearance? Isn't it the same intellect which is perfected and complete and enables us to visit our loved ones?

Message

Close the open eyes and open the gates of the heart.

Then you shall see your feet walking the same path which they had walked one day on their way to earth.

Thus, listen well; so that you can hear the sounds and find the path to the beyond from the depths of your existence.

The ruler of righteousness

Sardar

You were informed of the upcoming events; sometimes the chosen ones are not in the circle. However, most people become aware of this life through contacts. The second book opens the path to the supreme force; the third book will be a guideline which has to be implemented in life so that fear leaves our world and life is lived the right way.

When you are searching for the truth, you can find it with eyes closed, in your life's challenges.

When you don't understand it, you can never find it.

The ruler of righteousness says 'Close the open eyes and open the gates of the heart.

Then you shall see your feet walking the same path which they had walked one day on their way to earth.

Thus, listen well; so that you can hear the sounds and find the path to the beyond from the depths of your existence.

We're very happy that your efforts are leading you towards success; you will arrive at a stage where people's happiness for life reveals their creator. The further you go more signs become visible to you.

The commanders, perfected human beings

Ani: who are these commanders?

Guardian: what about them?

Ani: well, they are obviously invisible to us; also they give the commands for energy transfer and wavelengths. Who are they and where are they?

Guardian: I see, I'll answer you by telling you a story.

Once upon a time an ascetic lived in a mountain; he spent his time praying to the Lord and ate plants for food; he thought of himself as the chosen men of God.

One day there was a heavy storm and lots of rain made the possibility of flood very strong. People of the nearby town who knew the sage warned him of the dangers of flooding.

He told them that he has worshipped God for many years and have gone through all kinds of austerities for the Lord. Thus he believed that God would save him from any danger.

The flooding started and conditions were getting worse. Some people returned and warned the sage of the immediate dangers.

He replied 'I have prayed all these years to God; he is my savior and would rescue me from any dangers. You people just worry about yourselves.'

The water level began rising rapidly and the sage climbed to the top of the mountain; the water rose high, almost as high as the mountain top.

A rescue helicopter flew to the top and dropped a rope for the sage, but he refused. Once again he told to leave as God would watch his back.

So the flood went into full force and eventually our man of God drowned and died, finished.

Once in the other world and during judgment day the sage complained to God for neglecting him.

God responded 'I sent people to warn you, you refused. I sent a boat to pick you up, you refused. Hell, I even sent a helicopter to save your life, yet you refused. What did you want me to do? Come to your rescue personally?'

End of the story

So you see Ani, creation is a sophisticated organization where everything is planned precisely, similar to an army with a commanding headquarters.

Every level has its own commanders and officers in charge and they have different names in different religions and cultures. For instance, in Zoroastrianism they are called Amshaspandan and Izadan or in other faiths they are called the guardian angels.

God does not do everything himself and assigns different tasks to different angels. Of course, it is highly possible that perfected individuals could be used for certain tasks just like angels such as Gabriel.

When prior to death, the ego is confiscated by the angle of death and his companions, the spirit or ego is handed over to another commander and they will decide where that entity would live and how he or she would spend their time.

That is how the place or the standing of an individual is decided; it is like having a status or an ID. It is very similar to when you want to use a computer; you need a user ID and a password to be able to enter into different websites.

After death, we need such things to be able to enter other circles of creation and the commanders are in charge of providing such IDs and passwords.

Standing

Ani: can you explain the standing which the commanders determine by giving the wavelength to each individual?

Guardian: yes, the commanders determine the standing of each individual after death; but let me ask you a question.

How many universes are there on planet earth?

Ani: I think only one.

Guardian: what about the invisible ones?

Ani: God knows, because I don't.

Guardian: how many places are there on earth for creatures to continue their existence?

Ani: I don't understand.

Guardian: when I say invisible, I mean hidden. We cannot observe the hidden standings of other creatures. It could be the state of ideas and thinking pattern of the being like mental state, while asleep and the archive. The visible state is the time and the place where the entity is living on planet earth.

Now with this definition, can you tell me about the number of locations or standings on planet earth?

Ani: I think as many as there are creatures on earth.

Guardian: exactly, they also have public and private attributes.

For example, planet earth in general is the living location of all its creatures and it is also divided into sub-categories.

Ani: like what?

Guardian: like the oceans, seas, rivers, forests, valleys, deserts, continents, countries, cities, homes and...

Even all the above locations could be divided into smaller categories.

For instance, the forest is a location and under the ground of the forest there is a world with variety of creatures.

On the ground, there are many other creatures and on the trees as well.

The same applies to the sky and the oceans where there are the designated living creatures.

Now, to get back to our discussion on human beings we can see that every human being has his own standing or location on planet earth.

Someone is in America, another one is in Asia and another is in Africa.

Ani: someone is born into rich family; another one is born into poverty while another is born into a loving family.

Guardian: yes, whatever that befalls a human is the result of his own actions and intentions.

This means that we have planned the miseries and blessings that come our way. We must look deep within ourselves and find the answers; as the ruler of righteousness says

‘Close the open eyes and open the gates of the heart.

Then you shall see your feet walking the same path which they had walked one day on their way to earth.

Thus, listen well; so that you can hear the sounds and find the path to the beyond from the depths of your existence.’

In other words, the physical and spiritual attributes of every human being is the result of his own doing, whether he is married or single, wealthy or poor and miserable or happy; today is the result of yesterday’s efforts and tomorrow is the fruit of today’s planting.

Ani: please clarify the standing of the other universe rather than our world.

Guardian: once we determine the standing of this universe, it is as if we have determined the standing of the next universe.

Life in this realm is the manifestation of life in the next.

There are only minor differences such as time, place, speed and the quality of the materials which form the universes.

Now we can understand the purpose behind the standing of each individual; someone is born in the Netherlands into a wealthy, educated family with all luxuries of life compared to another person who is born into poverty and misery in Africa, why?

Justice

All in all, when we are born into this world we think that we just accidentally fell from the sky into a family, either royal or servant. However, it is not like this; as Einstein says 'God does not throw dice for the affairs of his creation.'

God's creation is an advanced, sophisticated organization larger than anything we could ever imagine; every little detail is planned precisely and wherever anyone is, is perfect justice.

Ani: this statement is very upsetting; what are you saying?

Guardian: I'm saying my own understanding and knowledge which I've gained through experience. No one is forced to believe me; I've never said that my findings are absolute and I'm not trying to prove it.

When you plant a seed under the soil, it is in the dark and it struggles to come out of its shell; with intense sufferings it pierces through the dirt and rocks to come out as a young branch and after many years of sunlight and irrigation, turns out to be a strong, beautiful tree. Isn't this justice?

The poor seed in the dark, under layers of dirt and years of suffering from winds, storms and human destruction.

The great architect has designed the universe on the basis of opposites; darkness and light, good and evil, beautiful and ugly, anger and love, fear and bravery, faith and chance, cruelty and justice are all the complementing factors for life, to gain knowledge and power.

As a wise one once said 'the mother of all comforts is suffering and behind every misery, a fortune.'

Yes, the statement that everything that happens is just might seem upsetting and unfair, but every human being has to find his rightful place through knowledge; if he is not happy with that standing, then he should start a journey of positive transformation which is both easy and difficult.

This is justice.

Emplacement

Anyways, our discussion was about the standing of everything in the universe and mainly, human beings after death.

Ponder on this assumption for a while; imagine that humans who are about to be born from their mothers are already living somewhere, not planet earth or the physical world.

These individuals want to live on earth again for certain reasons and so, they have to get accepted or be given the permission.

Ani: why do they want to come back to earth?

Guardian: first and foremost, planet earth is a training ground, a school. Furthermore, they want an opportunity to better their lives; same reason why people immigrate to a different country, to have access to higher pleasures and understandings in life.

Every immigration or journey contains two main points; a desire and acceptance.

Once the want for change and a new life is at its zenith, the individual makes the move. However, he has to be accepted to that country, he must obtain the permission to enter.

So in our world, the embassies are in charge of such affairs and the ambassador is the one who signs or authorizes the visa, at least in most cases.

Therefore, the ambassador plays the role of a commander, in charge of admission; he is the one who authorizes immigrants to enter the new land.

I guess your next question would be the criteria for acceptance as an immigrant.

Ani: I think they would be things like education, age, money and skills.

Guardian: fine, if an individual is well educated his place or standing would be a professional workplace or an academic environment. If he is a refugee, he would be placed in a refugee camp. If he is a gangster, he would find his mob connections and the underworld. If he is unskilled, he would have to wash dishes or labor and if he's a drug addict he would to sleep under the bridges and be a junkie.

Of course, money and connection can play an important role in our world as far as life and immigration. However, they mean nothing when one is travelling in between universes.

The only that thing that matters is attaining awareness and knowledge.

Now, imagine individuals who want to immigrate to earth for certain reasons and they want to this through birth, by being born. Every person has their own reason for this journey, love, fame, science, revenge, correcting one's mistakes, redeeming one's obligations and so on.

The important factor which is also considered by the commanders is the amount of education, learning, knowledge and awareness one has gained in one life on earth; the unfinished businesses and connections that an individual still has to return to and of course, settling scores which would be done in due time, good or bad, sooner or later.

Therefore, the place of each individual is determined before they even arrive on earth and there reasons for this pre-determination. Although we do not know the reasons; one is born blind at birth, one is born in the prison, and another is wealthy, beautiful, famous, and miserable and so on and so forth.

Thus, there are reasons for going to the designated place in the next world as well, whether to suffer or enjoy.

We're constantly experiencing hell and heaven at every breath; when we are at peace with ourselves, we are in paradise and you can guess the opposite.

The interesting point here is that all of us must pass through hell in order to arrive at heaven.

Ignorance must be transformed to knowledge for the transformation to take place and the responsibility lies on the shoulder of every person.

That is why I said that we are nothing but our own efforts.

Screening life in the other realm

White eagle: we're glad about your progress in flying; by harmonizing your intellect and insight you can achieve a lot and improve your life's conditions.

About the observation of images in your realm, every color has a name and other colors are obtained from their combinations. We will familiarize you with the color green in this session.

You can see a circle as large as the sunset and we enter this circle with our companion.

There are different buildings here in various geometrical shapes and green; very small plants in an organized landscape.

A lady with very white complexion and red hair; some people are having fun over there.

A couple of roosters next to a small cottage with children playing outside; the clothes they are wearing are colorful with green as the main color.

This is a display from your realm; a young man dressed in a six century style writing something down.

Alright, where did we get to in our last discussion?

Guardian: light and sound.

White eagle: you have equipments in your world to preserve sound; we keep and use sound by determining the particular wavelength.

Nothing is destroyed under any conditions; it is transformed into another form similar to rain being evaporated and turning into clouds.

I have already mentioned the archive to you; all sounds are preserved in there. The past is available in the archive as well.

We shall focus on the matters in the present; with every flight you are able to solve your issues better each time and shorten your path to victory.

The point of seeing the green circle is screening life in the next realm which is called paradise. Life in another form is considered both existence and its opposite; colors are available and each has a meaning accordingly.

Are you ready to pass through the time dimension together with Ani?

Guardian: we are ready to be transported.

White eagle: the images will remain in her mind and she will explain them to you afterwards.

Guardian: yes.

Ani: in a split second I saw a place burn down to the grounds and heavy smokes rise up to the air.

Then in another place an intense explosion took place, like an atomic explosion.

Afterwards the sky lit up, lots of stars appeared and moved across the earth; there wasn't a lot of distance between them and the ground. It seemed I'm seeing everything from a hole where a light was shining outwards.

Once again the scene changed; on a large piece of rock there were creatures similar to human beings with bodies like apes and uneven faces. They looked pretty bad and there were many of them.

In another spot, some people were sitting by graves and were crying; there was another scene of war and lots of dead bodies lying around. Some of them were wearing white clothes; gradually the hole closed up and the skyline disappeared.

Existence

22/12/1994

Time net room

White eagle: we showed you different images which represented growth of life, water which is essential for living creatures; the color green is the beginning of life and everything is found in it.

There is a complex system in the physical body which lives on to be perfected. Existence is multiplied and increased and varieties are brought into the world.

The reason that humanity is advancing so rapidly is because of its need; the diversity of creatures exist due to complementing factors in water, earth and in the air.

Diversity was the intention in creation and God did not intend everything for human being.

God wanted to study human behavior and express the inner and outer content of his and familiarize the human species with its high and excellent status. Thus, the knowledge of the external world involves a different process than the internal one.

The journey of experience and discovery involves alteration, transformation, motion and redemption.

A substance that is obtained from a source contains the same characteristics; transformation takes place in their own chains of structure.

We wanted to reveal some secrets to you about the nature of elements and used colors as a symbol; the point is that every transformation requires a period of time to be perfected and complete.

Are there any questions?

Guardian: this discussion is very complex and I have to read the content many times to understand.

White eagle: we can inform you of things to the extent that we have been allowed; these are shared with you to inspire the positive potentials within you.

Cellular multiplication does not interfere with the essence

Time net room

White eagle: our intention has been to create awareness in you about existence and creation; we concluded with our friends here that it is not as easy as humans are making it to be. We have famous scientists here who approve of our views, we have researchers and anthropologists like Miss Jones who is currently active in this field.

Our friends Darwin and a few other geologists, who are interested in nature and life, are working diligently.

Alterations and change does not reduce the essence of humanity. The entity might increase in production, but the forming elements do not vary in quantity.

Guardian: why?

White eagle: if an element should change its form or shape, it must be separable like the separation of the spirit from the physical body and its transmission to the other realm.

If we were a stone, upon transmission we must have movement like a tree; of course, this does not include all the plants and animals.

The destructive forces act as a deterrent; our duty is to assist human beings in having a productive journey and designate specific goals for them according to the command; similar to those who initially did not know their purpose.

It is possible that some individuals become interested in things that they had never thought of.

Due to these reasons, we have a mission to motivate people to find their rightful place.

Change and transformation of creatures

01/02/1994

Time net room

White eagle: previously we spoke about the material formation of an entity; these are the visible cases and each has its own attribute and generally inseparable unless they are transported to another dimension and change into another entity; this chain of evolution continue in all creatures.

If there is a design in creation, it is sometimes altered in certain objects or creatures. Since this creation is moving towards perfection, there may be a leap in certain creatures within a few cycles and this manner of evolving opens a new door to scientific discovery from time to time.

This is of course, related only to the physical realm and it is different in the other dimensions and causes advancement in the science of our world.

Our essence or core does not change in the path of evolution regardless of the quality we're made of unless we are turned into nothing and then upon a divine command, become something else. We shall be tested as long as the creator deems necessary until we're guided to our intended destination.

Guardian: what do the scientists who enter your dimension do?

White eagle: they maintain their activities based on their work in the physical world until they are told to return to earth. They act as connective bridge between themselves, the universe and all objects.

As you know, every dimension has its own specific information and knowledge and continues the research for more understanding. The circles of creation are like stages that follow one another and the end of one phase leads to the beginning of another.

The discussion on creation and existence is taking place in all dimensions and realms.

The creator of all these magnificent phenomena has a purpose in everything and no creature is created without a reason. Even in our dimension we are amazed by his work.

From the smallest electron to the vastness of knowledge, humanity is kept busy to discover and explore. We're always receiving his support for this cause, in our universe and yours.

Choosing the new shape

07/02/1994

Time net room

As we mentioned before human being has traversed many paths in order to arrive at the humane level; similar to a painting where there is nothing visible in the beginning and gradually, an expert painter draws a wonderful image decorated with beautiful colors.

Maybe this would be a little difficult to understand in the beginning, but as time goes by and with deep contemplation the unknowns become simple.

I don't intend on discussing all the aspects of creation in this session, but I need to explain some issues to arrive at an understanding.

I said that everyone is on the path towards perfection, becoming better and getting to higher stages. However, some will get there and some will be left behind; generally, it is a two way road which creates a cycle.

During refinement, individuals come and go thousands of time and the only thing that remains with them is the trainings for the body and the soul.

Upon returning, each person is rewarded according to their actions, more refinement better performance; thus, previous mistakes would not be repeated. Once the mission is complete, new form and goals would be given by divine commands given the individual knows what he wants to achieve.

Among the human beings there are some individuals who are non-transferable which means their level of ignorance is higher than the rest and require more training.

Some people remain in their position constantly and do not upgrade their knowledge; they are busy indulging in the lower pleasures of life.

We hope that you have absorbed this information.

Creation is complementing itself

25/01/1994

Time net room

White eagle: all the members are here and send their regards to you; the permanent members such as Lady Jones, Mr. Louie and Judge Edmond are here.

I hope that you have thought about our last discussion and have reached certain conclusions.

Basically, we wanted to impart this knowledge on you that any creature having any form in any level of existence and during any kind of transformation, will retain its essence.

This is similar to a DNA when needing to identify someone; sometimes they identify dead people by their teeth. However, if a creature wants to completely change the physical body must be destroyed and reborn again. If it is an animal, there is the possibility of being promoted to a human being in the next cycle.

In the case of humans, they have to move up through the levels similar to a child in the elementary school; some people pass the grades and move up to high school and some fail and have to repeat the same class.

The important point is absorbing and understanding the knowledge.

The existence must complete and complement itself; attention should be given to the core of being, its essence and the materials it is consisted of.

We are still evolving and every realm has its own agendas.

If you look closely at every creature you can see endless beauty and greatness; each has a unique structure and can change shape and form when commanded.

Being human does mean physical promotion and progress, but that's not everything. Earth offers an opportunity for perfection but some do get stuck in the middle of the way for a very long time.

Guardian: so you're saying that even if a creature wants to cease existing, it is not possible!

White eagle: yes, in order to change there has to be another birth in addition to the divine command. In other words, a buffalo cannot suddenly turn into a human being within one cycle and the evolution process must take place.

Not all the creatures that we see around ourselves are here to evolve into a human being; pay attention.

To sustain life, we need many things such as food, shelter and love. Some of these creatures are here for our benefit and evolution; sometimes we use them as food and sometimes as clothing. This is a point to contemplate on.

We elaborated on some creatures; there are others that experience life several times.

By the way and since you asked, Judge Edmond Share was one of the most distinguished judges opposed to the monarchy in England who later went to United States.

The annihilation of Dinosaurs

27/02/1994

Time net room

White eagle: our main work is related to existence and we continue our research in our realm. The differences between the sound and light in each dimension make each very unique.

The reason for the annihilation of Dinosaurs is lack of optimum conditions for its survival. Such large animals no longer exist in our universe; they were a symbol for the negative forces. One of our friends is still conducting an investigation and his results would be of use to your dimension.

Guardian: we have spoken about sense, light and sound prior to discussing evolution. I was wondering if we could expand our discussion on light and sound.

White eagle: sound and light are very effective in producing vibrations and they are great sources of energy active in guiding humanity.

We will elaborate more on these two elements in our next session.

Farewell

The display of creation's ability

14/03/1994

Time net room

We, the members of congress are all doing well and we heard your talk. We can continue our discussion from last time.

Guardian: I would like you to continue the talk on evolution and the Dinosaurs.

White eagle: we briefly described a creature to you which is from the same family. As you know in your dimension, objects occupy a space and have an area and a circumference. However, there are no such things in our realm and everything is situated like rings next to one another; no space is occupied.

Dinosaurs are divided into two categories according to their good and bad characteristics; some of them were in charge of destruction.

That is why they became extinct by the divine command and ceased to exist in the physical world. However, they still exist in the other realm and we do not know the path of their evolution yet.

There seemed to be some dangers caused by them for humans living on earth and this could have decided their fate.

In every dimension that you travel in you can see creatures that have yet to step on earth; this means they have not received their acceptance yet.

Sometimes we come across certain creatures that are not very intelligent; you might ask what the point in creation of these creatures is?

First, the very existence of such creation is the point; in addition to the display of power and ability of creator. It starts with the smallest living thing and moves up to the largest creatures.

All creatures in creation are the same kind, but have been transformed to different forms in various evolution cycles.

Amazing worlds that are parallel or interwoven exist and one could hardly believe their level of complexity.

And so the quest goes on, to know where we've come from and where we're headed; how is this process planned and many more questions such as these.

However, not everyone thinks about these questions and don't want to know where they have come from.

Creation has an answer for the unwise such as natural disasters, diseases and annoying creatures which are on the rise.

Guardian: do you mean microbes?

White eagle: yes, the microbes are acting according to their nature.

Guardian: are the microbes constantly improve themselves and become harder to battle with?

White eagle: yes, this is the cycle of evolution and it happens in all creatures. We assist conscious humans in their battle with these annoying creatures.

Guardian: I have a question about my out of the body experiences.

White eagle: alright.

Guardian: I know that everything in these trips is related to me and I play the main role in them; I feel that if I'm not ready mentally and spiritually for these trips, I will have lots and lots of delusions and mental problems.

White eagle: serenity of thought and mind can create a higher power in you.

You can meet anyone that you like as long as you attain that state of mind which we mentioned before.

There is also the fear which is still inside of you and you have not been able to get rid of it completely; prior to these out of the body trips, you must contain your fears and achieve internal peace. This will also help your daily challenges as well; you must work hard to review the archive and understand your old files.

Intellectual requirements

27/03/1994

Time net room

White eagle: happy New Year to you from all the members of the congress.

We had a meeting today with some scientists who are working on Dinosaurs; their extinction was due to their destructive habits and failure in having the minimum intellectual requirements.

Guardian: you mean to say that their intellect or reason was lower than the minimum requirements?

In other words, to be an animal there is a minimum requirement as far as the intelligence and intellect are concerned; the same applies to human beings and in general, all creatures obey this requirement.

Do these Dinosaurs live in other circles of creation?

White eagle: yes, they are allowed to live only in the ethereal world and only their vegetarian kind; our scientists are conducting a research on their nervous system.

Lady Jones who is a biologist has worked in this field intensively.

Our research team is working hard so as to assist your world in their current challenges; the discussion on light and sound is a in-depth topic and we shall continue in our next session.

Try to strengthen your senses so that you can receive the notes from heaven; this is your gift.

Guardian: how is this done?

White eagle: by wanting, practice and determination.

Guardian: I have a question about my ring; in one of my trips someone wanted to take my ring away from me. After a long struggle I returned to my body and a few days later I lost my ring.

What is the connection of that trip to losing my ring?

White eagle: you were warned about your ring and you were told to protect it, but as usual you didn't pay attention.

Three issues

04/04/1994

Time net room

White eagle: when we say our realm or dimension we mean invisible from your eyes. When we arrive at certain definite conclusions we will inform you of them.

Now, about the three issues which connect the interwoven universes; sound, light and sense. There is also the out of the body sense which becomes stronger after death and one can move like a cloud using that.

The inside of the body sense is limited and confined in a fixed area, unable to do anything. Sense does two functions, first is sensing and second, is starting a motion.

You must prepare your sense for after death transportation and this really depends on your mental state.

You can travel with this tool to the beyond state. The process of strengthening your sense involves constant practice.

The method of writing

Ani: could we talk some more about the queen of the sun?

Guardian: in fact I was thinking about the same thing myself because our discussions are based according to the dates and every part of these events became clear for us at a specific point in time.

They are like the ingredients we need for cooking a meal and some need to go in the pot earlier than others; thus I'm not following a timeline when writing these materials and also won't interfere with their originality.

Some of these stories like the queen of the sun can actually become a novel with several volumes. However, I'm not really concerned with storytelling and I record the events of the time net room in a documented fashion.

Each time we refer to these documents irrespective of their chronological order and open up a topic of discussion. The first writing is from my friend Raad.

The rings of congress

Time net room

Raad: how are you Hossein, my dear friend?

Guardian: I'm fine.

Raad: we're glad that you are recording the materials with utmost determination. With the arrival of Ramadan we wish the best for you in all the affairs.

You asked me about the epigraphs; they exist in every dimension. The closer we get to the rings of congress or purification process, the more we become familiar with divine forces. The key to the events that happened to you on earth was given to you in another universe.

With their discovery the evil forces left the scene and you were left alone with the epigraphs and the new commandments. If you look closer to the past and the present communications, you will understand the situation better.

The queen of the sun was also one of these rings that accidentally became involved with you; once you destroyed those evil spells, she was redeemed from years of suffering.

I wish you the best.

Time net room

I hope you are doing well and everything is good.

We're glad that you are continuing with the writing and that you seem to state the unknown very well.

Truth is always available for reflection and understanding. The whole creation is a veil to hide the real creator.

Your oldest daughter is deep in her thoughts; could we offer any assistance?

My daughter (Kamandar): I want to know which field in sciences is more important for studying.

Sardar: imagine a tree that has a strong root, numerous branches and great quality fruit; which is more important?

Kamandar: all of them.

Sardar: good answer.

Sciences as a whole are important and every branch of it has significant value. None of them is superior to others and it is on you to choose the one that really appeals to your interest.

All knowledge begins from the same source and then branches out. I hope you got your answer.

Now, let's get back to the epigraphs you dug out a while back; those were a bunch of spells which had sealed the fate of a few individuals. The executors of these spells do not care for the evil or good intentions behind them.

Guardian: you mean the ghosts or evil forces that carry out the spells only do what they're asked of; they don't care for the good or evil intentions of the spells?

Sardar: yes, for special people. The epigraphs that we showed you contain chants which are later brought to earth by divine command.

Guardian: were these special epigraphs for advancement of human beings?

White eagle: yes, but those that you dug out were produced by evil humans forging divine commandments; they are the original documents that are still available as they were. They are misused to mislead other human beings just like God's words in the holy books. Farewell

Images of the witnessed epigraphs

My dear Ani, it is November of 2003 and I have to go back 6 years to write the revelations of that day; I hope you don't object because of the irregularity in dates.

Ani: no, that's fine. I have realized that the pieces of puzzle have been sent by each mater accordingly.

Guardian: thanks, in this section my mother banishes her black dress for another color as she is happy; this is due to redemption of the queen of the sun and destruction of the spells. Let's take a look at the writings of the time net room.

Pakrobad: greetings my son.

Your mum is celebrating and has taken off her mourning dress. The hills will lead to valleys and it will lead to unbreakable chains and in its continuation, a larger frontier will be under your command.

We congratulate you and Antine in the new season; we are ready for thanksgiving celebration. We have decided to present you a gift and that is, our ancestral sword which carries their iron will and power; to you our only son, so that you finish the rest of the way faster.

Guardian: I'm honored to accept and I hope I deserve it.

Pakrobad: your guardian says that he had predicted your victory and freedom from imprisonment.

Everything is preserved in this place which we call home.

White Eagle

Time net room

White eagle: greetings upon you; we, the members of congress are doing well and have heard your words. We have reached great results in our research on automation systems and their production which would be very useful for countries that have invested in this industry.

If you remember, a unique flying saucer that had a design similar to an insect was inspired. These new discoveries would influence other areas of science as well.

Now, let's talk about your question about the queen of the sun; if you remember well, you were held hostage by evil forces.

Guardian: I have not forgotten.

White eagle: the queen was a close acquaintance of yours and she was killed, beheaded and put under a curse for a long time. Once the spell was destroyed and her head and her body were reunited, she could find her way to the next world.

Which part is still confusing to you?

Guardian: the scene about the three headless bodies and the pigeons is very confusing for me; please explain the scenario.

White eagle: the three heads are related to your present life and two of the heads were destroyed due to a spell; the third head is related to a person who is still alive today. She is the fifth daughter of the family (named Mehrban); she was saved from death because the spell was destroyed.

The other two heads are related to two individuals (Sohrab and Shahed) whom are transformed into these forms because of the spell.

The queen was close to your father in another lifetime and this chapter is continuing. Should I continue?

Guardian: yes, it's been a long time that I'm looking for the pieces of the puzzle.

White eagle: her story is a love affair; an evil person plans the murder of your father and the queen who loved a commander in the army. So this evil doer and the lady wearing the blue dress were each other's accomplice and carried out the murders.

However, with the passing of time and destruction of the spells, the situation was resolved and God forgave you.

Guardian: you mean to say that those two evil doers murdered my father and the queen?

White eagle: yes, this is a tragic tale and some of the pieces have improved a little. The only unchangeable thing is the ultimate goal of Satan.

It makes no difference to him which dimension of life it is; he is a heartless animal that does his evil job in a cool, calm manner.

Guardian: you mean to say that the worst sinners can one day move in the good direction by doing a good deed and it's only Satan who has to deceit and deceive humans eternally? He's the one who continues to make problems for us in life?

White eagle: yes.

Lady Jones, Louie, Judge and Holy Father all send their regards. They say 'if the human being does not progress, he will shatter into pieces'.

They are happy that everything is improving in congress; the beginning of everything is love.

The queen and her beloved have definitely started their life together somewhere in creation, because love is always alive and flowing. You and your family along with the congress have opened the best place for love where everybody can benefit.

Our dear colleague, Mr. Hossein Dezhakam

You have been a great coworker for us from the beginning of ignorance to the present stage of awareness; the results of this cooperation have been positive and acceptable.

You have been a colleague and a friend for us from one realm to another. In fact, in completion of our projects we shall always remain as workmates since there are no retirements here; this thing is always continuing and our connection speaks of a deep friendship.

Farewell

Pakrobad Time net room

Greetings upon our son; we send you our warmest congrats for your fifth drug free year. How are you my child?

Guardian: I'm doing great; I feel joyous every moment in life and I'm grateful for this.

Pakrobad: our happiness cannot be compared with the whole world; can you bear to hear the story of the past?

Guardian: yes dad, I think I'm ready now.

Pakrobad: the queen was very close to me, she was my sister.

Guardian: she was your sister? The queen was your sister?

Pakrobad: yes.

Guardian: this means when I and Antine were murdered 14 hundred years ago, the queen being a family member was also killed? Why didn't you tell me this earlier? I couldn't figure this out, all these spells and conspiracies.

Pakrobad: it was not the right time to tell you son.

Guardian: you are right; I still have not understood that for specific matters the timing must be right. Please continue.

Pakrobad: the individual who eliminated me was ruthless man with evil ideas in his head. He was the one who kidnapped you two and then committed the murders. I didn't give my sister to him as she had a lover, a great commander who wanted to marry her. The killer's vengeance continued to the present and he was the one who wanted to drown your child in the sea.

However, the Lord came to his rescue and the situation ended to your advantage.

Guardian: my child?

Pakrobad: your eldest child.

We were in the darkness alongside you and now, the sun is shining. The queen is with us now.

Guardian: right here?

Pakrobad: yes, on your right hand side.

Guardian: I send my salutes to the queen of sun and welcome her entrance to the time net room. Of course, when she was released from the spell we had a brief encounter, but I didn't see her lovely face. I've always felt a deep love for her and I'm happy to meet her today.

Pakrobad: she's also glad to have met you.

She says 'I've always loved Arti and Antine'.

Guardian: thank you.

Pakrobad: she received her title from king Khosrow; she has rejoined her lover and they have not returned to earth because of that individual who might still want to hurt them. It's been a short time that they have come to us.

Guardian: those three heads, what is the connection between them and the queen?

Pakrobad: it was to raise awareness about your present mother; the lady in blue who conspired to our murders is your mother in this lifetime.

Guardian: that lady is my mother now (Pandora)? Did I hear correctly?

Pakrobad: yes, she was a co-conspirer in your, Antine's and my murder. It is really painful.

Guardian: and the actual murderer? Who is he?

Pakrobad: he is your brother in this life (Tamas)...

Guardian: oh my God...

Due to extreme excitement and spasm of commander Pakrobad and while he was crying, our connection was cut.

It was a very sad and depressing meeting; I was astonished and speechless and couldn't continue writing.

Oh my God! The lady in blue is my mother and the ruthless killer is my brother. How could one receive such shocking revelations in a meeting? I was still absorbed in my excitement about the queen being my aunt when these shocking details were given to me.

The lady in blue who was part of the plot to destroy my family in another lifetime is my mother in this life! This discovery was made when my hatred for her role was reaching its peak and I was faced with an individual who had both served and betrayed me.

When I realized that she is my mother, the rage and hatred turned into compassion and forgiveness; instantly, I forgave her for the miseries she had caused us since she did not cause me much suffering in this lifetime.

On the other hand, I couldn't say the same thing about my brother who had murdered my previous family in cold blood; I was drowned in a sea of rage and hatred. Things became still, silence prevailed and in this silence, I thought why?

Why is it that an evil doer who killed my loved ones many centuries ago would come back as a family member? Even better, become my brother.

It was as if he has carried his past in his conscience all this time and has tried to pursue the vengeance of the past.

All in all, it was very difficult for me to forgive him unlike my mother; as hard as I tried I could never forgive him for the terrible atrocities he committed, although I have turned the hatred into pity. I have not been completely successful in this mission but my feelings towards him are a mixture of indifference and pity now.

I hope that one day he settles his score with himself so that God would forgive him.

Silence

Ani: why are you silent?

Guardian: nothing besides silence can comfort me now; now I can understand what the master has said.

Ani: what did he say?

Guardian: he said that if one's instincts and senses become strong and he does not have the capacity for it, there could be an internal explosion. If all the things that have been revealed to us, had been shared when we didn't have the capacity we might have gone insane.

Even I, who have been doing research on these matters, am left astonished. You can imagine the state of our readers; they are free to decide about the true nature of these events, whether they are figments of my imagination, lies or even nonsense. Now I know why God does not allow humans to know about their past lives; it's because most people do not have the tolerance for it and might go crazy.

This is why it is necessary to raise one's awareness through refinement and purification; through purification, the individual can achieve serenity and this in turn attracts divine knowledge. The great ones have said 'to know God, one must know one's self' and this is very difficult.

Sometimes behind the curtain of truth lie the most frightening details of our lives and our loved ones and other times, we realize the beauty and preciseness of God's work. How great is the Lord's patience, I still have no idea about his true identity; I cannot imagine who he is and have no clue about his essence and manifestations.

Who am I to want to know him and judge his actions? Every time I'm going through a difficult time in my life I remember that he exists and I ask for his help; even when I ask him for something is like doing a transaction, you do this for me and I'll do that for you. God, I have some financial problem and if you fix it for me, I'll help the poor and the destitute. What kind of a relationship is this?

How ignorant I am and how little I know about the Lord. No one can truly introduce him to me, the way he truly is. Even when God defines his attributes to me I'm unable to fathom it.

The Lord says 'I'm one and unique' which means there is no other like him.

The Lord says 'I've not been born and I do not give birth'. Someone once asked me 'aren't we all his creation?'

I replied 'the one who gives birth, gives birth to her own kind; deer gives birth to deer, tree to tree and human to human. This is very different from creating something.'

The Lord says 'I'm self-subsistence and need no one; I'm omnipotent, omniscient and omnipresent.'

All these attributes are there to define God and yet, I have no idea about him.

All these said I know for certain that he is closer to us than our own heart and soul; I know today that god is the best confidant and keeps all of our shameful secrets to himself. Nothing is hidden from him and he sees everything and I'm not sure how he does it, where is the place to keep all these recordings.

Wherever this system is in place or even if it is nowhere, all events from the beginning of creation, if there is actually such a thing called beginning, has been kept and recorded in the archives and every member of this creation is a small part of this archive. However, no one is able to access and view this archive without the Lord's authorization.

And when this authorization is given only minor details are accessible and this permission is given very rarely. It is given under special set of circumstances and it usually serves a purpose of teaching and educating so that we know the things that we don't know.

There are great forces under the Lord's commandership and they are in charge of carrying his commands and assisting in the affairs of creation.

Eventually, all I know is that God is great and his greatness is so vast, that I'm unable to know and realize it.

I cannot take a single step unless he desires it; without his support the evil forces would not leave me alone for a second.

Without his forgiveness I would crash deep into darkness and remain there. I know that the closest individuals to God are the virtuous and color of skin, religion, faith, nationality and wealth are not the criteria here.

I understand now that the kind of religion is not important, it is important how you implement the commandments in your daily life, the true spirit of these precepts.

I know that all the prophets have come from the same God and they all had love for humanity.

I now understand that God said 'I created man from love and kindness'.

I'm so glad that I've been able to see very little behind the curtain; this was neither for revenge nor for settling scores. This was for knowing and understanding minor details of the game of life.

The archive is in God's hand, if he wishes for someone to gain access to this archive he will do so and this permission is given very rarely under special set of circumstances. This is done so for the purpose of education so that we know what we don't know.

Secrets of eternity

Ani: I'm going crazy; I can't handle all this information. The killers were the lady in blue and the ruthless man.

I knew Sohrab and Shahed very well; they were good kids and I really liked them. Unfortunately, they passed away at a young age. However, Mehrban recovered from his illness and is living a healthy life presently. I don't understand any of these things, why?

Guardian: don't cry my beloved Ani, I loved them too and I was very sad for their deaths. I'm also thankful for Mehrban's recovery and I'm very happy for him, but remember that we don't know the beginning or the end of this story. This is only a slice of our lives and as Khayam, the famous Persian mathematician says

'The secrets of eternity are not known by you and me

This astonishing puzzle cannot be solved by you and me

There is lots of commotion behind the curtain

Once the curtain falls, there won't be you and me'.

I think that we only know parts of the truth and exploring the unknown is a very rewarding act. The more knowledge and acceptance we develop in ourselves, the more secrets will be revealed to us.

If the process of revelation takes place prematurely, without the necessary tolerance and acceptance, the whole population of earth would become entangled in a web of revenge and vengeance.

Do you know why?

Ani: no.

Guardian: because we are not familiar with the process of training, education and evolution of life. It would be similar to a situation when actors in a movie get involved in their roles personally and continue settling scores even when the filming has ended.

However, the scenario in life is very real and the story is continuing; the ending and the beginning have no limits and every person is responsible for his or her role.

It is interesting to know that even magic, curse, spell and death would not make any player disappear from scenes of life and all these roles are there so that we can realize and feel every moment of life, to live in the present. We are free to choose between the sweet moments of love and kindness or the bitter moments of rage and hatred. We will not understand the true meaning of love and compassion unless we attain wisdom and knowledge.

Then only can we truly understand that God is love and kindness.

We must also remember that knowledge or wisdom is different from degrees or literacy. The path to knowledge has three parameters and they are: training, contemplation and experience.

Training involves the process of knowing; thinking is to map the way of living and experience is the implementation of our trainings. Then we can recognize the decent action and justice and act upon them.

This story unveils many truths about the mysteries of our world and creation; it eventually displays love and justice in a beautiful manner, as well as the reasons of our pains and sufferings.

I'm not trying to accuse anyone or take revenge; I have to write and record these events so as to clarify the reason of our sufferings which we might think as accidental or unfortunate. Even the sudden deaths of our loved ones have a reason and purpose; most of the sudden events of our lives happen for a reason. Every little deed is counted, good or bad and each brings a reaction.

Human being is nothing but his own efforts.

Anyways, let's go to the time net room to follow up the rest of the story; it might be actually more frightening and shocking than what we can imagine. Let's go and find out.

Divine justice

Ani: I know that since the masters revealed the details of the queen's story you have become restless and you are always thinking; you are always quiet and in deep thoughts.

Guardian: you have always understood me and I have no complaints. Do you have a question?

Ani: yes, how could someone be a killer in one lifetime and a mother of the person she has murdered in another?

Guardian: I'm not sure exactly, maybe it is similar to the case of two rival families who agree to the marriage of their children so as to make peace. I don't know, maybe God gives a second chance to sinners to make things right.

If they decided to stay on the good side, they are spared and if not, they are sent into the dark for a very long time. We have witnessed this in our family story; the lady in blue, who murdered me and my family in the past, is my mother in this lifetime and she made use of her opportunity and showed the right path. This is why she was spared the death of her daughter Mehrban, but still lost two of her sons who were very young; in this way she felt what it's like to lose a child and a loved one and this pain will remain with her till the end of her days.

I'm going crazy seeing God's justice in work and I'm able to touch his heaven and hell in a real way. When he says 'my hell and heaven equals the earth and the sky' I understand that anywhere in this universe could be a heaven or hell.

Now I know that when we receive the tragic news about the death of our loved ones, it feels like hell; when a murderer is prosecuted in court and all the details of his ruthless act is revealed to everyone, hell has opened up a space for him.

This is the first taste of hell and the rest would follow suit after death.

How magnificent and beautiful is God's justice; every action has a result, good or bad.

Ani: I'm also surprised by his justice and I'm trying to comprehend all the events.

How did the lady in blue prevent her daughter's death?

Guardian: if the individual stops her immoral actions and move towards virtues, God gives the person a second chance to make up for the all the wrongdoings. Maybe even the death of the individual is delayed to give him more time.

Obey God's commandments and refrain from vices so that your sins are forgiven and you are given a specific deadline to do so.

It is very simple; don't think that by just regretting a wrongdoing and not ever doing it again, it is over and you are immediately forgiven. No, not at all; gradually and little by little, we have to answer for all of our wrongdoings.

Ani: so, what happens to God's grace here?

Guardian: his grace has a system and order about it and it is not as easy as you think. Let me give you an example.

First of all know that the next life is very similar to this life and it is not something strange and out of the ordinary. I constantly hear people say that no one has ever come back from death to share information; well, I've come from there and I've been constantly in communication with that world.

Now, the example; Imagine you have a cheque book and without the necessary financial back up you are buying expensive items and paying for them with the cheques. However, you have no money and after sometime lots of people including the law are looking for you.

Then at that very moment you regret all your wrongdoings and decide from the bottom of your heart not to ever do such things again. Does this mean that everything would be over? Of course, God's grace is there and so are the creditors who want their money.

All those bad cheques you gave out will definitely haunt you and they won't disappear magically. Who has to answer for the bad cheques, you or God?

If the judge and God forgive you and let you get away, should the people who lost their money do the same?

I have used drugs for many years and have become a junkie, would I get everything back as soon as I quit drugs? I don't think so; I can give many more such examples.

Ani: what happens to God's grace then?

Guardian: I don't think there is such a thing as grace without hard work and suffering.

Let me illustrate my point differently; suppose that you are driving your car in a straight road towards your intended destination. For some reasons such as jealousy, vengeance, lust, wealth, fame, power...you deviate from the main road and continue on a dirt road.

After some driving and while having fun and enjoying yourself, you realize you are going downhill and the speed of your car is increasing gradually. At first you enjoy the speed and you are unaware that there is a deep, high canyon ahead of you and with the high speed you are gaining, you will surely fall into a fatal crash.

You are also unaware that you have no brakes and your idea of being in control is an illusion. Hence, you and your passengers are heading for a disaster unknowingly. Let's think that you have suddenly realized the magnitude of the disaster and deep down you become remorseful and decide to change your ways, move away from vices and towards virtues.

How does God's grace interfere in this situation? Does it command the brakes to work or miraculously stop your car?

Ani: let's assume that his grace falls upon the passengers of the car and it is stopped; what about the dysfunctional car in middle of nowhere with no brakes?

Guardian: if the driver realizes the grace of God and be grateful for his help and wants to mend his ways, he has a tough road ahead of him. He has to climb up the hill and find the main road.

Ani: that shouldn't be hard at all.

Guardian: the problem is getting back to the right path; there are many obstacles as a result of ignorance and indifference. They must be solved one by one before anything else.

If I want to draw a conclusion here I can say that my mother's car was travelling at a very high speed towards disaster; unfortunately, due to high speed and sharp turns, two of her sons were thrown out of the car and died. However, since she decided to change her ways at some point God's grace befell her and her car was stopped and thus, the life of her other child was spared.

Now, her car is damaged and far from the actual road; anyone that halts their destructive habits and decides to change their ways and have God's grace on their side, will face two roads ahead of them. One appears to be difficult and impossible and the other, easy and comfortable.

Ani: why do you say it appears to be easy or difficult?

Guardian: I think God the great architect has so delicately, left a magical touch on our path.

Ani: can you explain?

Guardian: he puts the individual before two roads, one is fire and the other is comfort. The magic lies here; if the person chooses fire, he comes through the easy and comfortable road and if he decides to go through the easy road, he will face fire and hardship.

In other words, the wrong road is the apparently easy road which will eventually lead one into flames of destruction. The right road however, appears difficult but will lead the person into a green oasis. Thus with every hardship comes joy and comfort.

Now, let's get back to our own car which is left in the middle of a downhill and it looks like it has had an accident. To come out of this situation safely, there are two options. First is the way of vices and immorality which apparently is the easy one; we just need to put the car into neutral and it will slide downhill effortlessly and crash deep into death and eventually, hell.

The second option is moving away from vices and immorality towards virtues and integrity; this road appears difficult impassable and it leads to the right path.

Thus, with every hardship comes comfort.

My beloved Ani, the conclusion of our discussion is this; acceptance of the righteous path and refraining from vices is not only limited to words, ceremonies or presence in a special place. Actions or acting upon the commandments is the thing that really matters; to make amends and repay our debts to those whom we have hurt the most. That is why in our holy book it says 'if at the moment of death, you regret your wrongdoings, it is useless and your remorse is not accepted’.

Do you know why?

Ani: why?

Guardian: because you do not have any more time to do the right things and have made that decision based on fear. So remorse without decent action is useless. There is the story of a man who passed away in Prophet Mohammad’s time and they gave the news of his death to him.

The Prophet said ‘God’s grace be upon him.’ They informed the Prophet that the dead man had wished to distribute his wealth among the poor after his death.

The Prophet replied ‘I wish he had given a little of his wealth when he was alive; its result would have been hundred times more than giving it away after death.’

Pakrobad

Time net room

Pakrobad: my warm greetings upon my son Arti.

We're doing well and everyone is here. Where should I start?

Guardian: start from the part that I need the most.

Pakrobad: at first things were not as difficult; I didn't agree to the man in the palace for my sister's hand for the marriage. This in turn caused him to murder you and Antine. The priest had told me about the place, but we got there late. We searched for the body and the head for a while and we couldn't find them.

We didn't know a lot about black magic; sometimes physical beauty could be troublesome. My mother just like my sister was very beautiful and this brought certain difficulties in our families.

The ruthless man who murdered me was an evildoer and a womanizer who was after many women in the palace. He tricked and deceived them into friendship and then sold them for money. He didn't care who he conned and he was very good at deception.

With some asking around I found out more about him and his evil desires. He paid money to watch the women in their private residence and since we refused him my sister, he sought revenge. Now, finding you both and putting all the pieces of this puzzle, many things have become clear.

God gives his grace equally to everyone so that every individual treats himself and his loved ones the right way and raise his children to have integrity. I and my clan got shattered; I know that it is God who writes our destiny and we come into this by his command. I realize this truth very well.

My dear, since me and your mother attained serenity we have tried to understand all these events as they are very perplexing. All of them have roots in the past and this might be upsetting to you; we want to help you and this is the reason why I'm telling you this. Time is needed for someone to attain divine power and knowledge.

Can you understand this?

Guardian: yes.

Pakrobad: this divine rope is very thin, but strong and durable and it is love; unconditional love which is kept aflame among his lovers. If it is not there, in this continuation we fall victim to heartless evildoers.

We want to see you and your small family happy and proud; we will try to unveil more truths. The queen suffered much cruelty and she was rescued by you.

She lived many terrible lives and me as her brother love her and cannot bear to see that ruthless man.

You know my son; with the perfection of spirit the human being becomes so beautifully radiant, like the stars shining in the sky. We are witnessing this about you. The commands come from the direction of the body and if it is a decent command, we understand the person has divine splendor. He is higher than all the other human beings in front of God, like that star.

In the process, we find out about everyone's flaws and weaknesses; we stay the course to be perfected such as staying away from intoxicants, visiting good friends and places and many other things that you already know.

King Khosrow says that if you tell him stories until morning, he would listen to you; everyone wishes you the best.

Guardian: one day I asked the king to show me the place of an underground treasure; what does he think about it now?

Pakrobad: he is wondering if you still want it today.

Guardian: I have found my treasure, my treasure is mine and his treasure belongs to him.

Pakrobad: he says 'I was the guardian of a treasure that perished away; you are the guardian of something imperishable. Wind is your treasure and it travels everywhere.'

Farwell my son

Raad: how are you Hossein?

Guardian: I'm fine; I'm writing my second book which has taken about five years.

Raad: well, it's great that you are putting ample time for this book; maybe we should say the things that we have not been saying. This is the truth; you do realize this Hossein.

Guardian: yes my dear friend and mentor.

Raad: implementing the commands is the difficult part and we act according to the command. Every word must be applied at its own place.

Guardian: anything other than this and both parties, the listener and the speaker will be harmed.

Raad: that's right; when words start to turn into action it is similar to blossoms turning into fruit.

Then, it becomes obvious that everything is beautiful in its own place.

You did great in the month of Ramadan even though you were busy; you continued the rotation and we all enjoyed the delicious meals.

Of course, I and other friends who were fasting had been invited to the special ceremony.

Guardian: I'm grateful to all of you; I think with the elaborations that the wise ones gave, truths were expressed openly. But we don't understand all of them fully.

Raad: everything has been said and mankind is always searching for the new. Nothing gets old; it only changes its appearance. Look at the different season, spring, summer, fall and winter. Do you know what I'm saying?

Guardian: completely.

Raad: you started from an unknown place and you lost your way. Although you did not know that you were, are and will be you did not see a beginning or an end.

It is required of you to continue so that you are transferred into a dimension where you can be a guide for us.

Guardian: I know that I'm nothing by myself and under your leadership I can progress.

Raad: you are constantly flying and it does not show a beginning or an end to you; you are being and always on the move.

Raad: we observe all of life on the move; birth is the continuation of growth and transformation from the whole into small components. Thus there is no demotion and the past, present and future are changing.

We are learning about the unknown and don't remember yesterday's lessons and tomorrow brings new lessons.

How are you doing?

Guardian: I'm good.

Raad: friends tell me that I do strange things; sometimes I'm awake and sometimes in flight. I say to them that I'm with my twin; they don't know, they are not aware of the details.

Guardian: they are surprised and confused; it is quiet funny.

Raad: this calls for a celebration; are you going to talk or should I?

Guardian: it's more fun when you talk.

Raad: when it rains we see clouds in the sky and if sunny, we see blue sky. None of them ever change, sometimes together and sometimes separate. When we look at the archive we can see that we have been every single one of them at one point in time but we have forgotten them. This is due to the divine command, for every promotion and every demotion. For someone who has felt love deep inside, this is very sensible. Do you believe in this?

Guardian: yes.

Raad: you have a good family Hossein; this is the cause of your evolution, all of you. We are happy to have met a group of people who appreciate and understand love; this is our message to your traveler whom you accompanied for the past year:

We are headed to a destination that has no beginning or end; but you have a different route than others. Understand that this journey has no end as you are a pioneer in this path. We congratulate you on your achievement, always be grateful to your creator.

Guardian: tell me more.

Raad: we couldn't establish the sound of one instrument, we are glad that you have done so with several instruments.

Guardian: I don't know how to play any of them; when you fly take me under wings.

Raad: you are very kind my friend. Observe how the songs lead humanity; you can realize the greatness of sounds and waves which unite in divine structures.

Look at the sky and observe the strengths which reflection is similar to divine diamonds that are sleeping at the bottom of the oceans; every time they appear you can witness the power of God in their design. The diamonds of congress60 transmit the shining to other invisible circles of creation in existence and non-existence. This love is endless as it circulates more and more beyond our understanding. This is gradual but eventually the drops make up the ocean.

Zhinova by Raad

Raad: do you have any questions?

Guardian: talk to me about the queen of sun.

Raad: being in love makes the heart burn; there is an old tale of a lover named Zhinova, a sad story indeed.

Zhinova's father was killed in the war and her brother took care of her. After sometime, her cousin came to ask for her hand in marriage and he was one of the many who were rejected by her brother.

Finally some people who had come to propose kidnapped her after being rejected. Zhinova was taken against her will and was sold as slave. Eventually she ended up in Rome where she was locked up in a room.

She tries to escape and after breaking the window, she jumps down and falls into a carriage carrying a dead body. She keeps quiet fearing she would be found which she was when they reached the cemetery. Once again she escaped and ran from place to place.

On the other hand, her cousin who was madly in love with her had been searching for her city by city and along the way he was also taken as a slave.

In another place while Zhinova was trying to escape from her captors she fell into a river, drowned and died.

When the merchant's caravan that had Zhinova's cousin as a slave passed by the river, he saw the lifeless body of his beloved Zhinova in water. This was so tragic for him that he also jumped into the river and drowned himself.

This was one lifetime of the queen of sun as Zhinova; the third time was another repeat.

Goodbye

Zhinova

Ani: what is the lesson in Zhinova's story?

Guardian: there are some interesting points in it; for example, it shows that life is a continuing game and human's physical body is just a garment. Human being constantly changes this garment in the evolution process.

Zhinova is the queen in another chapter of her life; we saw the queen's life from the time that she was released of the spells and curses. Her head was separated from her body and each was sent to a different place. This is only one page of her life and we had no idea about the previous pages; her life as Zhinova is one of those previous pages.

Zhinova and Aton loved each other very much; these two lovers always wanted to be with each other and every time a conspiracy prevented them from union and death did them apart. Now I will tell the story in more details.

The story began with the birth of Zhinova and her lover. This time around they were cousins and when they were growing up they felt a strong attraction towards each other. This was because of the hidden knowledge they each had in their archive and sub-conscious.

Since they were young their families told to wait until they reach the legal age. After a few years and right before they get married, Zhinova's father is killed in the war and their marriage is postponed for a year to mourn her father's death.

After one year as it was time for their wedding, her older brother who was the head of the family then, rejected the cousin as he thought they were poor. He thought that if he found a wealthier husband for his sister, he wouldn't have to work hard anymore.

Anyway, because of her amazing beauty other proposals were given for her and one was from another country. Her brother did some research and found out they practiced another religion. At that time Neynava was the capital of Assyria and this story took place before the dynasty of the Mad's.

In those times Iran was not a federal state and didn't have a strong army, so every now and then, the Assyrian soldiers attacked and looted the cities and took young girls and boys as slaves. They sold them in slave markets and many families were separated from each other.

During this time, a brave warrior and a fearless general named Hokhashtar ordered this statement to be written above the clay boards of every student.

Neynava must be destroyed.

This caused a deep-rooted hatred among every young child in the country, an inborn desire for revenge and when these young boys became strong men, a huge army was formed and they attacked Neynava and wiped it off from the face of earth.

Anyways, after the refusal of Zhinova's brother and the chaos surrounding the city, some looters kidnap the beautiful Zhinova and take her to a slave market in Neynava.

The conditions were very difficult for Zhinova, far from her family and city and away from her beloved. She was doing very bad mentally and attempted to commit suicide many times. However, every time she stayed alive just to see her beloved's face once more.

Few months pass by and she gets to know a decent Persian merchant who out of compassion plans to rescue her. Because they spoke the same language they form a strong bond and amidst tight security he hides her in his goods on the back of a camel and takes her out of the city.

After a few stops in a couple of cities, once again Zhinova's beauty gets her into trouble and she is kidnapped for the second time. This time she was sold to a Roman and she was held hostage on the second floor of a house.

During all this time she felt her beloved's presence in her heart and knew he was looking for her everywhere. So she decided to escape on her own. Using bed sheets she made herself a rope and she climbed down early one morning. She hid in a carriage carrying a dead body and left the city.

When the carriage arrived at the cemetery and people came for the body, they saw the beautiful Zhinova. She started to run as fast as she could and found herself in the middle of a desert.

Hungry, thirsty and exhausted she fainted; a caravan from her country found her and gave her water and food. She regained her consciousness and told them her story. Some people who were from her town recognized her and told her of her beloved's search for her.

Meanwhile, Aton had been searching everywhere for Zhinova and wherever he found clue for her he would go. Finally, he was also taken as a slave and sold to an opportunist merchant; this caused a delay in his search for his lover.

However, things seemed a little brighter for Zhinova and the people of the caravan promised her safe journey back to her city. Night falls and everyone goes to sleep. Zhinova was thinking about Aton and the fact that they would be united soon and all these nightmares would end.

As fate has it she would not be reunited with her lover in this lifetime. In the cover of darkness, thieves and bandits attack the caravan and kill everybody; Zhinova tries to escape and while she was running and she come across a cliff and not knowing the height, she jumps off the cliff and falls to a tragic death.

Zhinova's body is carried by the current to the side of the river where Aton's caravan was staying. When Aton goes to get water from the river he sits down and thinks about all the painful memories of separation from his beloved, about the sweet memories when she was in his arms and they were together.

He was lost in thought when he suddenly saw a body floating lifelessly in the river. At first he thought it's man, but looking closer he realized it's a woman. He goes into the water and pulls her head out of the water; his heart is pounding and there is a sense of familiarity. He lifts her hair up from her face and sadly, sees her beloved's lifeless face in front of him.

'Oh God, Zhinova what happened to you my love? What are you doing here like this?'

Aton freezes and can't believe his eyes. 'No, no, you can't be dead, I just found you my love; don't die on me, please.'

There was a deafening silence everywhere and it was as if everything and everyone was mourning for Zhinova and Aton. Aton stood up and raised his hands towards the heavens and screamed 'why, why? '

He kissed and hugged her beautiful face and cried and cried. His shivers made Venus and other angels come down and watch this scene in tears.

Although Venus and other angles were aware of the divine knowledge behind this tragedy, they couldn't stop feeling sad for this couple and did not permission to interfere.

Aton began stroking her hair, looked up to the sky and said 'Night is black just like Zhinova's hair, the valley, the river, the mountain, the sun and the moon are all black for me. It is as if everything is wearing black and my life from now on is dark and black.'

He looked into her eyes which were covered with her long eye lashes and said out loud 'Zhinova's beautiful eyes are closed and she sees nothing; my eyes shall join her eyes as well and can't bear not seeing her.'

He touched her lips with his fingers and said 'her lips are closed and cannot speak again; my lips shall also be sealed soon and I will never speak again.'

When he looked at her broken neck he couldn't control his rage, he looked up towards the heavens and said 'every night and every moment, I asked you and prayed to you to unite me with Zhinova. I never thought that you would unite us in this manner.'

He turned back to his beloved and gently stroked her hair, face and hands. He was no longer crying, his face was raging with anger. He began talking to his beloved 'it has been a few years that I have been searching for you everywhere; I endured all kinds of hardship for your love and nothing made me give up on you. I will finish my search for your union even in death.'

After a brief silence, he bids farewell to Zhinova's body and then screams 'my Zhinova, I will join you soon, wherever you are.'

He suddenly began running to the shock of Venus and other angels who were watching. They warned him not to commit suicide 'don't do this Aton, this will separate you from Zhinova; it will put a distance between you two.'

But Aton did not hear them and ran as fast as he could up the same cliff and jumped down and died the same tragic death like his lover.

Due to screams of Aton, the merchant goes looking for him and comes across the lifeless body of Zhinova. He thinks to himself she must have disobeyed her master and remembers of his own slave. He gets worried after a while and looks up to the sky and says 'what kind of a life is this when our assets and investments can suddenly disappear, just like that.'

Guardian: peace and blessings upon all the virtuous men and women. Thank you for attending the third anniversary of congress60.

Sardar: in the name of God. My salutes upon you all; we are all very delighted to see your celebration and strong cooperation of the family of congress60. Dindastur feels very happy as he can sense a union between him and members of C60. He remembers the union that we all shared in space.

Guardian: I was so busy during the celebration that I forgot to thank my masters.

Sardar: the ruler of righteousness says 'it is best that you keep it in you because human beings judge according to their knowledge and awareness and it is not yet time for some to know the story. It must go on until the time for its discovery arrives.'

Our friends also share the common prayer in the placeless space where hearts race in the eagerness of redemption; we are all grateful that the path has been opened for the lost and the forsaken.

And now the queen' story, shall I continue?

Guardian: yes, tell me more about the queen even though, it saddens me. I must know the secret.

Sardar: I shall disclose details of her last lifetime as the queen had many chapters on earth. She was a special being and a rare one indeed.

Since Dindastur was searching for his family in other lands, dark forces destroyed the queen in a very ruthless manner. Dindastur wasn't an ordinary man; he was trained academically and had travelled to many destinations. However, those who did not realize his amazing potentials sold him as a slave and he lived close to us and continued his studies.

The queen was an example of a good breed at her times, but satanic forces wanted to own her through marriage which she rejected. As you know she paid a heavy price for this and she realized it was the hardest divine test ever.

Although she was scared deeply and almost beyond recognition and after finding her mate, she was forgiven by God.

When it is time, the face of this good human being will be shown to you; her name is second eagle and she has joined the research team. Do you know White eagle? He is her sponsor.

Guardian: yes.

Sardar: the second eagle is the queen of sun and she has married white eagle; in fact they finally found each other although her face was deeply scared and she was beyond recognition.

Goodbye

Love's tragedy

Ani: what is going on here? White eagle marries the queen? So her lover was white eagle? How did they find each other? How come she has a deep scar on her face? I thought when they found each other the queen was a manifestation of astonishing beauty.

Guardian: the scar is due to the torture the queen went through by her captors; before she was beheaded she was beaten very badly. That is why she had the deep scar on her face and for some reasons that God only knows, she was transferred to the next world with that scar.

My beloved Ani, where is this amazing and at the same time, tragic love story going? It reminds me of saying from Raad; he said 'love knows no beginning or an end.'

Everyday a small piece of this tragic puzzle is found which resembles millions of other such tragedies and we are so incapable of understanding them.

How little we know about evolution, numerous lifetimes and other mysterious realms; the mystery of love, truth and the creator is an ongoing dilemma.

I cannot describe queen's love for white eagle and vice versa; words will not be enough to express its vastness.

Writing about such love needs a Shakespearean touch; I cannot do justice to the story.

The pain and suffering of these loved ones make me restless constantly and I ask why; the answer is have patience, we know what we're doing and you don't. So I say I 'm going to be patient and patience is a divine quality.

The queen of sun was a name that king Khosrow gave her because of her astonishing beauty and the second eagle was the name that Sardar has given her. I'm not sure of her real name in that time but I think Zhinova was a real name in that other lifetime of hers and white eagle was her cousin Aton.

Since he was faced with the lifeless body of Zhinova and due to extreme sadness and pain, he committed suicide. He thought it would reunite him with his beloved, but we know that suicide does not connect souls in the other world. In fact, it creates a huge distance between them and makes it very difficult for them to be together. In reality, Zhinova's lover definitely experienced long years of loneliness on earth and other dimensions which involved hot climate of Africa and India to freezing climate of Alaska until he received God's grace and was reunited with his beloved.

As we earlier read in Rumi's poetry, an individual can be an Indian or an African in certain lifetimes and come back as Asian or European in other lifetimes. The self does not change; it is the different physical bodies that vary when the individual sets foot on earth.

Therefore, white eagle was an Indian in one life and an Iranian war commander in another who wanted to marry the queen. Of course, these are a few chapters in their lives and we will definitely hear more of the other lives they lead in future.

Greetings upon my children, I hope you're all well and happiness is more within your reach. The effort of everyone is observed very well and Dindastur is the most excited among all of us.

We are all amazed by the thing that connects us all and leads us into the right path.

Do you have any question?

Guardian: the queen of sun?

Sardar: you know that universe is based on the opposites and there is no doubt in God's justice and fairness of his creation. What we are witnessing is the journey of the spirit that has no ending.

Do you agree?

Guardian: yes.

Sardar: the spirit comes into the body for the purpose of experience and refinement along with carrying God's command. Otherwise, some people on this journey only appear to be human beings when in truth, they are satanic forces; this has been proven to you. Am I right?

Guardian: yes, that's right.

Sardar: the forbidden documents and protected scriptures that have been tampered with are used to mislead human beings. The queen had fallen victim to such black magic and witchcraft and was rescued by you. She was tortured and imprisoned heavily by satanic forces and her face was badly damaged.

We shall now describe the story of her decapitation once more for your book.

The queen had several names and her title was the last one of them. She was a decent person but became drowned in catastrophe because of her marvelous beauty.

Her first desire was to be beautiful and this was a formula for disaster. Dindastur says 'she was kidnapped from our land at that time. Although there were many guards there, they managed to take her away without anyone noticing and then they burned her'.

Guardian: if they wanted her, why did they burn her?

Sardar: they wanted to own her and she was very strong and stubborn and would not surrender. She was in captivity for many years and became mad and they ordered her burning.

Guardian: in these stories, somehow the parties involved become relatives to each other, why?

Sardar: when we are all heading towards one direction we become relatives. The ruler of righteousness says 'you have forsaken the things on earth, what are looking for in the sky?'

Guardian: tell him that we're looking for that which can't be found.

Sardar: excellent.

Guardian: I'm feeling nostalgic and astonished at how love is so eternal.

White eagle: this love is continuous in life and other circles of creation and it shows that we are all one in existence; this existence is the manifestation of divine love and compassion.

You should not be nostalgic because you are living with those who have been around you constantly and it will go on eternally. You must remain happy and cheerful always.

You have started the second book already and we want to have your writings in the archive.

Guardian: the queen?

White eagle: you know that in life, the physical body can travel many places; with modernity the means of transportation have advanced even further. However, for other bodies of the human being and spirit this is even much easier.

In one lifetime of judge Share the queen had the name of Shiva. The individuals who were after the queen followed her into her next life and the story went on for a long time.

This time around when the queen was reincarnated, she fell in love with the commander and all those things happened to her.

We are saying that love is eternal and does not perish with death although it might take several lifetimes to achieve union. The queen did not ask for beauty after those terrible experiences and only requested union with her lover. Let me tell you about some unbelievable events in continuation of the previous story.

Guardian: please continue.

White eagle: this part is about me; at that time my name was Petro's. When the spell was lifted, continuation of research became easier. I love the queen exactly the way she is.

If God wants it, I will reveal her face to you.

Guardian: what is the role of judge Share in these events?

White eagle: the evil ones imprisoned the judge because he opposed them; in next life they even burned him alive. He quit his profession in his following lives.

You know about the next phase already; the person who burned the judge was the kidnapper together with the lady in blue. Because she was a witch she was supposed to be burned, but they burned Shiva by mistake instead of her.

We were glad to participate in your celebration and observed how in a special place and without words, a matter is presented in a well deserved manner.

To continue the story, please present you questions.

Guardian: throughout all phases, Petro's was searching for the queen in different bodies. Is that right?

White eagle: yes, Petro's was looking for her, but the directions always changed and different events drove them further apart.

Guardian: you said that presently the queen's face has a deep scar and Sardar had said that her beauty would return. Has it?

White eagle: partly.

Guardian: how were the evildoers punished in these reincarnations, for their deeds?

White eagle: if someone losses his real self and becomes a tool for evil and his intentions, then it becomes very difficult for him to change his ways.

God wants to open his eyes, but if he continues to sleep then the weight of his mistakes is reduced by suffering in each lifetime. Individuals who become addicted to money and power, in most cases loose the gift of love and compassion and their selfish desires overcome their selfless spirit.

The queen suffered so much because of a selfish desire she had; she wanted beauty and fame more than anything in the world.

This is was her inner wish and I was caught up in the game as well; it caused me a few lifetimes of being forsaken and I even lost the ability to speak.

These chapters in our lives can sometimes appear unbelievable and take us to impossible places and back. Take me for example; I went from the coldest regions of American continent to the hottest, most dangerous jungles of Africa and India. I was after sometime, reminded of the reason behind my journeys back and forth and made to see the unbreakable chains of lives which are forgotten mostly but continue to exist. It is as if they are busy gathering energy in nature; it is not the repetitions but love that connects us. For those who seek to find the conclusion of these lives and are aware of the dangers lying ahead, they might get to stops many times where they have left some things behind.

The queen showed me that through our connection I can always find her again and again.

Guardian: now that you have found the queen, do you feel content?

White eagle: this record is kept in the archive; when someone finds his or her beloved, the feeling is beyond explanation. In fact, you realize that this was what you were searching for all your lives.

Greetings upon my children, I hope you are doing well. How is the writing of your book going?

Guardian: I'm doing my best to write everything; I've drawn certain conclusions from the queen's story, but I have no information about her enemies.

Sardar: in other words, you mean the dark side.

Guardian: yes.

Sardar: the event where the lady in blue was spared being burned because Shiva was mistakenly burned is a real fact.

This is life and continuation of its numbers; God deemed it necessary for the dark forces to exist in the world for the purpose of refinement and purification.

The witch went on to gain power and influence in the palace using various dirty tricks.

She used her influence to commit many murders in the palace together with the ruthless man and for each murder they committed, various retributions took place.

Dindastur says that the reason for leaving his town was to find the murderers of his family. The ruler of righteousness disagrees though; he believes it was because of a divine command. The queen's soul was lost and we couldn't locate her anywhere, but due to my efforts in gathering a large group of friends we were able to carry out the divine command again and once again, defeat Satan.

Dindastur says 'I was searching for the queen, but I found a master whose teachings changed me forever. I lost someone dear to me but then found two invaluable treasures namely Sardar and ruler of righteousness.'

Anyways after a thorough search and inquiry we formed the triangle that we needed in order to battle the dark forces.

They on the other hand, continued their vengeance and evil intentions lifetime after lifetime and would not budge.

In fact, it was Dindastur who recommended that we conduct our search for you.

Years went by without anything happening and once your ship was exploded amidst a great victory. This was because they tried to destroy the same people over and over again as you know very well.

Goodbye

Earth is mother's arms

Raad

Time net room

Raad: how are you my friends? Where are you in your work and research?

Guardian: the dark side in queen's tale.

Raad: darkness operates in two ways; first is the individual's own ignorance acting out independently and second is with collaboration of Satan and his evildoers which is what happened to your clan.

If an ignorant person moves towards wisdom by contemplation and decency, there is a chance for liberation. However, if the person desires darkness and goes into it willingly then many, many lifetimes are needed for contribution and payback.

There are three stages in such evil works; ignorance, revenge and retribution. In your case, divine forces helped to alleviate each factor to an extent; this is the reason why the lady in blue had to payback for some of her misdeeds and the rest is left aside for another lifetime.

As for the ruthless killer and womanizer who abused and mistreated the woman in the palace, he has led and will lead many lifetimes of suffering, misery and agony. No one really knows when the divine grace shall befall him and what the future holds for him.

As far as the queen is concerned, she did not wish to return to earth immediately and sought her lover instead. She realized that by remaining in that realm the spell would not work on her anymore and thus, regained her old beauty again.

Do you have any more questions?

Guardian: not really.

Raad: earth is like mother's arms where we are raised and trained. If we learn our lessons we do not need to return; otherwise, the comings and goings have to take place. We will have to repeat every move over and over until we recognize the right from wrong. Once we are transferred to the other realm, we truly realize the value of our deeds; we learn that decency and integrity is the core of being human. Hopefully, we can all abide by divine values.

Guardian: sister?

Pakrobad: Julia whom you know as Lady Jones was also my sister; they were separated for a few lifetimes and once again found each other. We know that if God wills, everything in universe can be united. Julia and Zhinova were also sisters in that life and in another time, they were twin sisters.

This might seem like a fairytale or a play, but all these things have happened to us and there are bitter memories from then. However, we praise the lord as the suffering has ended and we are all united to share the story with you so that you can write and record the truth to create awareness in others. Hopefully, it might awaken those who are still sleeping.

White eagle: we are glad that everyone is progressing according to the plans and that everything and everyone is connected by love.

Some things are available in the archive of everyone, but it is not recommended that they find out about it.

Guardian: yes, the issue is whether they can handle that information; sometimes too much information could lead to certain damages.

White eagle: yes, in that situation living life becomes very difficult for the individual. Do you have any questions?

Guardian: could you talk about numbers or differently put, the journeys to earth and back.

White eagle: the numbers represent lives, numbers continue one after each other and so do lives. The self or ego is the essence which remains the same as each life is started; the only difference is the level of knowledge, awareness and training that varies every time.

Guardian: could you explain more about the relationship of numbers with each other after their journeys are over.

White eagle: if someone kills another for money, the story will continue in the next realm. The same goes for love and close connections; we are connected like chains to each other and our relationships are influenced by them.

If someone's prophet is Jesus or Mohammad or Buddha, it makes no difference. It is the garment that differs and that is perished in evolution, only the root remains.

Similar to the stories that happened to us; we were from different cultures, faiths and backgrounds. However, at some point in time we merged with each other.

Guardian: what do you merge?

White eagle: similar to how numbers are added to each other, one plus two and three and so on.

Guardian: so, we have followed one another because we are related in a way.

White eagle: yes, these relations are like contracts between us and it keeps us connected.

Guardian: so marriage, brother, sister, parent and spouse are all contracts we have on earth?

White eagle: yes.

Guardian: we welcome the birth of nature to you, the queen, Lady Jones, Judge, Louie, father and the rest of the lovely members of congress.

The pure ones leave darkness because their master is God; they ascend towards light unlike the wicked who burn in their own fire of greed and deception. Their deeds become the wood for the fire burning in depths of hell.

An interesting incident happened; one of my students gave me a gift along with a letter to pass on to you. Some people believe that you are all located somewhere on planet earth; also, another student has given a letter for you which I hope you would answer.

White eagle: my warm greetings to all members of this universal congress who are always kind to us. We are busy carrying out our duties in another circle of creation.

We also send our warmest regards to everyone including those who imagine us in the physical realm. In truth, we look at them in the same manner that they see us.

Writings that have described the unknown worlds from the past still impress us even though we are in another realm.

Certain ideas have been expressed articulately in your writings which I thought could only progress in a native Indian culture. You have illustrated how humans can remain connected throughout universe by love and knowledge.

My message to those who have written to me is 'I thank you all greatly; to symbolize a healthy balance in life, just remember the eagle when searching for the prey.'

Do you understand my feelings?

Guardian: words cannot express my current state; I love you from the bottom of my heart. I'm dismayed by divine forces and how they have connected us even though we are from different backgrounds, cultures and time. Today, we have dressed our words with the garment of action; human beings who have uplifted themselves from the dark world of destructive drugs and harmful habits to a new era of light, positivity and love.

White eagle: we are glad that this journey has started its beginning and is heading for eternity; the journey of self – awakening and enlightenment. You have to transform the congress into an academic institution where research, awareness and knowledge are pursued.

The city suddenly enters into chaos, but God's light breeze rules the state after sometime and majesty, magnificence and health have returned; you shall benefit the most.

Friends send their regards and are grateful to God and the guardians so that everything is immersed in divine grace.

In your quarters, friends feel this perfection with love; those who are drowned in his grace will be promoted. However, those who only seek greed and power will have no gain.

*You do know what I'm talking about;
greed and gluttony are never ending desires that can turn day into night.*

God, master and mentor

White eagle: let's talk about sense or perception which is a very significant topic. The physical senses need caring and training and are guided by a unique mechanism; each cell is playing a role in receiving and transmitting.

Guardian: I would like you to continue the talk on right and wrong choices.

White eagle: we briefly described a creature to you which is from the same family. As you know in your dimension, objects occupy a space and have an area and a circumference. However, there are no such things in our realm and everything is situated like rings next to one another; no space is occupied.

Dinosaurs are divided into two categories according to their good and bad characteristics; some of them were in charge of destruction.

That is why they became extinct by the divine command and ceased to exist in the physical world. However, they still exist in the other realm and we do not know the path of their evolution yet.

There seemed to be some dangers caused by them for humans living on earth and this could have decided their fate.

In every dimension that you travel in you can see creatures that have yet to step on earth; this means they have not received their acceptance yet.

Sometimes we come across certain creatures that are not very intelligent; you might ask what the point in creation of these creatures is?

First, the very existence of such creation is the point; in addition to the display of power and ability of creator. It starts with the smallest living thing and moves up to the largest creatures.

All creatures in creation are the same kind, but have been transformed to different forms in various evolution cycles.

Amazing worlds that are parallel or interwoven exist and one could hardly believe their level of complexity.

And so the quest goes on, to know where we've come from and where we're headed; how is the process planned and many more questions such as these.

However, not everyone thinks about these questions and don't want to know where they have come from.

Creation has an answer for the unwise such as natural disasters, diseases and annoying creatures which are on the rise.

Guardian: do you mean microbes?

White eagle: yes, the microbes are acting according to their nature.

Guardian: are the microbes constantly improve themselves and become harder to battle with?

White eagle: yes, this is the cycle of evolution and it happens in all creatures. We assist conscious humans in their battle with these annoying creatures.

Guardian: I have a question about my out of the body experiences.

White eagle: alright.

Guardian: I know that everything in these trips is related to me and I play the main role in them; I feel that if I'm not ready mentally and spiritually for these trips, I will have lots and lots of delusions and mental problems.

White eagle: serenity of thought and mind can create a higher power in you.

You can meet anyone that you like as long as you attain that state of mind which we mentioned before.

There is also the fear which is still inside of you and you have not been able to get rid of it completely; prior to these out of the body trips, you must contain your fears and achieve internal peace. This will also help your daily challenges as well; you must work hard to review the archive and understand your old files.

Time

Ani: so far I have not understood a whole lot from white eagle's explanations.

Guardian: which part don't you understand?

Ani: there were many new information which are very useful, but I still don't understand a lot of the things.

Guardian: what do you suggest I should do?

Ani: explain sense or perception more.

Guardian: maybe I should call my brother Amir and since he is an actor and they work a lot with feelings, he could explain more.

Ani: maybe you should.

Guardian: fine, I'm calling him right now; hello Amir.

Amir: hello there, long time no hear.

Guardian: I have a question for you Amir; what's your understanding of sensing or sensory powers or perception?

Amir: from which point of view do you want to know? from an artistic point of view or scientific or in general?

Guardian: you can tell us everything you know.

Amir: when there is an image or thought of something in the mind, a feeling is produced; this is called sense or perception.

Our body shows reactions to external events and these reactions are initiated by sensory messages.

Feeling is the source of emotions, affection and movement and the great miracle here is that imagination is also the source of emotions and movements.

Guardian: thank you very much for these useful information; we'll talk soon.

Amir: you're welcome; see you soon.

Ani: it was a great idea to call Amir.

Guardian: Amir mentioned great points which can point us to the right direction. It's been sometime that I'm thinking about sense and I want to gather all the materials so that I can sense, sense much better.

That's why I want to get back to our pillar or foundation.

Ani: what is that?

Guardian: self or ego.

Ani: since when ego has become the pillar?

Guardian: since it was given a clear definition; because ego or self has been described as either the spirit or the body. However, it must be known that ego or self is not the same as spirit or the physical body; in fact, it is very different from them.

Thus, now that we have a clear definition for ego or self, we can designate it as the pillar or the foundation and build our building on top of it. Do you remember the definition of the ego or self?

Ani: the thing that determines the existence of a creation, physically and spiritually.

For example, the self of a hen determines the kind of creature it is; its characteristics and attributes and its meaning at the core.

Same goes for the self of a date tree or a human being; this self has desires, needs and wants.

Guardian: how do you categorize these wants in a human being?

Ani: they include all his logical or illogical needs and wants and they are divided into three groups:

First is the demanding ego which has mostly unreasonable and illogical wants and needs. Any sort of immoral or hurtful behavior is done or thought of without any kind of remorse or regrets; in fact, the ego considers itself smart and cunning since it is able to get away with everything. For example, theft, crime, drug and abuse are all done on a daily basis with no remorse or thoughtful contemplation. This is the lowest form of ego and its down on the evolution path.

Second is the blaming or remorseful ego which does all the mentioned above vices and sins only to have regrets and second thoughts after the act. This ego is situated in the middle of the evolution path and we can say that most human beings are placed on the stronger or weaker side of this ego. For instance, for someone to talk to a love one in a harsh tone brings remorse and regret and for another, committing murder; basically the conscience is in a constant conflict at this stage!

Eventually, the ego will redeem itself from the chains of these unreasonable demands.

Third and last is the reassuring or confident self or ego. All wants and desires are logical and reasonable at this stage and it is high on the evolution path. We all hope to arrive at this stage one day.

Guardian: so up to this point we can place everything on the foundation which is called ego, materially or spiritually, visible or invisible; whether at present or past, before birth or after death.

Let's not forget that at the time of death, divine agents confiscate or impound the self or the ego and cut off the connection and ties it has with that physical body forever and guide it to the next realm of existence.

Reason's command

Ani: I know that since the masters revealed the details of the queen's story you have become restless and you are always thinking; you are always quiet and in deep thoughts.

Guardian: you have always understood me and I have no complaints. Do you have a question?

Ani: yes, how could someone be a killer in one lifetime and a mother of the person she has murdered in another?

Guardian: I'm not sure exactly, maybe it is similar to the case of two rival families who agree to the marriage of their children so as to make peace. I don't know, maybe God gives a second chance to sinners to make things right.

If they decided to stay on the good side, they are spared and if not, they are sent into the dark for a very long time. We have witnessed this in our family story; the lady in blue, who murdered me and my family in the past, is my mother in this lifetime and she made use of her opportunity and showed the right path. This is why she was spared the death of her daughter, but still lost two of her sons who were very young; in this way she felt what it's like to lose a child and a loved one and this pain will remain with her till the end of her days.

I'm going crazy seeing God's justice in work and I'm able to touch his heaven and hell in a real way. When he says 'my hell and heaven equals the earth and the sky' I understand that anywhere in this universe could be a heaven or hell.

Now I know that when we receive the tragic news about the death of our loved ones, it feels like hell; when a murderer is prosecuted in court and all the details of his ruthless act is revealed to everyone, hell has opened up a space for him.

This is the first taste of hell and the rest would follow suit after death.

How magnificent and beautiful is God's justice; every action has a result, good or bad.

Ani: I'm also surprised by his justice and I'm trying to comprehend all the events.

How did the lady in blue prevent her daughter's death?

Guardian: if the individual stops her immoral actions and move towards virtues, God gives the person a second chance to make up for the all the wrongdoings. Maybe even the death of the individual is delayed to give him more time.

Obey God's commandments and refrain from vices so that your sins are forgiven and you are given a specific deadline to do so.

It is very simple; don't think that by just regretting a wrongdoing and not ever doing it again, it is over and you are immediately forgiven. No, not at all; gradually and little by little, we have to answer for all of our wrongdoings.

Ani: so, what happens to God's grace here?

Guardian: his grace has a system and order about it and it is not as easy as you think. Let me give you an example.

First of all know that the next life is very similar to this life and it is not something strange and out of the ordinary. I constantly hear people say that no one has ever come back from death to share information; well, I've come from there and I've been constantly in communication with that world.

Now, the example; Imagine you have a cheque book and without the necessary financial back up you are buying expensive items and paying for them with the cheques. However, you have no money and after sometime lots of people including the law are looking for you.

Then at that very moment you regret all your wrongdoings and decide from the bottom of your heart not to ever do such things again. Does this mean that everything would be over? Of course, God's grace is there and so are the creditors who want their money.

All those bad cheques you gave out will definitely haunt you and they won't disappear magically. Who has to answer for the bad cheques, you or God?

If the judge and God forgive you and let you get away, should the people who lost their money do the same?

I have used drugs for many years and have become a junkie, would I get everything back as soon as I quit drugs? I don't think so; I can give many more such examples.

Ani: what happens to God's grace then?

Guardian: I don't think there is such a thing as grace without hard work and suffering.

Let me illustrate my point differently; suppose that you are driving your car in a straight road towards your intended destination. For some reasons such as jealousy, vengeance, lust, wealth, fame, power...you deviate from the main road and continue on a dirt road.

After some driving and while having fun and enjoying yourself, you realize you are going downhill and the speed of your car is increasing gradually. At first you enjoy the speed and you are unaware that there is a deep, high canyon ahead of you and with the high speed you are gaining, you will surely fall into a fatal crash.

You are also unaware that you have no brakes and your idea of being in control is an illusion. Hence, you and your passengers are heading for a disaster unknowingly. Let's think that you have suddenly realized the magnitude of the disaster and deep down you become remorseful and decide to change your ways, move away from vices and towards virtues.

How does God's grace interfere in this situation? Does it command the brakes to work or miraculously stop your car?

Ani: let's assume that his grace falls upon the passengers of the car and it is stopped; what about the dysfunctional car in middle of nowhere with no brakes?

Mind

Ani: what is mind and where is it located?

Guardian: if the driver realizes the grace of God and be grateful for his help and wants to mend his ways, he has a tough road ahead of him. He has to climb up the hill and find the main road.

Ani: that shouldn't be hard at all.

Guardian: the problem is getting back to the right path; there are many obstacles as a result of ignorance and indifference. They must be solved one by one before anything else.

If I want to draw a conclusion here I can say that my mother's car was travelling at a very high speed towards disaster; unfortunately, due to high speed and sharp turns, two of her sons were thrown out of the car and died. However, since she decided to change her ways at some point God's grace befell her and her car was stopped and thus, the life of her other child was spared.

Now, her car is damaged and far from the actual road; anyone that halts their destructive habits and decides to change their ways and have God's grace on their side, will face two roads ahead of them. One appears to be difficult and impossible and the other, easy and comfortable.

Ani: why do you say it appears to be easy or difficult?

Guardian: I think God the great architect has so delicately, left a magical touch on our path.

Ani: can you explain?

Guardian: he puts the individual before two roads, one is fire and the other is comfort. The magic lies here; if the person chooses fire, he comes through the easy and comfortable road and if he decides to go through the easy road, he will face fire and hardship.

In other words, the wrong road is the apparently easy road which will eventually lead one into flames of destruction. The right road however, appears difficult but will lead the person into a green oasis. Thus with every hardship comes joy and comfort.

Now, let's get back to our own car which is left in the middle of a downhill and it looks like it has had an accident. To come out of this situation safely, there are two options. First is the way of vices and immorality which apparently is the easy one; we just need to put the car into neutral and it will slide downhill effortlessly and crash deep into death and eventually, hell.

The second option is moving away from vices and immorality towards virtues and integrity; this road appears difficult impassable and it leads to the right path.

Judge

29/05/1994

Guardian: I have been taken to court due to my indifference and I thought the judge can fix everything for me.

White eagle: all members are here and send their regards to you; judge share says 'there has not been any flawless book of law up to now; the problem lies in betrayal of opportunists.'

I hope that you have thought about our last discussion and have reached certain conclusions.

Basically, we wanted to impart this knowledge on you that any creature having any form in any level of existence and during any kind of transformation, will retain its essence.

This is similar to a DNA when needing to identify someone; sometimes they identify dead people by their teeth. However, if a creature wants to completely change the physical body must be destroyed and reborn again. If it is an animal, there is the possibility of being promoted to a human being in the next cycle.

In the case of humans, they have to move up through the levels similar to a child in the elementary school; some people pass the grades and move up to high school and some fail and have to repeat the same class.

The important point is absorbing and understanding the knowledge.

We are still evolving and every realm has its own agendas.

If you look closely at every creature you can see endless beauty and greatness; each has a unique structure and can change shape and form when commanded.

Being human does mean physical promotion and progress, but that's not everything. Earth offers an opportunity for perfection but some do get stuck in the middle of the way for a very long time.

Guardian: so you're saying that even if a creature wants to cease existing, it is not possible!

White eagle: yes, in order to change there has to be another birth in addition to the divine command. In other words, a buffalo cannot suddenly turn into a human being within one cycle and the evolution process must take place.

Not all the creatures that we see around ourselves are here to evolve into a human being; pay attention.

The existence must complete and complement itself; attention should be given to the core of being, its essence and the materials it is consisted of.

The central core

03/06/1994

White eagle: we are currently researching and investigating different issues. People constantly join us in our realm and present new and innovative ideas to tackle different issues. Sometimes we come across difficult matters which pose a challenge to our progress; however, with hard work and determination we overcome most of them.

All in all, every problem has a solution and every door has a key; sometimes the issues differ with each other and require a different approach. It is possible to break through the central core of every particle, only the right path must be chosen. It needs thought, tools and experiments and in this manner, the impossible becomes possible.

This has been taken into consideration in categorization of nature; complete your world according to these values. Only then you will realize that issues which were seemingly hard are in fact, very easy.

The shining stars

26/08/1994

White eagle: at times it was said that every particle had a universe within; this was according to the understanding and intellect gained up to that time. Today with finding the hidden universes we should say that the particles were hidden from the physical eyes. They are still hidden, but using which sight?

We had a meeting today with some scientists who are working on Dinosaurs; their extinction was due to their destructive habits and failure in having the minimum intellectual requirements.

Guardian: you mean to say that their intellect or reason was lower than the minimum requirements?

In other words, to be an animal there is a minimum requirement as far as the intelligence and intellect are concerned; the same applies to human beings and in general, all creatures obey this requirement.

Do these Dinosaurs live in other circles of creation?

White eagle: yes, they are allowed to live only in the ethereal world and only their vegetarian kind; our scientists are conducting a research on their nervous system.

Lady Jones who is a biologist has worked in this field intensively.

Our research team is working hard so as to assist your world in their current challenges; the discussion on light and sound is a in-depth topic and we shall continue in our next session.

Try to strengthen your senses so that you can receive the notes from heaven; this is your gift.

Guardian: how is this done?

White eagle: by wanting, practice and determination.

Guardian: I have a question about my ring; in one of my trips someone wanted to take my ring away from me. After a long struggle I returned to my body and a few days later I lost my ring.

What is the connection of that trip to losing my ring?

White eagle: you were warned about your ring and you were told to protect it, but as usual you didn't pay attention.

To sustain life, we need many things such as food, shelter and love. Some of these creatures are here for our benefit and evolution; sometimes we use them as food and sometimes as clothing. This is a point to contemplate on.

I hope that you are all doing well and making the best of your potentials and abilities. We don't want anything more than that. You must try to rebuild and restore your body and health so that you can achieve the intended goal.

You have to strengthen your physique and will power and we'll assist you in other areas.

Guardian: Ani dreamt of the place you just described in her sleep last night. She was sleeping in our home in Tehran, though.

White eagle: yes, we transported you from the bus and your wife from your home, simultaneously last night. Tonight is for you to speak.

Guardian: I'm so glad to be in your company tonight. However, I'm still very confused; I'll try to clear my head.

White eagle: well, that's a good idea. Think well about the task ahead of you and focus on everything and everyone. We'll give you the necessary time and patience is needed.

Are there any questions?

Guardian: why did you transport me to somewhere cold last night? Why is this place called '60 degrees below zero'? Why does my wife still remember the place whereas I don't?

White eagle: we'll leave the memory of the scene in the mind of one of you only. The name has to do with the difficulty of the task and it's compared to a journey across such a region.

We want you to know that you have two responsibilities to accept, first is your physical body and the other, your psyche.

Guardian: how is an image recorded on the mind?

White eagle: this depends on the person who becomes close to the image so as to see it. We took you and Ani to a place filled with snow, but Ani didn't feel cold and observed everything. Do you understand?

Guardian: I'm very agitated at times and my mind is always working. I guess I still can't analyze these recent events.

White eagle: why don't you worry about your own problems? We'll do the planning for the future.

Guardian: I'm not worried about my work or responsibilities.

White eagle: then what?

Guardian: I have many questions about our connection.

White eagle: we showed you the beginning of the path; you are in a hurry to get results. We rather you be patient and give this enough time. We're proposing a gradual approach as there is a long way to go and time is needed for your mind and body to find their strength and health once again.

If we tell you to jump off a high altitude, you would ask how. However, if we teach you how to fly, then there would be no problem.

Guardian: you are right.

White eagle: so, take your time and think of becoming capable. Do you know what that means?

Guardian: yes, physical, psychological and mental strength.

White eagle: don't think thoughts that drain your energy. In order to serve humanity, hard work and determination is needed. We'll help you get through the cold.

Guardian: where do you get the patience and interest to help me?

White eagle: we don't have the problem of time which is very valuable in your world. If you want to climb unto a high summit, you must pace yourself and walk slowly. You will be guided for future aims because of your previous strength, your objective and mental state.

By using positive thoughts and energy, you can achieve your goal. Concentration on positive thoughts and reflecting them on your efforts, will pave the way forward.

Guardian: how do I strengthen my will power and overcome the obstacles?

White eagle: the problem must be looked at as already solved; that will diminish its size and it no longer creates fear. When we know what we want in life we can pursue it easier. Real desire is the key, and then comes other things.

Greetings and salutes upon you

Put in motion your chariots before termites damage its foundation.

We are all gathered here together with a dear guest named Rumi.

Guardian: I welcome his presence and am glad to be in his company.

White eagle: we were referring to earthly chariots which are the end of your chariot and the beginning of motion in eternity. We are referring to Rumi who has fulfilled the requirements.

It requires heart's longing to realize

Inspiration gives it a form

When it attains an image, continuous refinements strengthen the visions

That saying is the aim of our intention

Meaning, feeling, being; that is like God in existence and non-existence, invisible

Although, it can be seen

Similar to the diversity in beings, perception means variety.

The most important kind is the out of the body sensation.

Guardian: do you mean outside of physicality?

White eagle: yes.

The fairy tales could become a reality one day. Seek and you shall find is a famous chant by the champion of lovers, Rumi.

Green steps are awaiting you; we are glad that you have met researchers who speak the same language.

Keep the flag at raise

Farewell

Rumi and Shams

Ani: since you spoke of two remarkable men who have become bright stars in history, we should spend some time talking about them.

Guardian: I shall introduce a new perspective about them that is very different.

Ani: do you believe in this theory yourself?

Guardian: I do, but I will surely come under heavy criticism from those who believe otherwise.

Ani: what is your theory?

Guardian: although Shams was Rumi's master, he was not there physically and no one but Rumi could see him. In other words, Shams was someone from another realm or circle of creation and definitely had lived in Tabriz at some point in time. However, in Rumi's time he was only interacting with him in his visions.

Ani: so you're saying that Rumi met Shams in the time net room.

Guardian: that's exactly what I'm saying.

Ani: do you have any proofs for this?

Guardian: this refers to the five external senses and it is not understood by our physical senses. We do not know when and where Shams was born, we have no idea about his life and his death and there are no historical recordings about his family roots and upbringing.

With all these in mind, meeting Shams was such a remarkable event in Rumi's life that it changed his way of living, thinking and even being. All the famous poetries that are admired by many across the world were said in praise of Shams and his teachings.

Ani: he didn't say that they met beyond this physical realm.

Guardian: he is a researcher and documents only the evidences that are available; remember that I'm an explorer of the unknown and I'm slightly familiar with the hidden attributes of creation and human being.

Ani: so what about all these tails and stories about the encounter of these two and their romantic interactions?

Guardian: when we read something in a book we immediately believe the story without analyzing the details logically.

I shall bring a few examples from these stories to illustrate my point.

Some people imagine that somebody must hit dead end in order to quit drugs for good. This means being banished from family, friends and the society, losing one's job, spouse or home and eventually becoming a junkie. At this the addict either dies or quit drugs for ever. I beg to differ.

Yesterday, one of my friends told me that since I've hit dead end I've decided to quit drugs. I told him that he has been given the wrong information. I've neither reached dead end nor do I hate drugs. I hate my addiction but not drugs. I simply conducted an experiment without any intention to quit drugs and gradually my drug use became less. Less the drugs that I used the better I felt and finally I woke up from a deep sleep.

Even in both of my previous attempts in quitting drugs I hadn't reached dead end; currently my life's condition is very difficult but not a dead end.

Ani: I don't hate drugs because I took it as a medication back then and right now I look at it as a natural substance.

Guardian: For example, alcohol is a very useful substance in different areas; misuse of alcohol is the bad thing not the substance itself. Consider a kitchen knife and its different applications. The knife could either be used to kill someone or to cut things in a kitchen; depends on the intention of the user and not the object. If the intention is to kill, surely the killer can find other means to carry out his or her intention.

The main problem is not the knife or the drugs, it is us, ourselves. We must learn how to use everything at its right place and purpose. Otherwise opium has many benefits and uses in the medical field and acts as a healing agent. As master Silver puts it: we don't have to use everything that God has created; he has given us a reasoning power to use at our own discretion.

Anyways to get back to our previous discussion, I told my friend that people who hit dead end have lost their brakes. We want to help those who have brakes but it doesn't work very well.

Anyone can use their brakes of faith and intellect to stop the vehicle of drug addiction. People who believe in reasoning can use it as their brake and those who believe in faith can use faith as their brake. For those who believe in both it is much better and those who believe in neither, for now I can't say anymore.

Please go and bring the book of Shams for me.

Ani: alright, I hope that you have not lent the book to anyone. I found it, here you are.

Khorasani formalities

Guardian: in one of Rumi's books called 'Fihe mafih' the story goes on like this:

I think we've discussed enough on this matter; we should get back to the time net room and find out more pieces of the puzzle.

Ani: no, please stop; things are already very confusing as they are. Let's not add more to the unknown and try to clarify the issues on hand.

Guardian: the pages before our birth are about our previous lives and things we did in the distant past; this is called destiny which determines our present situation to a degree.

Of course, our life is determined by two factors, our destiny and our thoughts. Thus you can see that not everything in life is fate or destiny. The pages after our death will be written later on and are influenced by our present actions.

Basically, all that happen to us are the result of our own actions.

Ani: that's very hard to accept.

Guardian: knowing something is very different from understanding it. Anyways, are you ready for time net room?

Ani: yes I am, but before that can you explain to me how you leave your body and the story of you destroying those epigraphs.

Guardian: that's something that I cannot reveal, it's a secret.

Ani: I think you're exaggerating your case; what secret? Are you kidding me? There are zillions of books out there which talk about your so called secrets. Maybe they were secrets a thousand years ago, not now.

Guardian: it's not really like that; sometimes if you reveal something you're not supposed to, you can cause damage and make the situation worse than it already is. Every word has its own place and right timing makes a huge difference.

When it comes to divine knowledge, there's a battle between light and darkness, good and evil and knowledge against ignorance. Therefore, when certain discoveries have been made in regards to divine knowledge, the capacity of the people at that time determines if they can have access to that knowledge.

Otherwise, knowing this information can cause damage to the individuals due to lack of capacity in understanding.

However, sometimes there are certain issues understandable to majority of people which could harm the balance of power in politicians and governments. In other words, if people found out the truth, foundations of power and tyrants could collapse and that's why the oppressors would do anything to hide truth and maintain power.

Thus, they executed, murdered and prosecuted individuals who had broke the code of silence and had started to spread the truth; their revelations and knowledge were like weapons which could shatter the dark forces and they feared such people the most.

The silence of non-beings

09/04/1998

Time net room

White eagle: what was the topic of our discussion?

Guardian: sense.

White eagle: Sense is the unit in the human being which can transmit all the perceptions to the mind and thereafter the decision is made upon reasoning. Since we the human beings, are imprisoned by our five limited senses, we can only feel and experience this universe. A significant point is that we have a common sense which we share with the whole creation and we call it external or out of the body sense and it has a wide range of operation.

There are a lot of disagreements between people about this sense since some have experienced it and others have not and they don't understand each other at all.

It's like having vision and seeing colors as suppose to a blind person. No matter how the first person explains colors and feeling of vision to the blind person, he will never experience feeling or sensing it.

Thus one of the main resources of information for the intellect is sense. The weaker the sense the more limited is the range of intellect's operation. We can learn more about sense by providing information to the intellect through our sense; this is a principal in creation of the human being.

The human being can attain a place where he sees nothing but God.

Therefore I want to conclude that the mind and intellect of an addict is completely healthy; the problem lies in the ego and the irrational desires and also his sense has changed due to the disruption in his existential structures; both of these flaws have to be corrected.

The body of a shadow

16/04/1995

White eagle: greetings upon friends and seekers of knowledge; we are all doing well and are continuing our research for new discoveries.

We shall continue our discussions on shadows or parallel bodies; just like how our physical appearance is made up of different members, our shadows or parallel bodies also contain the same. We mentioned as well that one cannot observe a shadow within a shadow.

Initially a sense of attraction can cause you to see the shadow within a shadow and it differs in every individual. It is similar to a vision that needs glasses to be able to see far or near.

Let's look outside of the body, when you look closely into a shadow you can see another world; circles within circles of creation and parallel universes. Every time that we look closer we can see a divers creation and unique to its own.

You had asked for a private chat with Lady Jones, she says we are all in a close circle and we have the same intention.

Initially a sense of attraction can cause you to see the shadow within a shadow and it differs in every individual.

It is similar to a vision that needs glasses to be able to see far or near.

If you close the triangle of love, then we would not be able to claim that we have the highest form of love, love for God.

Because we have imprisoned love; one must go o the highest peaks and shout 'we praise you and love you'.

Maybe then we can get a little closer to you.

By forming a triangle of shadow, sense and attraction we can make a home for love.

If you have no question, we should be going.

Guardian: tell me something.

White eagle: sense, light and sound are like wings for high flying birds that arrive at the intended destination.

Farewell

Love

Ani: don't you want to talk about love? Please explain the triangle of love that White eagle illustrated.

Guardian: love burns everything on its path; one who has no love is empty within.

The stability and continuity of this phenomenon is like pure and clean oceans and rivers being created which serve as the food and strength of the righteous forces in every part of the world. Then love, this beautiful word, becomes meaningful and everyone will enjoy a positive mentality, hatred and bloodshed become meaningless. They no longer wage wars because of food and shelter and when there is justice, everything is equally available for everyone.

When there is suffering, most of it is healed or even there are no sufferings and this seed that has been planted by righteous training and has not fully grown yet, will multiply into so many until eventually there are vast fields which are self irrigated and their message is peace and this is their sign.

Vital efforts and endeavors will become so powerful like a gushing flood that gradually irrigate even the barren lands and turn them into fertile valleys and at that time the earth will become the great territory of God and you'll witness that which you've observed in nothingness.

Love which is the fourteenth valley will rotate in a way that all the spheres within the human being are a song that makes the listener ecstatic.

When the Supreme Power was transmitting his words, he dispatched all that he created or was creating, to be orchestrated and these sounds are visible in his words, as if he wants to introduce all of his creation through his voice, therefore observe all that he's done and is going to do.

The existence is love and kindness, all creatures are love, even those that appear rough, oceans and seas are love, mountains and clouds carry love for the creatures and vital rains which we need exudes from them, observe the sounds of all the tuneful birds, green valleys, lakes and the creatures in them, ice like crystals which reflect the divine colors differently and even words aren't able to express it, the air that guarantees us being alive.

Love is not comparable to anything; love is crossing, going and returning and once again going, returning and evolving, love is joining the Supreme Power whom we are all of him. Love is that Supreme Being, constantly with us who has manifested in various forms during countless rotations and we will reach him only when we have become perfect which means becoming him.

Love is neither the body nor the soul.

Love is what we have with us when we come into existence, the core of this existence.

How can we be all these things at some point; to be the Supreme Power when in fact only a drop of his existence has been placed in our being as safekeeping and this very drop makes us a part of his eternal existence and if we become that, then only we become a human being.

To be human means to be grateful to life, creation, creator, it's the meaning of the 14th valley. Now tell me if this path is easy, to forgive someone who has done you wrong or leaving one's self on the way to the universe within or flying consciously to the infinite depths of existence.

That's right, it is very difficult indeed but it can be done.

Maybe some are surprised or others are astonished that our universe and other universes distant themselves from darkness, but the book of love can never be closed and these circles while helping the infinite radiuses increase are intertwined with the meaning that they commenced with; its vastness is increased more and more and the destructive forces decline due to love's expansion and the real essence of mankind will be revealed more and more.

Love's chains are strengthened day by day, transmissions in the form of small particles find each other so as to become an army which deter the dark forces and carry out the command.

The alphabets of the valleys which carry the righteous message fly like butterflies on the waves of water and from far distances they reach everyone and pass the torch of love which is the source of light and guidance to every nation and tribe and this movement is the expression of the event which has to take place.

How can anyone prevent light, sound and sense from being expressed, this is his word which is deep-rooted in love and will pass through different borders and unite with those who yearn for it.

In truth, this word love is the foundation of existence and when in love, with all the calamities, one can learn what he was, is and will be in the future.

I'm truly sorry because I haven't been able to teach the real meaning of love to others, but I'm not sad as the universe is on the move and chooses that which has to remain in this circle of love.

This theme is so magnificent that for thousands of years we come following each other and tolerate all the hardships in order to pass a drop of this vast ocean to each other.

How fortunate is he who gives and does not wait for the return just like the Supreme Power who only observes, it is indeed very valuable to give and not take back unless there is ingratitude.

When the creature (human being) is on the right path, the Supreme Power will make his every step into a bed of roses where with the smallest breeze, wonderful fragrance fills the air, feels heaven with all his being and flies together with the existence; his eyes observe even in sleep and enjoy visiting the other divine phenomena.

Darkness and obscurity is meaningless to him, he bows down to creation at every moment and is grateful to the creator of love. These words might be laughable at the moment.

The lover and what is within him, is the only investment in the world where generosity increases the capital, at that time you all can see that in depth of love means arriving at the truth which is monotheism.

Ani: is there a higher level of love?

Guardian: yes there is, it is the love of the Supreme Power for his creation. To get to this stage, one must have experienced the first two stages and be prepared to sacrifice everything. At this stage the person is so in love with the Supreme Power that if he has one hundred lives he would sacrifice them for his beloved to pay the price of this love; he would be able to pass through the most difficult situations or would be guided through. He would uphold righteousness and truth and always stand by them.

Let's describe the three parameters involved in love.

First: shadow

He loves the whole creation without even trying to, he is in peace without even trying to be in peace, he loves all human beings without even trying to love them, he helps everyone without even trying to help, he shines like the sun, equally on everything and everyone without even trying to do so, for the sun it makes no difference where she is shining on, flower or the thorn.

At this stage, the lover and the beloved become one and united; you, who have been a lover up to now, are both lover and the beloved, because here, the Supreme Power loves you and his love within you, causes his creatures to fall in love with you.

Second: attraction

You see yourself in others and you want to assist them in any ways you can, to help them get through difficult stages in their lives and achieve peace and comfort; others see signs of the Supreme Power in you, they want to benefit from your path, your words and your ways to become closer to the creator.

You'll get to know a part of your invisible attributes through your faith, intellect, love, the X system and the knowledge and science that you have achieved, you will continue your life naturally whether on earth or in the heavens and you have your private life just like other human beings, you are prepared to serve others under any circumstances and you continue to do your best as a teacher or a mentor, you are ready to carry out the command, whatever and wherever it may be, in hell or heaven makes no difference to you since you have surrendered completely to the Supreme Power.

Ani: your descriptions of love show that love has a very high status and importance and not everyone is able to understand its significance. Then how could all the human beings benefit from it? It seems unattainable.

Guardian: love is flowing through all creatures including human beings in a variety of different forms and shapes and is constantly bringing them closer to each other; it is the subsistence of existence and creation because all the creatures are connected by the particles of love through shadows, attraction and sense and the name of this connection is love.

Third: sense

Even if this pull or loving is felt for a short period; I don't think we can say that since the connection has been for a short time, it's not love. I believe it is love but a short, passing phase of love. In other words if you strike a match in complete darkness we cannot say that there was no light or that it was an illusion, there has been a little light but it was very weak.

Therefore we cannot say that love is only exclusive to certain people or special groups or myths, love doesn't belong to anyone exclusively because all creation is living in love and practicing love to arrive at a higher love, everything and everyone are immersed in love as existence is immersed in love.

The rays of love are shining on all things equally, like the sun and each being receives according to its capacity, the rays of love shine on even the most violent and dangerous individuals and their hearts even though cruel, beat restlessly for their loved ones. Love pierces through their cold hearts and creates a small window and hides in there till the day of manifestation when the sweet taste of its beauty is experienced and they'll know how salubrious love is.

Artistic festival

Ani: let's get back to the love triangle.

Guardian: before I start the discussion, let me illustrate the triangle with a story.

There was a lion who was the king of a beautiful forest. One night his advisors suggested having an arts festival to promote a greater level of cultural standard in the forest. The king accepted and soon after the announcement was made and everyone gathered for a rehearsal.

It's the rehearsal day; all the animals have gathered in the main square, the pewit is leading a group of nightingales who have formed a choir and are practicing; butterflies are dancing in a group and displaying their colorful wings; the peacock is showing off his magnificent colors; swallows are playing the guitar, doves are playing the violin, frogs the piano, grasshoppers the harmonica and the pigeons are playing the harp, the dorbeetle is improvising on the flute and the dragonflies are skipping.

All the animals, birds and insects performed wonderfully in the rehearsal and went back to their homes.

The clamor of excitement is heard among the spectators, the performers are positioned near the square in an organized manner, the king with an elegant cape and a golden crown gets seated in the special podium along with the other VIP guests. The king stands up and with his hand gestures the start of the festival, the trumpets play the opening song.

The performers come to the centre field and take their place, the pewit as the leader of the choir raises his hand to commence the symphony. Suddenly a loud noise from another group in the corner of the field is heard. This group had come uninvited and wasn't involved in the program!

In this group the elephants were supposed to play trumpets with their trunks which they forgot due to their anxiety, the hyenas bit them to remind them of this, the elephants began to scream since they were in so much pain which was combined with the howling of the hyenas, it was a deafening roar.

Bears began drumming with excitement, vultures riding on the back of jackals started to play polo, using swords and knives, gorillas began a deadly martial arts game which caused a lot of injuries.

Donkeys, zebras and camels that were seated in the stands calmly and were eating popcorn and chips, suddenly went on a stampede because foxes threw some firecrackers under their feet. They broke the barriers and ran into the field and a full blown chaos began. There was so much dust in the air that nothing could be seen and it was so noisy that nothing could be heard, it was as if a huge earthquake had taken place.

Ani: what does this story got to do with love?

Guardian: I was expecting this question, of course we respect all creatures but for this play I had to categorize them. The first group was the symbol of a group who displayed the waves of love's attraction and the second group while creating chaos and disturbances, suffocated these delicate waves in a way that sense was unable to receive the sound of love.

In this play, the second group had created such confusion that power of attraction and sense were greatly affected.

Does the howling of hyenas, trumpets of elephant, vultures playing polo and drumming of bears allow you to receive love's waves or hear doves and pigeons playing violin and harp?

Do you think the army of ignorance, hatred, vengeance, deception, arrogance, selfishness, material obsession and fear will tolerate love's triangle and permit it to send and receive its messages?

Do you think they will allow love's forces like compassion, forgiveness, friendship, sacrifice, honesty, bravery and integrity to operate freely?

How could a human being under the crushing influence of alcoholism and drug addiction hear the beauty of love's waves or even send them?

Let's show the love triangle once again.

Ani: how could anyone stop these destructive waves so as to hear the sound of love?

Guardian: with knowledge, awareness and wisdom. Imagine you are in love but after sometime you realize that your lover words were all lies or your partner is a decent, faithful person but some associates of yours deceive you and turn you both against each other, you feel that your lover is dishonest and has cheated on you. What do you think is going to happen? What factors played a key role here?

Ani: certainly if the love doesn't turn into hatred, the anger will subside and the key issues here are knowledge and information.

Guardian: that's right, we can conclude that knowledge, awareness and wisdom play a crucial role in love and they are vital foundations of love. Of course, the X system always plays its vital role.

Ani: what is the mechanism in attraction or love between the opposite sexes?

Guardian: as I mentioned before, throughout existence and non-existence all the shadows are sending out their attraction waves, therefore every human being, based on his or her physical structure and appearance, information, characteristics, intellect, faith and desires, consciously or unconsciously are sending and receiving these waves.

In the beginning, these waves act like bright rays of light coming out of a light source. This is the stage where lover and the beloved are yet to be designated, as love progresses these rays of light are focused on a specific point. Imagine person A is sending out his attraction waves consciously or unconsciously in a place with other human beings (these waves are invisible to human's eyes), there could be different outcomes, maybe no one receives these waves or some receive but don't respond or someone responds but the source is undesirable to person A; up to this point there hasn't been a two way connection yet.

Until a day where a person B receives the attraction waves of person A and since person B finds it very desirable, he or she immediately send out a positive response. In this situation person A receives the response with his sense and feels a very pleasant vibration at his heart and thus sends back a positive response to person B.

With these exchanges between the two parties involved, the first sparkle of love takes place between them and they enter a new stage. They talk and see more of each other and if the communications are pleasant enough for both of them, gradually affection appears in the relationship and as time goes by this affection turns into real love given the fact that it's based on trust, respect and the knowledge that both parties are honest at all times.

Under these conditions real love between two people has taken place and we call this, love between two humans.

Ani: is there another kind of love besides what you just mentioned?

Guardian: a great sage once said: “if you don’t have love for the creator, find love for the creature so as to realize the true meaning of love. The lover’s only concern is with love and not the beloved.”

That’s right, there is another kind of love which is being in love with the Supreme Power and since he has manifested in the entire existence and creation, being in love with him means loving all the shadows throughout creation and this happens when the individual has reached the optimum stage in intellect, faith, love and the X system and has experience the love for another human being fully. Whether his love is in the invisible attributes of existence or the visible attributes makes no difference, here the individual has reached a level of knowledge and awareness that he has a special understanding of the universe and recognizes the pillars that keep it together. At this stage this person has gone beyond an earthly love and experiences a divine love and this where the saying “the lover’s only concern is love and not his beloved” comes into play.

At this stage the lover shines like the sun in creation, equally and unconditionally, loves everything and everyone and expects nothing in return, he serves his fellow human being as much as he can, the more he loves and serves the more love he receives, he or she is cheerful and energetic and all that he observes and experiences are manifestations of the Supreme Power.

Ani: at this stage, the person can love both the Supreme Power and another human being?

Guardian: there is no contradiction here since the lover knows his beloved as manifestation of the Supreme Power, recognizes his earthly love as the divine love wearing a physical garment.

Ani: is it possible that someone loves the Supreme Power but not his creatures or is indifferent towards them?

Guardian: if someone claims he is in love with the Supreme Power but he can't stand his creation, he is deluded and I believe that this claim is a lie. It was said that for love to be expressed shadows must exist so that love can manifest in them; without the existence of shadows, no love can come into existence, therefore what are the shadows of the Supreme Power and where are they? How is it that we fell in love with him? Isn't it true that all the creatures in the universe are shadows of the Supreme Power?

Therefore, the gateways of entering into God's heart are the heart of human beings, all creatures and the entire existence. Can you cook thousands of the best meals in the world and throw them into a well to satisfy the Supreme Power? Certainly you say that only the insane would do such a thing, the food must be distributed among the poor. Now, how could anyone be in love with God and not have any use and benefits for his creatures? The sane intellect commands that love for God must be shared among his creatures unconditionally.

A great sage once said: hands that offer assistance are more sacred than lips which say prayers.

Thus if someone says that he only loves God and not his creation and if he can he'll harm others, even if he is constantly praying and worshiping God, in my belief he is completely lost and misled.

The pathway to creator's love is unconditional love towards his creation.

Poetry: true worship lies only in serving others, not in prayers, customs and religious ceremonies.

Ani: what is love's triangle?

Guardian: this triangle has three sides and they are:

a) The shadows

In order for love to appear, the first condition is that there must be something to give a meaning to the lover and the beloved. Of course that something could be in the material or spiritual dimension, there must be something and makes no difference where and we call this something, shadows.

Therefore, shadow is one of the main axes of love. If no shadows, there would be no love. In other words, without shadows, love makes no meaning; that's why the Supreme Power created the creatures so that love is manifested in the whole creation.

Ani: why do you say shadows and not shadow? Does every creature have more than one body?

Guardian: yes, each creature has more than one body as it has visible and invisible attributes. Since both visible and invisible attributes have their own separate bodies, with unique wavelengths and vibrations, we say shadows. For example: the shadow of the visible attribute of the human being is his physical body and the shadow of his invisible attributes could be his self, soul and intellect.

Now, those who believe that human being is only his physical body and life after death and soul do not exist, can consider the physical body when awake as the first shadow and the body that they observe in sleep as the second shadow.

Now, since love can be felt in the physical body, soul and the other bodies of the human being, we say shadows. I want to declare to all the lovers that when the physical body of the human being is perished, love continues its existence in the second shadows and other shadows.

That's why I'm saying love has neither beginning nor end and we come, following one another to know the things we don't know and sometimes also we follow each other to find our lost love once again.

Now I want to talk about the other components of love.

Ani: we still have questions about the shadows.

Guardian: there's little time left and the scroll limited, if I talk till eternity there would still be new questions, be patient, they will be answered in future writings.

Ani: alright then, explain the second part of love.

Guardian: attraction

Whenever something pulls another thing towards itself, that pulling force is called the force of attraction and when the opposite of this happens, it is repulsion.

Human beings are similar as well, as much as being a separate and independent entity, with a change of direction in thought, worldview and behavior; they can live in a way so as to have a powerful attraction or a whole lot of repulsion and this solely depends on wisdom and outlook on life.

In other words, if you look at the best of humans negatively, you can find many flaws in them and even if you don't find any flaws, you'll justify or imagine some; the same goes for the opposite, if you look at the worst humans positively, you will find certain decent attributes in them and this depends on the difference of perception.

Now, we'll go back to attraction. We mentioned that everything in creation has a power to attract and anything that has attraction also has the power of repulsion. Of course, it depends on each individual's standpoint to react to different issues and situations and these reactions determine the power of attraction or repulsion.

In the example of the fan, while there was the power of attraction in front of the fan which acted as air suction, there was repulsion behind it which acted as a fan.

Ani: if the Supreme Power created the universe based only on the power of attraction and there were no repulsions, wouldn't there be peace and harmony everywhere? Wouldn't it have made our jobs, yours and his much easier?

Guardian: the whole creation of the Supreme Power is based on knowledge and science; nothing gets done without precise planning. If there were no repulsions in the universe, in a matter of seconds all that there were in creation, from plants, animals and human beings would get stuck on each other and wouldn't be able to let go. Now just imagine how that would be and what sort of universe we might have had.

Ani: alright, we realized the consequences. Where do the solids get their power of attraction from?

Guardian: imagine a piece of rock, it looks stationary but inside of it there are billions of small fans called Electrons which are turning and as a result of their constant turning, power of attraction is created. This of course, isn't visible to the human eye but in bigger objects like the Sun or the Moon is visible much better.

Ani: you say that there are small fans or engines in solids that are turning which cause either attraction or repulsion, how do you explain this in regards to human beings?

Guardian: these engines also exist in humans in a way and are very active. For example, if they attract kindness, they'll definitely repel rage, if they attract hatred, they'll certainly repel love, if they attract anxiety, they'll repel peace, if they attract light, they'll push away darkness and so on. Therefore, if they attract alcohol and drugs, they'll definitely repel many virtues.

Ani: what is a practical solution to adjust these engines in a way so as to attract the most virtues?

Guardian: just like how dirty and polluted water is turned into clean and pure water by purification. In order to transform a depressed, disturbed person into a calm, cheerful individual, there's only one way and that is through cleansing and purification which is not done instantaneously, it cannot be done in one day or through a magical chant or potion and or even miracle. It takes time and it is gradual and it can only be accomplished through the proper training, education and by gaining the necessary experience, awareness and deep reflection.

Humanity must know that there is a price to pay for achieving peace, comfort, happiness and love and last but not least, he must know that to gain all those beautiful things, he must only rely on himself and no one else; if he doesn't attempt to do this purification himself, there isn't a single method or remedy which would guarantee the end results. No one can arrive at virtues through vices.

If we look closer in creation, we can observe the power of attraction in various shapes and forms, like a flower, a painting, a human being, a song, a piece of jewelry, a McDonald sandwich, a mathematic formula, flight of birds in sky, a flowing stream in the mountains, sound of waves in the ocean, eye brows that are like bows, a hair as black as the night or blond like gold, the trees in spring, teeth as white as snow, ululate of the wolf, howling of hyenas in the valleys, roaring of a thunderclap, sound of a rattlesnake in desert, dance of the swans in lakes, flight of the eagle in the sky, plunking of the crows, flies over the garbage...

Therefore, all creatures whether in their visible attributes or invisible attributes have a power of attraction so as to attract their desires and wishes and they are constantly doing that in different forms and shapes.

A Shadow within a shadow

10/05/1995

White eagle: we are all doing well and heard your speech. We hope that you are also doing well; please remind us of our last discussion.

Guardian: we were talking about a shadow within a shadow; the first shadow symbolizes the physical body and the second one resembles the other dimension of human being which is invisible to the physical eye.

White eagle: if you pay attention to the forms of a shadow you will observe that there is a common point with light; this common point is the focal point of light and states of reflections.

The waves with their visible or sometimes invisible pull, contain the primary property which land on earth like golden rays and these rays combine with the hidden rays in the galaxies that manifest in every being; due to this combination, the intensity is increased and the application of these forces begin according to a special plan or command.

For example, these forces reach an individual so as to be applied accordingly. The universe is built in this manner since to construct, we need these great forces and this force is love which the Supreme power has used in our creation.

A breathe higher than the rest

25/05/1996

Guardian: my warm greetings to my mentor. I'm heading to Kerman tomorrow; these days I'm very preoccupied with a hectic life and various obstacles.

I know very well that the road ahead is a difficult one and that I have to do my best. I'm going to Kerman because my mother is very sick and she is in the hospital.

White eagle: greetings to you as well.

We heard your sorrows and we know that you are facing difficult times; this is also a part of the divine plan and you must go along. Ask God's forgiveness for your mother and bear the pain of separation.

This is because separation differs from life and it is an ever going cycle.

Guardian: I understand, separation is always accompanied with sadness since it involves leaving a realm and joining another.

White eagle: The righteous forces seem to vanish or decline but the kind creator, again and again, returns them to the cycle of life. In other words, he gives them many chances to gain the required knowledge and learn the true meaning of loving and being loved.

These are signs of life and life is manifestation of love. Dying is love and rebirth is love.

All the things that we discover, learn and transfer in every aspect and field in life, all the researchers, discoverers, teachers, experts, doctors, masters, consultants, social workers, officials... all that we learn and then teach others is love.

We wish you a victorious occasion and the best in everything that you do.

Farewell

The day of separation

Ani: can you explain this day?

Guardian: the first time that I heard the term separation day was in our holy book and it literally means depart. Since the process of evolution involves alteration, transformation and liberation, then the moment of leaving the present dimension for the next dimension is called the day or the moment of separation.

Sometimes this transition is accompanied by destruction and chaos which is probably the gateway of the new realm or dimension.

Ani: could you give a few examples?

Guardian: for instance the fetus in mother's womb that continues living until the moment of separation. When the moment of birth for the infant arrives, it is accompanied by chaos and destruction; the pain of birth for the mother, the yolk sac tears open and the suffering that they both have to endure for the arrival for the baby into the new dimension.

Or let me give you another example; an old building that needs to be demolished to pave the way for a new one; the process of demolishing and chaos that pursues are necessary before a new building is constructed.

I've been in a destructive trend due to addiction to drugs and it has brought me hundreds of problems and difficulties.

If I intend to leave behind this maze of destruction and enter into a healthy and stable life, I must endure the pain, suffering and strong attraction of the dark forces.

I guess I have illustrated my point clearly.

The light and the switch

11/06/1995

Time net room

Guardian: please accept my warm greetings; as you all know very well I'm doing very badly and this is the reason for the long time gaps between our meetings. However, I will try my best to attend the sessions as much as I can.

White eagle: You have to arrive at the command. You should have walked this path earlier; you have been given the permission to do so. Try to pass through the gap of time.

A rotating circle requires a centre like our congress; we travel everywhere and still we come back to our dimension. When you admire a forest from a distance, you lack practical knowledge about it. You have to go deep down into the woods.

Guardian: there's a lot of difference between the appearance and the depth within; a dead person and a live person look the same but have different meaning.

White eagle: good, you're slowly getting the point. Stay the course and become a warrior in your battles. We'll try to awaken you through insights and inspirations.

We showed you many events so that you do not make the old mistakes again.

We spoke more than we should have since they were beyond your understanding and earthly memory. You are familiar with the particles of space and infinity.

White eagle: we must familiarize you with the wonders of universe, while awake and in sleep. Do you know how a human can fly without a plane? How he takes off and flies through the clouds?

You have slowly distanced yourself from your inner fears; the scenes that were shown to you are supposed to motivate your beliefs and enhance your flight.

Guardian: the images and the scenes are incredibly valuable. Unfortunately, I can't understand the meaning in all of them.

White eagle: the important thing is to regain the lost past. Do you understand?

Guardian: not really.

White eagle: who can you find that has achieved high status in serving humanity within a short time?

You are at a stage where a higher purpose is within your reach; we've made a pact with you and your wife to leave something precious for posterity.

Alterations and transformations

8/07/1995

Time net room

White eagle: we are going to try to enter one of the potholes.

Silence...

A blue door opened up to lots of green trees; suddenly there is a tornado. Everywhere is burning and fire is engulfing the place.

These circles of fire continue far into a distant point; someone is reading a huge book and there are large animals under my feet.

I went further ahead; behind the trees a person with black clothing is holding his hand towards the sky.

I don't know how to get back and I'm stranded.

Guardian: don't worry; you will be guided to return.

Silence...

White eagle: this was a display of alterations and transformations.

Farewell

Guardian: where did you go and what did you see?

Ani: I was transported to a vast dessert in a half conscious state; I stopped at an opening in the ground and went through it. I was moving at a very high speed under the ground and I was scared. Deep into the earth, I saw large animals such as dinosaurs and other mammoths and they disappeared into the wall as soon as I moved towards them.

I continued downwards with a high speed and I dove into a deep oil well; I tried to get out but it was very slippery. I felt someone beside me all the time.

Afterwards, I leaped out of the earth and flied over mountains and cliffs; finally I saw a beautiful house by a river shinning like a diamond.

Guardian: how would you describe the other universes?

Ani: I was scared at first but they were very interesting. Where are these places?

Guardian: I'm not sure exactly; some of these places are presently on earth and others are not easy to locate. As far as I know universes are within one another; for instance, where we're standing now could be several universes.

As you know the whole universe and galaxies is just one universe namely the physical universe. However, everything that is ever created, each and every moment of our lives and creation are kept and recorded in the archives or nature's memory and access to these records require special permit.

Explanation of the scene by Sardar: the observed events were scenes from existence and creation. Energy can be driven from water.

Most of the scenes are similar to earth with slight differences; in one scene Ani got scared when crossing through an opening.

When she passed through she reached a vast source of oil; then she flew over cliffs and mountains which resemble virtues. She then saw the same river, the symbol of purity and the objective which should be achieved; the house resembles your aim and the things that you need to build for the future.

Lady Jones says 'calm people choose to interact with calm people'. The silence of the cliffs resembles your internal state.

We hope you remain cheerful always and progress as we want you to; in a few minutes Ani will come back to her body.

Farewell

Survival in different forms

21/08/1995

Time net room

Greetings and warm regards; we have to analyze the observed events to raise the awareness of our friends on earth. All creatures that have power of reason would probably have an aim in life as well.

Those who seek to find and know themselves must observe everything carefully.

Sometimes we come across certain creatures that are not very intelligent; you might ask what the point in creation of these creatures is?

First, the very existence of such creation is the point; in addition to the display of power and ability of creator. It starts with the smallest living thing and moves up to the largest creatures.

All creatures in creation are the same kind, but have been transformed to different forms in various evolution cycles.

Amazing worlds that are parallel or interwoven exist and one could hardly believe their level of complexity.

The smallest member

31/07/1995

The hands that you witnessed are the sign of entering into a vast universe. Eventually, we all have a common goal.

If you attend to your affairs and responsibilities at all times, you can achieve internal bliss; just like many other individuals, you have found the secret of past lives and you can exit your body comfortably. Due to constant practice, your body is prepared to accept guests.

Now, about a new topic of discussion which I meant to talk to you in this session; everything begins from a recession, like someone who is behind bars and suddenly the bars are gone. I mean the ethereal body which is always ready to leap into flight in every human being.

In this case he is an energy which needs to be transformed; similar to a coal that is extracted from the coal mine and could be used to produce energy.

The produced energy here has more powers and could continue life in other dimensions if the command is issued.

In the non-physical dimension there must be certain planning and considerations so that individuals at this phase could carry out their missions.

Therefore, the wavelength of each person is under the authority of commanders or the transferred energy is given to them according to a divine command.

Before every circle of creation, there is a distinguished sound and light and as we change the dimension of time. The sound and light are boosted.

Let's talk about the sound and light of circles; light has many sources and it is used to find paths. You need light on earth much more than us since you have physical movements. However, other creatures don't need light as much because their ways of living are different. Light plays a different role in every circle of creation.

We are not that advanced so as to know or see the next universe ahead of us; this is why we don't venture far.

Sometimes everywhere is bright and sometimes it's dark, similar to a cloudy weather. What we know is that light is strongest element in all the universes before us and the universe after us; also its speed is not measurable.

The thing that encourages us to research within the circles is the attraction of light which acts like a suction force.

Some people worshipped the sun in ancient cultures because of its light.

We have so much to talk about that it can last for centuries; time passes very slowly for you since everything around you appears lifeless and slow. Your duty is to inform human beings about this journey and prepare them for other destinations.

Pay careful attention to your environment and value the little things such as sounds and lights.

We're satisfied with your progress and admire your interests; white eagle, the judge and fifty other distinguished members are all here with you.

It's not important how many people believe you on earth; it's important that they are familiar with out of the body experiences.

Some people think of existence as nothing and from this nothing starts a thinking process which triggers conflicts within them. That's why they go after such issues.

The balance in creation

27/08/1995

Greetings upon everyone, we, the members of congress are doing well and continuing our research.

Guardian: you spoke of giant creatures like dinosaurs becoming extinct. Could you explain the process?

White eagle: we are looking at the universe in a different way. We face a variety of discovering knowledge in our various lives which have a connection with the material world. In them, alterations and transformations happen as well. What is for certain is that in the material life everything seems to happen very slowly, but generally learning and evolving of the intellect and its expansion is very significant. The stronger its foundation is the easier it'll become in the other universes. With the finding of every key one enters into a new universe which itself, has other keys and in this process one learns how to open the closed doors.

Paying attention to the transmissions is very important and it requires time. Evolution of the intellect has specific characteristics; in other words someone who doesn't know how to read and write hasn't received the training to do so, not that he is illiterate. Do you understand what I'm saying?

You must do your best in this path and put in all your efforts; all these materials would one day become a book which could be used for the seekers of real knowledge. We want you to be on the highest summit with the green flag. Of course, a gradual progress is the best and every achievement opens the way for the new ones. We wish the best for you and hope that you have a good winter.

There is a great lesson to be learned here. Just like the gradual pattern in which inaction was attained, the same gradual pattern can lead us to action and physical health.

Meaning in the beginning, there is little energy as we taper and as we go along, more and more energy is obtained and positive transformation is on the way. This awakened force must be put into action immediately otherwise it'll evaporate quickly.

When you gain back your strengths you will feel like your old self and once again you'll have the cheerfulness and aliveness of the old times; this is due to the movements of the electrons in your cells and you must not mistake this with growth.

We are present at all levels and not being is a thought; if we have to be, then not being is the whole creation.

Following a pattern

22/08/1995

Guardian: how does one make a pattern from nature or its creatures?

White eagle: let me elaborate on the evolution of plants and animals; the first is rotation due to gravity.

We are looking at the universe in a different way. We face a variety of discovering knowledge in our various lives which have a connection with the material world.

In them, alterations and transformations happen as well. What is for certain is that in the material life everything seems to happen very slowly, but generally learning and evolving of the intellect and its expansion is very significant.

The stronger its foundation is the easier it'll become in the other universes. With the finding of every key one enters into a new universe which itself, has other keys and in this process one learns how to open the closed doors.

Paying attention to the transmissions is very important and it requires time. Evolution of the intellect has specific characteristics; in other words someone who doesn't know how to read and write hasn't received the training to do so, not that he is illiterate. Do you understand what I'm saying?

You must do your best in this path and put in all your efforts; all these materials would one day become a book which could be used for the seekers of real knowledge. We want you to be on the highest summit with the green flag. Of course, a gradual progress is the best and every achievement opens the way for the new ones. We wish the best for you and hope that you have a good winter.

You must arrive at valuable conclusions in your thinking and act upon them and find out the real meaning of the Supreme Power's words and implement them in your life. At that the power and force of the divine existence will manifest in every human being who has understood them.

Don't be sad and keep yourself busy with good deeds. Strengthen your financial roots and you shall see that many obstacles would be overcome. Conquering the summit is not as important as leaving your impression there permanently; you must regain your previous respect and status for your own sake and not for others. You must have in order to give and generosity will bear its fruit.

Color

We have explained to you many times before that our work is very extensive and individuals must have patience in regards to this matter. It is similar to a farmer who prepares the field for cultivation, spreads the seeds out on the field, irrigates it patiently and attends to it carefully throughout the year until eventually he reaps a great harvest. Right up to the harvest he has to protect his farm from insects, storm, wind and the burning sun; I'll have to talk to you about plantation.

In continuation, you must carry out this process yourself and this is another valuable season in life; no progress can be made without hard work and effort and we want you to harmonize yourself to the teachings and the images.

The first image of the book is very important, not the color but the real meaning of it. You have other aims in life which you have to accomplish and you know what we mean by that. We are not implying about the speed of the process but the actual process itself.

Attend to your life's vital issues and in most matters, begin your task from one point and it shall lead you to the next stage and eventually you can achieve goals that are beyond conception.

You are in the beginning of a fresh start and try having an orange juice instead of a Pepsi if you know what I mean. Try something new rather than sticking to old habits and this will help you in attaining new heights; apply your physical and mental strengths as you go.

Life begins with constructing and so long as construction continues, life continues.

The reward for continuous efforts is something new which did not exist in our yesterday.

The progress of events

17/09/1995

White eagle: about the awakening of cells I must say that they have always been within you and you should refer to yourself in your journey through the cold.

You know that human being becomes unconscious gradually when exposed to extremely low temperatures and slowly the vital systems of the body die and in some cases death will be the eventual outcome.

Now that you have begun your journey through the glacial you must overcome these obstacles with careful planning and maximizing your conserved energies. These resources are evolving in your brain and can help you in restoring your body.

If the human being is on the highest position but does not know the right path, he would be facing a mountain of obstacles.

Most people have very sensitive points which should be numbed if progress is to be made or at least they should be under control, for example over eating and other things which you know. Gluttony is one of these bad habits that must be dealt with. Our great mentor, Sardar will offer you more guidance on this matter.

We hope that you complete this difficult journey successfully.

There is no time limit here and time is in your own hands and it seems that you understand the importance of this journey with every part of your being; be as strong and determined as you can be and this has to be consistent throughout; this tree must be healthy to bear fruits all year long. If it's weak, harsh winds will break its resistance and all these depend on your courage and hard work.

Not everything that God has created should be used, he has given us intellect and reason so we should apply this mental capacity to every aspect of life; the destructive forces interfere with our reasoning and create confusion.

Because human being thinks life is what he sees, when he finds light he feels he is parting with darkness and doesn't know the next minute.

Endless obligations

24/09/1995

White eagle: Greetings, we are doing well and are attending to the current issues, we're trying our best to get closer to God's doorways and receive his grace. The reality of the places in the present is very different and we can't describe it completely.

We struggled for lack of awareness that we had and we never contemplated an action while carrying out. Of course, we are saying these in general ways, because the chosen ones carry out the commands and never return back.

Our aim is in what we're saying; history never repeats itself unless there is someone who wants to repeat it. It seems that learning from the mistakes of others is irrelevant and everyone wants to be their own teacher. This causes a repetitious cycle and throws out the meaning of real experience and in its place comes stupidity and false beliefs.

This is different from creative creation and development, because reproduction is there due to a divine command for perpetuity of human beings. However, by our own will and not obeying the sane intellect, we only put new clothes on the repetitions and in the end we even forget a thing called dignity.

You probably know what we're talking about. Looks like we talked too much, let's get back our main discussion. Your worries and concerns about the path ahead of you shall disappear with your determined steps forward and in order to establish firm standings, you must pass through this difficult stage which we call the line.

Thereafter you shall hear the promise of higher achievements; we are pleased that you pay attentions to the commands and we ask that you continue on with your unique strength and take great leaps forward, this whole thing depends on you and how you motivate us through the process.

So long

Music

08/11/1995

Greetings, we are having a guest right now who is a great musician and there is no one on earth like him. He believes that music brings peace and comfort to people; his name is Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart and we are very happy to have him here with us.

A great sage once said that when words stop, the music begins.

Guardian: we welcome his presence to our meeting and we're glad to have him.

White eagle: some heavenly tunes can bring the real message to certain people.

Through hard work one can hear these divine melodies which are spread out through our universe.

Previously we spoke about the material formation of an entity; these are the visible cases and each has its own attribute and generally inseparable unless they are transported to another dimension and change into another entity; this chain of evolution continues in all creatures.

If there is a design in creation, it is sometimes altered in certain objects or creatures. Since this creation is moving towards perfection, there may be a leap in certain creatures within a few cycles and this manner of evolving opens a new door to scientific discovery from time to time.

This is of course, related only to the physical realm and it is different in the other dimensions and causes advancement in the science of our world.

Social outcasts

We are looking at the universe in a different way. We face a variety of discovering knowledge in our various lives which have a connection with the material world. In them, alterations and transformations happen as well.

What is for certain is that in the material life everything seems to happen very slowly, but generally learning and evolving of the intellect and its expansion is very significant.

The stronger its foundation is the easier it'll become in the other universes. With the finding of every key one enters into a new universe which itself, has other keys and in this process one learns how to open the closed doors.

Paying attention to the transmissions is very important and it requires time. Evolution of the intellect has specific characteristics; in other words someone who doesn't know how to read and write hasn't received the training to do so, not that he is illiterate.

You must do your best in this path and put in all your efforts; all these materials would one day become a book which could be used for the seekers of real knowledge.

We want you to be on the highest summit with the green flag. Of course, a gradual progress is the best and every achievement opens the way for the new ones.

At this stage, individuals who have the knowledge but are facing confusion should be assisted; dealing with them is more difficult than mainstream population.

Knowledge is an endless and beautiful universe.

Peace between the mind and the body

16/01/1996

We are doing well and for further communications with our own kind who are very interested in these matters, we intend to explore certain divine issues.

Having a lot of hope can lead to determination; don't have fear in your will to carry out your plans and move forward because the real frontrunner is the Lord who makes the impossible, possible. We will go to more excursions in the near future so that you you'll become more familiar with our views.

You must arrive at valuable conclusions in your thinking and act upon them and find out the real meaning of the Supreme Power's words and implement them in your life. At that the power and force of the divine existence will manifest in every human being who has understood them.

Today, most illnesses and mental disabilities are treated by chemical drugs and this gives a false perception to patients that they are cured. However, as soon as the medicine stops, the illness comes back.

Don't be sad and keep yourself busy with good deeds. Strengthen your financial roots and you shall see that many obstacles would be overcome.

If we can make peace between the mind and the physical body, then we can say that we have found the right path.

Conquering the summit is not as important as leaving your impression there permanently; you must regain your previous respect and status for your own sake and not for others. You must have in order to give and generosity will bear its fruit.

Love and faith

21/01/1995

If you attend to your affairs and responsibilities at all times, you can achieve internal bliss; just like many other individuals, you have found the secret of past lives and you can exit your body comfortably. Due to constant practice, your body is prepared to accept guests.

Now, about a new topic of discussion which I meant to talk to you in this session; everything begins from a recession, like someone who is behind bars and suddenly the bars are gone. I mean the ethereal body which is always ready to leap into flight in every human being.

In this case he is an energy which needs to be transformed; similar to a coal that is extracted from the coal mine and could be used to produce energy.

The produced energy here has more powers and could continue life in other dimensions if the command is issued.

In the non-physical dimension there must be certain planning and considerations so that individuals at this phase could carry out their missions.

Therefore, the wavelength of each person is under the authority of commanders or the transferred energy is given to them according to a divine command.

Before every circle of creation, there is a distinguished sound and light and as we change the dimension of time. The sound and light are boosted.

Let's talk about the sound and light of circles; light has many sources and it is used to find paths. You need light on earth much more than us since you have physical movements. However, other creatures don't need light as much because their ways of living are different. Light plays a different role in every circle of creation.

We are not that advanced so as to know or see the next universe ahead of us; this is why we don't venture far.

Sometimes everywhere is bright and sometimes it's dark, similar to a cloudy weather. What we know is that light is strongest element in all the universes before us and the universe after us; also its speed is not measurable.

The thing that encourages us to research within the circles is the attraction of light which acts like a suction force.

Some people worshipped the sun in ancient cultures because of its light.

We have so much to talk about that it can last for centuries; time passes very slowly for you since everything around you appears lifeless and slow. Your duty is to inform human beings about this journey and prepare them for other destinations.

Pay careful attention to your environment and value the little things such as sounds and lights.

We're satisfied with your progress and admire your interests; white eagle, the judge and fifty other distinguished members are all here with you.

It's not important how many people believe you on earth; it's important that they are familiar with out of the body experiences.

Some people think of existence as nothing and from this nothing starts a thinking process which triggers conflicts within them. That's why they go after such issues.

Teacher

While evolving, Intellect operates on its own like a machine whereas spirit with its unique and gentle characteristics is led by intellect's will. Here we come across the main and the most important components of the hidden attributes of human which is wisdom or intellect. Wisdom is the most significant issue in our journey of evolution which has neither a beginning nor an end and we must attain wisdom's command as it is essential in our path.

This path of arriving at intellect's command is both difficult and satisfying at the same time. The universal wisdom is like the sun shining on everything and all creation including us. Humans are like houses that have outlets for sunrays to enter.

The more cleansing we do the bigger the outlet becomes and in turn our houses get brighter as the sun of wisdom shines through. However if we move towards impurities then these outlets get smaller and darkness invades our being.

Intellect is made up of particles that we are not familiar with and it is not made up of flesh and bones or other materials. That's why it is eternal and non-perishable and will not be destroyed after death.

A question comes to mind about the brain and its function. The answer is that brain is an interpreter for intellect just like how tongue is the tool for speech or taste. Therefore the brain is not the location for intellect or in other words intellect is not located in the brain so as to perish when the brain is dead.

Intellect acts as a great ruler in our universe within or in our city of existence and it has received its throne from the supreme force. In other words it has the Divine Splendor and governs over our psyche.

Obeying all the instructions and laws of this wise king can help us walk the straight path and lead us towards a higher station in our journey of evolution. Even though intellect belongs to our hidden attribute, but we can conveniently hear its voice within us. If we want to hear its voice right now, we only need to decide to do something irrational like slapping ourselves real hard.

Farewell

An effective medicine

15/02/1995

White eagle: sense is like the Lord present in the entire creation, existence and non-existence but it is invisible, and just like its name it is sensible. In other words sense is the first power that enables the intellect to function or through our senses we and all the other creatures perceive the world around us.

We communicate with our senses and receive or send light or sound messages through it. When sense is working well, we feel an indescribable joy and happiness, a feeling of friendship, a feeling of love, a feeling of serving other humans and all of creation and it displays servitude with free will in a majestic manner.

If through purification and refinement we are able to strengthen our out of the body sense, and pass through the gates of our five internal senses, then we can perceive the sense of divine inspiration, the sense of heavenly choirs, celestial voices, dancing in the skies, companionship of the honorable residents and the sense of hearing God's voice talking to Moses about the sacred land. That's right, even hearing God's voice...!

Unfortunately and sadly, the attributes of some of us have changed tremendously and our negative and destructive sense has become very powerful and we are drowning in our own pool of ignorance and stupidity. We have compromised our honor and dignity for material possessions and power like property and title, we cannot recognize all these beauty and greatness and instead we preoccupy ourselves with hatred, vengeance, jealousy, hypocrisy, selfishness.....

We have transformed our world into a living hell and turned that hell into ourselves and like an ugly octopus, we have placed ourselves into our own terrifying claws and every day we exert more pressure on ourselves until we are completely crushed. At that time we ask what the purpose of life is. Why have we been created? We didn't want to be born in the first place and so on and these are the questions that have always been around and will be so in the future.

Anyways these three components of light, sound and sense are the instruments that God has provided for the humans in order to see, hear and feel. Vision is the location of light, hearing is the location of sound and heart is the location of focal sense and emotions. Of course we don't mean only the light, the sound and the sense that we can perceive, rather their range are so much more than what we can comprehend.

Finding the key

09/04/1996

Congratulations on the nature's rebirth. We have a new start for you in your dimension, we hope that you start fresh and sparkle like musical notes in the beyond, you shall find the key yourself because if the person doesn't do the seeking himself, even all the expert researchers can't help him find it.

It must be known that no one cares more about the person than himself.

In your universe there have always been front runners to go ahead but to find only little assistance, use all your intellectual and emotional abilities to solve your life issues; you'll realize that you can face them and adapt yourself and you can do it without any help.

We too started the research on the main work and we'll inform you of the details in due time. You attend to the issues at hand firmly and will attain the optimum results. It's not important if you become discouraged, just contact us; all the members of congress send their regards and wait your progress.

One of our friends say: all structures begin with contemplation, without thinking all that there is will decline; thus contemplation is a complete triangle, one must think.

Crossing through the zone 60 degrees below zero

11/04/1996

Greetings, we are doing fine and we wish the same for you as well, all the members of the Congress are very happy with the beginning of your journey in the freezing cold, this road which is immersed in snow from the peaks of the mountains to the depths of the valley appears very impassable.

But your car is moving cautiously so as not to create an avalanche and this is a sign of an evolved intellect.

Lady Jones says: as you can see, this is the freezing cold of 60 degrees below zero and it will stir many important issues in you, to inspire the beginning in you so that you will bring forth a precious book for contemporary humanity and the posterity.

That which needs to be done is half way accomplished according to Dr. Louie and its proof of your courage; with sleeping electrons awaking the whole body will wake up and the divine strength will move forward and many facts will be proven beyond doubt for many; like a high flying Eagle will be able to survey everything.

As you know human being has begun life from a drop which traverses a path that ends in the sea and eventually the ocean and after life arrives at infinity; then resurrection becomes easy there, in fact a human being is everything he has to be and human being's status with perishing in the dimension of life is something that has in adversely connected his existential strings together.

If this black curtain is lifted he can reach the divine light, something that the destructive forces took away from you in the past and that is being in control of the power of perception and understanding.

The eagle will return to you the power which was taken from you by deception as you get closer to the finishing line and away from the cold. That's why you have to rely on the past force in action and become victorious. The head of the eagle is seen waiting and this sign will create a great strength in your thinking. It seems that we said too much; once in action you'll see that by solving the critical issues in your life you'll achieve greater depths of divine knowledge.

We must go now; your cultivation will bear both financial and spiritual benefits.

Farewell

Message

This is a message for those who have entered a new world and are aware of their true selves. You need to put the words into action and pay attention to the earth and sky. Have faith in the beyond and know that your reward is your progress.

Thus plant good seeds and valuable crops; you shall have plenty of livelihoods and strength.

Thus carry on as the command says.

What is congress60?

Congress60 is an independent research organization and NGO which has been established to assist drug addicts who have always been looking for redemption from the prison of substance abuse but have never found the real, practical treatment.

This organization is based on the principal of the aid of a rehabilitated individual to an addict or drug abuser.

The foundation of our work is based on faith, reason and Compassion.

In our Workshops, each member speaks about his or her own experience and knowledge on drug addiction and refrains from preaching or advising others.

We are not dependent on any other groups, and we are financially independent. We do have supporters and they play a crucial role in assisting us achieve our goals.

Why Congress60?

Ani: you have mentioned the name congress many times; maybe you should explain some things for the readers.

Guardian: thanks for reminding me; I basically mean a gathering and I wanted a global understanding. So I chose the word congress.

I heard the word the word from White eagle for the first time since he is from another group in another circle of life belonging to another dimension.

I had spent almost 14 years of my life seeking the truth, a master and a divine way life and came up empty handed. Wherever I heard of a spiritual teacher, I visited; from Hinduism to mysticism, becoming vegetarian and doing all sorts of austerities, practicing black magic to summoning the dead spirit. All in all I tried everything and came to a conclusion that they are all a joke, childish games.

I was so drowned in my thoughts that I finished the whole bottle and finally sleep came. I went to my room and ate a big piece of opium and slept.

My sleep these days was like a horror movie, night mares and disturbances by all kinds of demons and horrible creatures. I screamed and moaned during my struggles with them and sometimes woke up with a violent jolt.

Sometimes I had out of the body experience and the battle with the weird creatures continued inside and outside of my home.

My life was chaos and I was helplessly out of control. It did not matter that I read holy chants, prayers and verses; the nightmares did not stop.

My mind and body had been invaded by opium during the days and by demons at nights. No matter how hard I tried to find a way out by research, study, visiting experts and many other things; there was no way out. It was like somebody being stuck in a swamp; the more I struggled, the deeper I sank in the mud.

Because of my incompetency and negligence I had lost everything in the past years as more cannot be expected from an addict and in addition, people who were close to me constantly abused me due to my addiction.

I saw all doors closed shut and felt helpless and hopeless and realistically, I was at the lowest level of darkness.

There was only a ray of light that pierced through this vast darkness and in these gloomy conditions, was able to reach the depth of my heart and that was the presence of my Masters and Mentors who visited me and my wife once or twice a week.

Of course my Master “Sardar” and my Mentor “Silver” were fully aware of my opium addiction, but they pretended otherwise and it had been 4 years that their knowledge guided us through a thick darkness that surrounded my life.

In the past they had vaguely mentioned something about addiction, but I either didn’t understand or didn’t want to understand. When they saw that I had taken a positive step forward and was trying to reconstruct my life, they suddenly changed the topic of our discussions and began speaking about my illness.

After recording all the events related to my treatment and sharing my experiences in my book ‘Crossing the zone 60 degrees below zero’ I decided to establish an NGO to help others like myself. I had received a direct order from my mentors to do so as soon as possible.

Naturally in the beginning everyone laughed at us and no one took us seriously; almost all the addicts and experts in the field believed that addiction has no cure and using drugs in a controlled manner is impossible.

Our first session as the NGO Congress60 was in September of 1998 where many broken individuals attended the first meeting.

During my speech I could see their hopeless faces, as if I was talking about an event beyond their imagination. Pretty much everyone was waiting for me to finish so that they could go home and use drugs.

I went home that night drowned in my thoughts and asked Hafez, the great Persian poet for a sign.

I couldn't believe my eyes as I read a poem from him which actually mentioned the word congress. He advised me to be patient and that I had chosen the right path.

Today, three years has passed since that day and many things have taken place. NIDA has recognized us as a very successful NGO in addiction treatment and recovery; our protocol is currently studied and researched in 15 countries worldwide and thousands of individuals have been cured using the DST method.

Congress60 has proven that addiction has a cure and addicts do have a choice to redeem themselves.

I believe the crisis faced by an addict has three aspects to it; this triangle has three sides and all three have been damaged and must be repaired.

Therefore, to increase awareness and provide knowledge, some NGOs such as AA and NA have the 12 steps in place in order to positively alter and transform the addict's worldview.

In a similar manner, I have written the 14 valleys for Congress60 so that the addict can better deal with the immense obstacles scattered on his path. I can say from personal experience that an addict's world is like a dark prison; one feels trapped inside and experiences fear, anxiety, rage, humiliation, lack of identity...

In order to march towards light, health and freedom, the individual must make a move.

We call it a journey, a journey from fear to courage, from anxiety to bliss, from rage to compassion, from humiliation to honor, from sickness to becoming healthy...

First journey: the period of using drugs or substitute medicine until complete cessation.

During the first journey, the three processes of maintenance, treatment and recovery begins at the same time and after approximately 11 months maintenance and treatment come to an end while recovery continues.

Second journey: a drug free period that comprises of a process of self-discovery

At this stage, training and recovery are blended with physical exercise and activity such as sports competitions and gradually the individual becomes familiar with his inner dormant strengths.

To receive the proper trainings and education, one year should be enough and he or she can volunteer in Congress 60 part time or even leave. However, gaining self-knowledge and awareness is an ongoing process and it does not stop in the person's lifetime.

Usually, addicts who complete the first journey are through with addiction for good.

And now the third journey

The third journey

The waves crash on earth like a whirlwind and take whatever they can as safekeeping and this is done only by the command.

Thus for those of you who have made the pact, contemplate about leaving the earth for the commanded destination.

Sardar

Third journey: the never ending process of understanding the order and mystery of our universe

This stage involves a spiritual journey beyond time and place; each and every one of us deals with this journey throughout our lives and very few people could fully understand the actual depth of the matter. Maybe this is not the right place for this discussion.

All in all Congress60 is trying to say that gaining knowledge is a vital aspect of human's life and it must take place continuously and it could never end as knowledge is infinite.

Congress60 Laws

Congress60 is an independent research organization that continues its movement by reliance on the supreme power and guidance from supernatural forces.

A strong desire for redemption from the chain of substance abuse and full acceptance of rules and regulations are the needed criteria for membership in congress60.

Congress 60's main objective is conducting practical scientific researches to better understand human being, Narcotics and presenting the addicts and their families the right path towards rehabilitation.

The foundation is based on the principals of education, prevention, treatment and recovery.

All the other NGOs are respected and if desired, mutual co-operation can take place.

Management and executive personnel of congress60 are chosen from travelers and companions.

In Congress60, a drug addict who longs for redemption from the chain of addiction is called a traveler who has started his journey into recovery.

The term “companion” is given to someone who does not have a history of substance abuse and works toward achieving the goals of Congress60.

The highest authority in decision making is the founder of Congress60, then Congress of Didehban (watchmen) and guardian of Congress60.

Congress60 does not have any opinions about other subjects outside of its agendas.

Financial resources of Congress60 come from the members and its supporters.

It is necessary that each group independently obeys the guidelines and principals of the 14 member panel in Congress60.

Spiritual and academic growth in Congress60 is based on obeying the rules and regulations.

Congress60 continues on its path in external and internal motion.
